ABOUT THE AMERICAN UNIVERSITY OF ROME

Mission Statement

The American University of Rome prepares students to live and work across cultures as skilled and knowledgeable citizens of an interconnected and rapidly changing world. AUR is a private, independent, not-for-profit institution of higher education, primarily offering undergraduate and graduate liberal arts and professional programs to degree and study abroad students from around the world. Taking the best of the American approach to interdisciplinary, student-centered learning, our international faculty and staff use Rome as our classroom and Italy and Europe as invaluable resources. AUR’s innovative programs promote intellectual excellence, personal growth and an appreciation of cultural diversity in an international environment.

Goals

The goals of The American University of Rome emanate from its culture of assessment and continuous improvement as it strives to be known as a leader among American international universities outside of the United States.

Primary among its goals is the quality of its liberal arts and professional academic programs, taught by a highly qualified international faculty and supported by advanced learning resources and technology so that student learning will reach the highest levels of excellence.

Enrollment and development plans seek to match an increasingly diverse student body to its caring, student-centered environment that broadens perspectives and enables communication across cultures through the curriculum, faculty scholarship, co-curricular activities and campus life.

The University uses the cultural, social and experiential opportunities of Rome, Italy and Europe as resources for its growing range of programs.

The American University of Rome is a small internationally recognized liberal arts college, offering undergraduate and graduate degree programs of the highest quality to students from all over the world. It is a first choice university for degree students seeking an international learning experience through well-established programs a destination for study abroad students.

AUR excels in international higher education working with renowned education institutions in the U.S. to provide a range of exciting and challenging programs that meet the needs of study abroad students and are fully integrated with their home programs.

Embodying a global breadth of vision in its work, The American University of Rome is firmly rooted in the local community, with strong links to Italian and European institutions. Its highly qualified faculty are active researchers with established or growing reputations and expert teachers using the best pedagogy to create the most effective learning environments.

Study abroad students return to their home institutions enriched and inspired by the distinctive AUR experience, while our graduates become globally conscious leaders and ambassadors for cross-cultural understanding.
WELCOME TO THE AMERICAN UNIVERSITY OF ROME

The American University of Rome is committed to excellence in education and the promotion of cross-cultural exchange. AUR is dedicated to encouraging academic achievement in its students and offers a curriculum designed to complement our high academic standards and ensure an active learning environment with a low student/faculty ratio.

Founded in 1969, The American University of Rome is the oldest degree-granting American university in Rome. AUR is a coeducational, accredited university which offers undergraduate degrees in ten disciplines.

The University offers programs leading to the following degrees:

Bachelor of Arts Degrees
- Archeology and Classics
- Art History
- Communication
- Film and Digital Media
- Fine Arts
- Interdisciplinary Studies
- International Relations and Global Politics
- Italian Studies
- Religious Studies

Bachelor of Science Degree
- Business Administration

Associate Degrees
- Liberal Studies
- International Business

The University also offers a study abroad program for students studying at other universities.

The AUR Logo
The American University of Rome’s shield and logo is derived from the design of the distinctive paving pattern of Michelangelo’s Piazza del Campidoglio on the Capitoline Hill in Rome. Its twelve-pointed geometry has a multitude of meanings, primary among them in this context the radiant role of Rome as the center of the world, the Caput Mundi, as the ancients fashioned it and as the Renaissance revived the concept. [James Ackerman, The Architecture of Michelangelo (1986), 166-70] Located prominently in the center the open book, a common university motif and symbol of knowledge, is inscribed with the University’s year of founding, 1969 in Roman numerals. The book is encircled by AUR’s motto “Inter Gentes Trans Orbem” (between people across the world) and in more detailed versions is shadowed by the architectural layout of the Colosseum. Together with the University’s acronym the shield suggests AUR’s place in Rome, a symbol of the millennial traditions of art, politics, science and culture that are the basis of the liberal education.

The Alumni Association of The American University of Rome
The Alumni Association seeks to foster long-lasting relationships between the University and its alumni. As part of a global network, graduates and past study abroad participants of AUR are encouraged to stay connected with one another and with the University through active participation in the Alumni Association. Opportunities exist for Alumni to participate in social events, professional development programs, continuing education, fund raising and recruitment.

If you are interested in heading an alumni club, participating in event planning or updating us on your current professional and personal life, please contact us at: alumni@aur.edu.
FACILITIES AND ACADEMIC RESOURCES

The University is located in a prestigious area of Rome on the crest of the Janiculum, Rome’s highest hill, just a few minutes walk from the historical Trastevere district. Administrative offices, computer labs, a student lounge and faculty offices are in a four-story villa. Adjacent to the villa, a five-story building houses faculty offices, classrooms, a science lab, a computer classroom, art studio and tutoring centers. Its terrace offers a breath-taking view of Rome. Other campus facilities include an auditorium, a multimedia lab and faculty and administrative offices. A separate two-story villa houses the library.

The University is located near the renowned American Academy in Rome and close by Villa Sciarra and Villa Doria Pamphili, the largest city park in Rome. The ancient Roman road Via Aurelia Antica, the Porta San Pancrazio and the seventeenth century baroque fountain Aqua Paolone are close by. The neighborhood surrounding AUR offers a full range of amenities including restaurants, shops, cafes and an outdoor market. Several bus lines connect it to the historic center of Rome.

AUR is a top-quality institution of higher education that offers the best of the American approach to education and prepares students to live and work across cultures. Our faculty representation spans four continents and our student body comprises over 40 countries. An education at The American University of Rome ensures that graduates will be well-educated, self-confident and internationally aware.

The American University of Rome boasts a committed and experienced faculty numbering over 60, most of whom hold advanced degrees in their respective fields. Seventy percent of the full-time faculty have doctorates or terminal degrees in their disciplines. At AUR, each professor works closely with students, participates in yearly on-campus lecture series and contributes to the wider AUR community.

Classes at AUR are each led by one of our experienced faculty members and are small enough to ensure personal attention for each student. The average class size at AUR is 18 which underlines the University’s commitment to active learning and lively classroom discussion.

AUR offers degree students a variety of resources for academic and personal support. Each semester over 100 courses are available across the following areas: Archeology, Classics, Art History, Business Studies, Communication, Film and Digital Media, Fine Arts, International Relations, Italian Studies, the Humanities and Social Sciences, as well as English, Mathematics and Science. Internships and independent study opportunities are also available for qualified students.

Evans Hall Library

The library offers an expanding book collection tailored to the requirements of the degree programs offered by the University. The collection is carefully developed in collaboration with the faculty. The state-of-the-art online catalog allows users to search and locate books, articles, and a vast array of electronic resources efficiently. The library’s physical holdings are supplemented by a number of electronic resources and sizeable libraries in Rome.

The University curriculum increasingly uses multimedia resources for the classroom. The library provides a collection of DVDs and videos.

Students can also enjoy a quiet study lounge for their work and research. The library facilities are complemented by a number of services including borrowing privileges, inter-library loans and a reserve collection. Our library staff is committed to high standards of library excellence and, to that end, offers a series of information literacy workshops and participates in foundational skills seminars every semester.

Carini Building

This stunning five story building, originally called Casa Papanice, was completed in 1970 by the renowned Italian architect, author, and theorist, Paolo Portoghesi. Before becoming incorporated into the campus of The American University of Rome, Casa Papani- ce, or the Carini Building, was even used as a set in the Ettore Scola film “Jealousy, Italian Style” (1970) starring Marcello Mastroianni, Monica Vitti, and Giancarlo Giannini.

Computer Services and Facilities

The American University of Rome recognizes the importance of supporting an efficient technological infrastructure and providing quality instructional equipment to support its educational programs and enhance student learning. To further this aim, the University continuously reviews and updates the provision and enhancement of technology on campus. Students at AUR are given access to an e-mail account, file storage space and login access to the community portal, MyAUR, providing students with real time academic information, online registration, campus life events, while also serving as the gateway to the Learning Management System (LMS).

Computer Labs

AUR has several computer labs on campus, some of which are dedicated to teaching.

The computer lab is located in Building A on the garden level floor. The lab is open to students and faculty and is equipped with 44 Windows 7 workstations and 6 Mac G4s. Both Macs and PCs are equipped with Office productivity software and are networked to provide students with printing capabilities and internet access. Workstations for advanced film making and editing are also available. In addition two large copiers are available in the lab for printing, copying and scanning.

The Evans Hall Library has a small Mac lab on the ground floor and a larger lab with 12 Windows 7 workstations in the study area on the first floor. Printing, scanning and copying is available to students and faculty in the library.

The Multimedia Battista lab is located in the Carini Building and is available to communication students enrolled in select film-related courses. The lab is equipped with fourteen 27” Apple i-Macs with pro-level film, effects, and sound software (Avid Media Composer, Adobe Creative Suite CS6); several Mac Pro computers with 23” Flat Screen Cinema; a dual mini-DV/VHS tape and dub deck; a 21” color TV for playback; DVD Burners; five broadcast-quality video cameras and four entry-level video cameras; pro-level boom microphones and sound kits and professional spot lighting kits with accessories.

The Science and Computer Classroom is located on the 5th floor of Building B and is used for science and computer based lessons. The lab is a fully equipped learning center, providing teaching aids in our science, physics and math courses. The laboratory is stocked with experimentation tools and equipment.

Instructional Equipment

The use of instructional technology is an integral part of teaching techniques at The American University of Rome. All classrooms are equipped with an array of instructional technology including networked Windows 7 PCs with dedicated internet access. High-definition and non HD ceiling mounted digital projectors, DVD/Blu Ray players and digital sound systems. All classrooms
Auriana Auditorium
The Auriana Auditorium is a presentation room for University events. With a seating capacity of 99, the auditorium is equipped with an assortment of multimedia equipment including a complete public address system with wireless microphones, a 61” plasma screen, a Dolby surround sound system, video conferencing facilities and a networked computer system with a ceiling mounted high definition video projector.

STUDENT LIFE

Student Life Office
The Student Life Office is the heart of student life at The American University of Rome. Our office strives to complement the academic mission of the University by providing and supporting opportunities for learning through extra-curricular activities. The activities and facilities of the Student Life Office promote students’ personal growth, leadership development, social responsibility, multicultural awareness and intellectual inquiry. The Student Life Office staff is committed to providing superb service in an engaging environment to entice student participation in formal and informal activities. The Student Life Office assists students with non-academic issues, encourages their participation in Italian culture and daily life and supports their social life both on and off campus. It plays an active role in bringing a wide variety of events and activities to students.

Health and Well-Being Resources
The American University of Rome is committed to promoting health and well-being in a caring and confidential manner, for all AUR students. The following resources are available:

Disability Services – Any student with a documented disability, including physical impairment or learning disability, is eligible for services and reasonable accommodations. Accommodations include, but are not limited to, extra time on tests, distraction-free testing environment, textbooks on tape, reduced course load and assistive technology. The American University of Rome is a small institution and as such requests that students with disabilities inform University administration of all necessary services and accommodations before arrival at AUR.

Health Services – The Student Handbook provides detailed information on obtaining the appropriate health care services in Italy. There is a doctor on campus, available daily by appointment and free of charge to students. The Student Life Office also maintains a list of English-speaking doctors and dentists that students may consult. In case of an emergency, an ambulance will take the student to the nearest emergency room and if hospitalization is necessary, patients will be placed in the hospital best equipped for the particular illness or injury. If a student requests to be placed in a private hospital clinic, appropriate arrangements can also be made. All students are required to pay in private hospitals and clinics and are issued receipts for insurance reimbursement.

Mandatory Health Insurance – All students, whether part time or full time, must be covered by health and hospitalization insurance. Upon arrival in Italy, non-European Union students with a visa and acquiring a permesso di soggiorno (permit to stay for study purposes) are required to obtain a health insurance policy. This policy must comply with the requirements of the Republic of Italy for access to emergency public health care. The University will provide relevant information and assistance to students to secure a health insurance policy upon arrival at AUR. The Republic of Italy requires, at a minimum, a health insurance policy. If you do not have a valid, international health insurance policy that provides coverage during your stay in Italy you may purchase an Italian health insurance policy through Eduservice.org which is a third party provider external to AUR. For further information on visas and permits to stay, please see ‘Admission Requirements’ section of this catalog.

Psychological Counseling – The American University of Rome provides its students with free, confidential psychological services. A certified counselor gives routine, non-medical counseling to students by appointment. Detailed information on this service can be found in the Student Handbook and on appropriate bulletin boards on campus. A psychiatrist is also available by appointment and free of charge to students for prescribing and monitoring medications.

Safety and Security – Emergency phone numbers are located in the Student Handbook, posted in all AUR Student Housing apartments and a card with all emergency numbers is provided to students upon arrival. If an emergency situation occurs it is critical that the appropriate emergency services be contacted first. In the event of a true emergency after-hours, AUR maintains an emergency number printed in the Student Handbook and answered by a University official.

In the event of student illness or injury, depending on gravity, the first action is to call emergency services (118) or proceed to the appropriate medical center. The staff on duty manning the emergency phone will be available if further assistance is needed. In such an event, an AUR staff member will advise the home university and/or the study abroad office. Within legal constraint, parents, guardians and the emergency contact will be advised. Additional assistance is provided in the event of a medical evacuation. For non-emergency situations the Student Life Office can be consulted during normal business hours.

Money and Banking
Students should plan to have access to enough money for meals, beverages and snacks, trips, sightseeing, restaurants, theaters, concerts, films, art galleries, souvenirs and local transportation. An estimated cost of living budget can be found in the ‘Financial information’ section of this catalog. ATM machines are widely available in Rome and most Italian cities. Most Italian banks and the American Express office in Rome will exchange U.S. dollars into Euro, whether in cash or traveler's checks. Many hotels, stores and restaurants accept credit cards. The University cannot cash or guarantee personal checks. Students can open a bank account in Italy only after receiving an official stay permit. A local bank account is not recommended for short-term stays.

Housing
Students may elect for The American University of Rome to arrange housing on their behalf or may choose to make their own housing arrangements. The American University of Rome takes great pride in providing students with safe, comfortable living environments. All students opting for university housing are provided with fully furnished apartments in areas surrounding the campus for a “full immersion” cultural experience. Each apartment is typically shared by 5 or 6 students and includes the following amenities: PC computer, Wi-Fi, land-line phone, linens, towels, washing machine and a fully equipped kitchen.

Student Government
The American University of Rome Student Government (AURSG) is elected to represent the student body. It is a great way for students to contribute actively to the growth and development of the University. Student Government representatives participate in regular meetings with the administration and faculty and serve on the Curriculum, Library and Academic Fairness committees. Only students in good academic standing are eligible to hold office in the student government.

Student Conduct
The American University of Rome, as a university dedicated to promoting the intellectual and social growth of its students, obliges students to respect one another and behave in a decorous manner both inside and outside the University. The President of the University has the authority to discipline or to dismiss any student who is in violation of the laws of the Republic of Italy or whose conduct violates the rules and regulations of the University. Detailed information on the student code of conduct and other relevant policies, including the Student Code of Conduct can be found in the Student Handbook.

Athletic Facilities
In an ongoing effort to provide opportunities to keep (or get!) fit as well as to rub elbows with Italians participating in yet another authentically Italian activity, AUR has contracted with a successful and popular local gym (palestra) to use its facilities and lessons. For full time AUR degree-seeking and English Language Program students, AUR provides free gym membership. For all other students in attendance at AUR, Student Life has obtained a special discounted price for each academic semester; interested students should pay and enroll directly at the gym.

Athletic Programs
The American University of Rome is a founding member of both the male and female Universities of Rome Soccer and Volleyball Leagues. For a full list of other sport activities offered at AUR, please see the AUR website - Student Life page.
EXCURSION OPPORTUNITIES

The American University of Rome, located in the heart of Italy and well-connected to the rest of Europe, supports a program of learning excursions as an essential activity of its academic life. Excursion destinations, costs and applicable academic credit, if any, vary each semester and current publications should be consulted for semester specific information. Excursions can be categorized as either ‘Learning Italy Excursions’ or ‘Academic Program Excursions’.

A. Learning Italy Excursions

This type of excursion, organized by the Student Life Office, is designed to introduce the newcomer to Italy to the people, art, history, language, landscape and culture of the Italian peninsula. Each excursion also caters for students already well acquainted with Italian language, culture and history by offering an in depth view and unique perspective associated with each destination and itinerary. Many of the excursion destinations are to places “off the beaten path”. These excursions are designed for students from any academic background. Excursions generally vary from one to three days.

Packaged Field Trips

Packaged Field Trips are Learning Italy Excursions for which the university arranges most aspects of the trip such as transport, lodgings, meals, museum entry fees, etc. AUR staff accompany the students on each excursion. Sample excursions are described below.

Tuscany Field Trip

This Student Life weekend trip will take you to the fabled towns of Tuscany: Pisa, Florence and Trequanda and Montecatini. From the world famous tower of Pisa, to the highly sophisticated medieval city of Florence, to the beautiful landscapes of Trequanda (our wine tasting destination), There are cathedrals, city palaces, intimate town squares and breathtaking landscape views. This is the best way for you to become the most “cultivated” traveler and lover of the best of Italy. The Student Life department provides you a chance to visit the main historical and artistic treasures of Assisi. There will also be leisure time for wandering, individual discovery and relaxation.

Capri, Mount Vesuvius - Sorrento and Pompeii Field Trip

A trip to the beautiful Isle of Capri with a tour of the excavations at Pompeii, as well as overnight stays in the town of Sorrento. We will climb to the summit of a volcano, the famous Mount Vesuvius.

Capri: magnificent coastal walks, flower-strewn mountain slopes and, of course, the shimmering blue Mediterranean sea with its natural wonders which include the magical Blue Grotto and Faraglione.

Pompeii: buried under ash and pumice and lost for over 1500 years, this Roman city frozen in time was rediscovered 4 centuries ago. Today this UNESCO World Heritage site offers extraordinary insight into the life of a city at the height of the Roman Empire.

Sorrento: on the Amalfi coast overlooking the Bay of Naples, this clifftop town offers spectacular views across the bay. It is also the home of limoncello.

Mount Vesuvius: famous for having buried Pompeii and Herculaneum under up to 6 meters of ash, and while currently inactive, this volcano is the only volcano on the European mainland to have erupted in the last century.

Assisi Day Trip

This Student Life day excursion will take you to the beautiful town of Assisi: it represents an ensemble of masterpieces of human creative genius, such as the Basilica of San Francesco, which have made it a fundamental reference for art history in Europe and in the world. The interchange of artistic and spiritual message of the Franciscan Order has significantly contributed to developments in art and architecture in the world. The Student Life Office provides you a chance to visit the main historical and artistic treasures of Assisi. There will also be leisure time for wandering, individual discovery and relaxation.

B. Academic Program Excursions

Business Field Study Trips

The Business Studies Program has developed travel-based educational experiences, both for credit and for pleasure. Every semester, the Program travels to a region of Italy that students rarely see on their tourist excursions. Three-day Business field trips to the Veneto, to Le Marche and to Sicily are the highlights, each offering a related one-credit course. Examples of recent excursions: Abruzzo, Liguria, Lombardia. During the Veneto excursion, students explore the political and commercial environment of the north-east of Italy, with visits to The Benetton Group and Tognana Ceramichè, where students tour the facilities and meet with leading executives. At GEOX, Italy’s leading producer of shoes, students are hosted by the company founder/president. After the whirlwind business-related visits, it’s off to Venice for the weekend, including visits to Murano glass manufacturers. In Sicily, students enjoy tours of a coffee roasting plant, a chocolate factory and an olive oil press, as well as an Exxon oil refinery. Meetings with politicians and top executives help students understand the challenges of doing business in this beautiful but misunderstood region. The highlight of the trip is a walk through the fields of an orange plantation before visiting the packing facility, where students get a chance to work on the line and test their orange-wrapping-and-packing skills. Plenty of time is left to tour the historic town of Siracusa, and enjoy the nightlife of Catania.

In addition to these three-day excursions, the Program organizes a number of one-day Programal trips and course-related field trips. Notable recent events include:
- Italian food trade show at the new Expo Center of Rome.
- Overnight trip to Modena to tour the Ferrari and Maserati Museums and visit a leading organic producer of Parmigiano Reggiano.
- Visits with local companies and NGOs, such as the Food and Agricultural Organization of the United Nations, Peroni Beer, IKEA and The Fulbright Commission.
- Visit with Italian Deputy and Tour of Parliament.

Communication Day Trips

Different courses in the Program of Communication and English offer students the opportunity to visit a variety of media production sites in and around Rome, including the Cinetìca Film Studios, Il Messaggero newspaper, ANSA news agency, the Rome offices of the Associated Press, the RAI studios, etc. Students get to meet with the professionals who manage and work at these various media outlets, and see what the job really entails.
Italian Studies Excursions
The Italian Studies Program offers field trips to help foster a better understanding of Italy’s rich history and culture. Such excursions include a three day trip to Palermo and surrounding areas in Sicily. Both field trips and a three-day trip to Torino are also offered as one-credit courses.

International Relations and Global Politics Field Study Trips
The International Relations and Global Politics Program organizes different kinds of Field Study Trips:

- International Organizations (IOs): During the Fall Semester students have the possibility to participate in a three day Field Study Trip to a city within the European Union, where major International Organizations are hosted. Each year the city rotates in order to cover the most important ones — i.e. Brussels, Vienna, Geneva, and Paris. The purpose of the Field Trip is to expose students to the goals and aims of these Organizations, arrange meetings and interviews, both with people working in these institutions, and with those revising the impact and work of these institutions to give a complete picture of IOs’ function and role.

- Case Studies: During the Spring Semester students have the possibility to participate in a three day Field Study Trip to a city/region that has a particular relevance in current international relations, e.g. Nationalism, Separatism, Conflict resolution, International Intervention. In the last years the Spring Field Study Trips were organized in: Kosovo, Montenegro, Northern Ireland, the Basque Country, and Catalonia.

- Ghana or Israel/Palestine: During the J-Term (January) the IR Program has been promoting for a number of years now a very successful Field Study Trip to Ghana. In 2014 the Winter Field Study Trip will be organized in Israel/Palestine.

- Model United Nations: During the Spring Semester students have the possibility to participate in the Model United Nations (MUN, i.e. a simulation of the UN work sessions), in a European city, practicing their negotiation skills. The MUN is the practical element of a theoretical course that gives students the theoretical aspects of public speaking and critical thinking.

- Half/One day visit: During the whole academic year, many courses take advantage of the numerous opportunities offered in the city (or close to it) to organize half/one day visits, e.g. to International Organization (e.g. the Food and Agricultural Organization, FAO, and the World Food Program, WFP); to Italian Institutions (e.g. Parliament); to non-governmental organizations.

Archeology and Classics Field Study Trips
The Archeology and Classics Program offers excursions in connection with courses in Archeology and Classical Studies. Recent examples include trips to herculaneum, Hadrian’s Villa, Sperlonga, Cerveteri, Tarquinia and Berlin.

Art History Field Study Trips
The Art History Program organizes day trips and weekend excursions in connection with Art History courses. Trips to Florence and Venice are usually incorporated as a part of upper level Renaissance art classes. A trip to Paris is often a part of courses on modern European art. In addition the Program offers one-credit courses including a weekend excursion to other major European art venues. Recent examples have been Vienna and the south of France.
SPECIAL PROGRAMS

The American University of Rome offers various credit and non-credit programs to meet the educational needs of the local and international community. Members of the community are welcome to enroll in the University's regular and special courses in such diverse topics as contemporary Italian culture, fine arts and music. All courses (except Italian language courses and some advanced Italian literature and culture courses) are conducted in English.

J-Term and Summer Sessions

During AUR summer sessions students typically complete between six and twelve credits towards their undergraduate degrees, while during the J-Term students can complete three credits. The AUR J-Term and Summer sessions are open to degree and study abroad students. For more information please visit our website: www.aur.edu.

Career Services and Internship Office

AUR helps students bridge from the world of academia to the world of work in a number of ways, all managed by the AUR Career Services and Internship Office. First, the University maintains a wide network of partner organizations, public and private, where AUR students in their junior or senior year can do for-credit internships during the semester or summer. Second, every semester, the Career advisors offer a series of Career Skills Seminars, each focused on a specific aspect of the job search: researching, networking, interviewing skills, CV writing. Students get valuable input and a chance to hone their skills. Third, students get one-on-one attention and advice as they craft their CV’s and research the fields in which they are interested. Fourth, for those students interested in continuing their academic careers, AUR provides graduate school advising as well as special sessions that highlight graduate school programs available in Italy and Europe. Finally, the AUR World of Work Blog is a constantly updated source of full- and part-time job opportunities as well as information about internships and graduate schools. AUR students and alumni can register at the Blog at www.aurcareers.wordpress.com and request access to this rich array of resources, job descriptions, internship opportunities, graduate school listings, and links to sources to help get ready for the job search.

Internship Program

The American University of Rome supports student endeavors to gain ‘real-world,’ practical work experience by offering various internship opportunities every semester and in the summer. Academic internships for course credit provide students with a practical way of relating their studies to their career interests. The benefits of an internship include an enhanced ability to make informed career decisions, a greater appreciation for college coursework, increased marketability and the opportunity to obtain academic credit while gaining real experience. To apply for an internship, applicants must be enrolled as full-time or part-time AUR degree students or as second semester study abroad students in good academic standing (GPA 2.00 or above) and have Junior or Senior standing. A formal agreement between AUR and the internship site organization is required before a placement can begin. A student may complete a maximum of two internships for academic credit.

Academic Support Services

The following academic support services are available to students at AUR:

- The Math Helpdesk is organized to assist students enrolled in mathematics courses. Drop-in sessions are held throughout the semester.

- Writing Center Goals and Mission: The Writing Center at The American University of Rome helps undergraduate students in all disciplines become more effective and confident writers. Meetings with students are on an individual basis to address specific writing issues and problems such as developing a strong thesis, collecting ideas, developing thoughts, organizing paragraphs, incorporating secondary sources, revising, and editing. Tutors and students work together to improve students’ critical reading, thinking and writing skills in or to more effectively meet their academic requirements.

- The Italian Helpdesk is available throughout the semester to support students in all levels of Italian language study.

Study in Italian at LUMSA (Libera Università Maria Ss. Assunta)

An agreement with the Libera Università Maria Ss. Assunta in Rome allows AUR students to attend a course at LUMSA delivered in Italian, choosing from a list of available courses taught in the fall and spring semesters. Students who take a LUMSA course and pass the final examinations earn three credits toward their AUR degree. For further information on this study opportunity and a list of available courses contact Professor Catherine Ramsey-Portolano (c.ramsey@aur.edu). Students should discuss appropriate LUMSA courses with their advisors.

The Emory Exchange (Honors Program)

AUR boasts a special program open only to Provost’s List students. The Emory Exchange is the single most prestigious academic opportunity available to AUR students. Students in all majors are encouraged to apply for this exclusive and challenging program, which allows our best students to spend a semester under the aegis of The Goizueta Business School of Emory University, one of the top undergraduate business programs in America. Past participants include Communication, International Relations and Business majors who have taken courses in both the Business School and the College of Arts and Sciences. The Emory Exchange affords students a chance to study in an American setting, on the beautiful Emory campus in Atlanta, GA, and prepare for the rigors of graduate school. Interested students must be nominated and interviewed for the limited number of place available. Contact k.fitzsimmons@aur.edu for information and application.

Refunds
Tuition refunds are permitted when students withdraw from The American University of Rome or when students withdraw from one or more courses and pass from full-time status to part-time status.

Tuition refunds are processed according to the schedule available from the Finance Office. Tuition refunds different from the schedule are not permitted unless the course is cancelled by the University or an error has been made by the University. No refunds will be made on late registration fees, application and late application fees unless such charges have been made through an error of the University.

Students withdrawing from classes will be eligible for a tuition refund on the following basis:
- Students who withdraw on or before the last weekday before the 1st day of classes will receive a 100% tuition refund;
- Students who withdraw during the 1st week of classes will receive a 75% tuition refund;
- Students who withdraw during the 2nd week of classes will receive a 25% tuition refund;
- Students who withdraw after the 1st day of classes will not receive a tuition refund.

Summer session students withdrawing from classes will be eligible for a tuition refund on the following basis:
- Students who withdraw on or before the last weekday before the 1st day of classes will receive a 100% tuition refund;
- Students who withdraw during the 1st day of classes will receive a 50% tuition refund;
- Students who withdraw after the 1st day of classes will not receive a tuition refund.

In order to receive a refund a student must notify the Registrar of withdrawal by completing the appropriate form.

_The date of withdrawal is determined by the date the form is received by the Registrar’s office._

Privacy Policy of Financial Records
In accordance to the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 (FERPA), non-University individuals (including parents) cannot have access to the student’s financial records, unless authorization from the student is obtained. Students may allow parents or a third party to access their financial account by completing a form authorizing the Finance Office to permit non-University individuals to view their financial records.

For further information on the financial aid refund policy, please see ‘Financial Aid and Scholarship Funds’ section of this catalog.

Tax Benefits (For U.S. taxes only)
The Internal Revenue Service requires all eligible institutions to report annually certain information about qualified tuition, fees and related expenses to each student.

The information reported on form 1098-T will help the students and their parents. To facilitate accurate reporting, the student must inform The American University of Rome of a permanent address to which the 1098-T form can be sent.

Please visit the IRS website for more information at www.irs.gov/publications in order to verify federal government tax benefit for education.
FINANCIAL AID AND SCHOLARSHIP FUNDS

U.S. Federal Student Aid

Refund Policy for Financial Aid Students
For any Title IV aid recipient terminating his or her program of study after entering the institution and before completing at least 60% of the payment period, the statutory Return of Title IV Fund policy will be implemented. This new policy will calculate the amount of financial aid funds earned by the student during their enrollment.

The American University of Rome will calculate the amount of Title IV aid that was earned based on a payment period basis. The institution will determine:
• The Title IV aid disbursed or that could have been disbursed.
• The percentage of Title IV aid earned by the student.
• The amount of Title IV aid earned by the student.
• The total Title IV aid to be returned or disbursed as a post-withdrawal disbursement.
• The amount of unearned Title IV aid to be returned by the school.
• The amount of unearned Title IV aid to be returned by the student.

Institutional refunds will continue to be calculated by the payment period. The student will be responsible for any tuition, fees, books or equipment not covered by Title IV funds.

The American University of Rome Enrollment Status for eligibility and reporting for US Title IV funds policy
In determining enrollment status for eligibility for Title IV funds at The American University of Rome our policy is as follows: to be enrolled half time a student must be taking at least a half time course load. ‘Audit’ courses, courses that are not matriculating to your degree and some remedial courses do not count. The reported status for the three enrollment periods (fall, spring and summer) is determined as follows:

AUR Scholarships
The American University of Rome is committed to assisting students whose academic merit and/or financial need warrant support. AUR aims to give every student the opportunity to take advantage of a high quality education and accordingly, offers several scholarships. Many of the scholarships offered by AUR are renewable annually until degree requirements are met for a maximum of four years (depending which comes first).

Academic Scholarships - Available in Fall only/Deadline March 1st/5000 Euros per year for four years, given on Academic Merit and Need.

Student Assistantships
May consider opening up ten hours a week to transfers with merit and need.

Please visit our website for terms, details, and deadlines of these scholarships. http://www.aur.edu/american-university-rome/admissions/financial-aid-scholarships/.

Student Assistantship Program
The University offers a limited number of student assistantships to AUR degree students. Students who participate in this program provide administrative assistance to the University in exchange for monetary payment or partial remission of fees and tuition. Students must be in good academic standing before they can be considered for available positions. The student assistantship page may be found on AUR’s website.
ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

Admission to the Degree Program
Admission to The American University of Rome is selective. Students are admitted without regard to age, race, sex, creed, national or ethnic origin or handicap. Requests for financial aid do not affect decisions on admission.

Candidates for admission must show evidence that they have completed or anticipate completing a level of education equivalent to four years of secondary school in the U.S. system.

Applicants for admission from high school or a secondary school are required to submit:
• A completed application form accompanied by a non-refundable application fee of €50.
• An official transcript of secondary school work.
• Official university transcripts (for transfer students) from all institutions attended.
• One academic recommendation from the principal, a guidance counselor, teacher or professor.
• Results of the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) or American College Test (ACT). Results of the SAT or the ACT examinations are optional, they may be included to strengthen the application.

Admission at AUR reviews applications on a rolling basis. Applicants will be interviewed after all the required documents are received; after the interview the admission decision will be provided. The admission decision will be provided to the applicant within two weeks.

Admission decision will be provided.

Each applicant is reviewed individually. Leadership, motivation, academic growth, the level of the secondary school program's difficulty, involvement in activities and personal goals are important considerations in the application review process.

All transcripts, letters of recommendation and other supporting documentation must be received directly from institutions or testing centers.

The American University of Rome SAT institutional code for reporting purposes is 0262. The American University of Rome ACT institutional code for reporting purposes is 5392.

The Intensive Academic English Language Program
The Intensive Academic English Language Program, IEAP, is designed as a bridge program for students whose English language skills need development in order to benefit from a full academic curriculum at The American University of Rome. Students will develop speaking, listening, reading and writing skills in English while attending selected credit-based General Education courses at AUR. Upon successful completion of this intensive program, which covers one to two academic semesters, students will acquire the right level of English to apply for admissions to the academic program of their choice at AUR. Students may apply directly into the program or be offered admission to the program on the recommendation of the admission committee.

Application Dates
Admissions at AUR reviews applications on a rolling basis. Applicants will be interviewed after all the required documents are received; after the interview the admission decision will be provided to the applicant within two weeks.

Home-Schooled Students

Home-schooled students follow the regular application process, however, the following is also required:
• Transcripts of all home schooled work and details on the home schooling format (correspondence-based or parent/student based).
• Official college transcripts (if applicable).
• One academic recommendation.
• Results of the SAT or ACT exam.

Advanced Standing
College credits may be granted to students who have received a score of three or higher on their AP examinations. College credits can also be granted to those who have taken CLEP exams. Advanced standing may be granted for qualified academic credits earned worldwide. Candidates in possession of credentials from European lyceums, such as the Italian Maturità, the International Baccalaureate, the British A levels and other equivalent programs will be evaluated and advanced credits granted on the basis of evaluation. Students applying for advanced standing must submit official records of the last year of lyceum and a copy of the diploma if granted. If the records are not written in either English or Italian, the Admissions Office requires a certified translation into English.

Transfer Students
The American University of Rome welcomes transfer students. Students with an equivalent of sixty semester credit hours (or 90 quarter hours) of transfer credit may be exempt from the SAT/ACT and high school transcript requirement.

Transfer Students

Upon receipt of complete official transcripts from all colleges and universities previously attended, the University shall determine the number of transfer credits to be accepted toward fulfilling the requirements for a degree at The American University of Rome. Transfer credits may be applied to satisfy General Education requirements, and free electives while no more than 50% of transfer credits can be used to satisfy the requirements for an academic major. Transfer credit will not be granted for courses completed with a grade below C. Transfer students are subject to all degree requirements described in the catalog in effect when they enter The American University of Rome. Transfer credits have no effect on the cumulative grade point average at The American University of Rome. Transfer students shall have their status determined for purposes of satisfactory academic progress measurement by including the number of transfer credits accepted toward the degree in both attempted credits and earned credits (see ‘Academic Regulations’ section of this catalog).

In addition, transfer students are subject to two residency requirements:

- For a bachelor's degree, a minimum of 45 credits must be earned at The American University of Rome. For an associate degree, a minimum of 30 credits must be earned at The American University of Rome, and at least 15 credits must be in upper-level courses in the student major.
- At least 50% of the credits used to satisfy the requirements for an academic major must be earned at The American University of Rome.
- The final semester must be completed in residence at AUR.

Study abroad students who transfer to The American University of Rome as degree students can waive up to 15 credits toward satisfaction of the 45 credit residency requirement. Transfer students must attend the transfer student sessions during orientation week.

English Language Proficiency

Applicants whose native language is not English are required to submit scores from TOEFL or another English language proficiency examination. The proficiency examination requirement may be waived for applicants who complete their secondary education at English-speaking institutions. Applicants whose native language is not English are required to submit scores from TOEFL or an other English language proficiency examination. The proficiency examination requirement may be waived for applicants who complete their secondary education at English-speaking institutions. The American University of Rome TOEFL institutional code for reporting purposes is 0579. AUR accepts a score of 550 on the Paper based exam - PBT, 213 on the computer based exam - CBT and 80 on the internet based exam - iBT. Information concerning the TOEFL may be obtained at www.toefl.org. AUR accepts a score of 6.00 and above on the IELTS exam. For students who do not meet the English language proficiency requirements may be offered admission through the Intensive Academic English Program.

Students become eligible to apply to the Undergraduate Programs of The American University of Rome after they have successfully completed the Intensive Academic English Program (with a grade of C and above). Admitted students who complete the course with a grade of C- or D will be required to take 001 English Tutorial during their first semester at AUR. Students who complete the course with an F grade, will not be able to enroll to AUR Undergraduate Degree Programs but may repeat the Program.

Please note that each application received is carefully considered on an individual basis, taking into account the full range of information presented on the AUR online application form including past grades, personal statement, essay, interview and references, before a final decision is made.

Interview

All candidates are required to interview – either in person, or over the phone. Personal interviews provide the best opportunity for candidates to share information with Admissions staff, and allow the staff to evaluate a candidate’s readiness to transition to Rome. In addition to an interview and a tour, class visits and meetings with faculty can be arranged. Office hours are 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Please contact the Admissions Office to schedule an appointment.

Deferred Admission

A student who has been accepted to The American University of Rome but cannot enroll immediately may request a deferral. Students who wish to defer are required to pay the non-refundable €500 tuition deposit. A deferral can be granted up to one academic year after which the student must re-apply for admission to the University.

Deadlines

| Students who hold a non-European Union passport are required by law to obtain a student visa from the Italian consulate before departing from their home country. It is the student's responsibility to obtain his or her student visa. AUR will provide an official acceptance letter for visa application upon receipt of the Enrollment Deposit payment. Students applying directly to AUR must present their application for a student visa to the Italian consulate which serves their place of residence. The process generally takes at least one month. Students should check with their local consulate to make sure they have all the necessary documents before presenting their application. AUR is able to assist in verifying the status of the student. Full-time AUR students are eligible for a student entry visa and a stay permit. In order to enroll as part time at AUR students must hold an Italian or European Union passport. Please contact us at: admissions@aur.edu should you require assistance.

Student visas must be obtained prior to leaving one's home country. It is not possible to apply for a student visa after arriving in Italy.

Upon arrival in Rome non EU students will submit an application to obtain a permesso di soggiorno per studio (student permit to stay in Italy), which is issued by the local authorities at the Questura (police station). Students are also required to purchase health insurance. The Student Life Office will help students obtain their first stay permit and health insurance. Further information on this process and the mandatory health insurance can be found in the ‘Student Life’ section of this catalog.

Placement Examinations

All new first-year students are required to take placement examinations in Mathematics and English, if they haven't been awarded advanced placement in these subjects. New transfer students are exempt from taking the examinations only if transfer credits in Mathematics and/or English have been accepted by AUR. Italian language tests are given for students wishing to register for a course above ITL 101. The tests are given during orientation week preceding the start of each semester. The scores obtained will be used for English, Mathematics and Italian placement.

Semester, Year or Summer Abroad
Students registered in other universities as degree students who wish to spend a semester, year or summer at The American University of Rome should consult with the study abroad advisor at their home institutions. AUR has study abroad agreements with many universities and colleges; if the home university does not have an agreement with The American University of Rome, the interested student may apply through providers and directly on the AUR website www.aur.edu. Study abroad student enrollment is competitive; as such, students are encouraged to make early inquiry and application.

Audit Students
Non-degree students may register to audit a course at The American University of Rome. Students do not earn college credit for audited courses.

ACADEMIC REGULATIONS

Credits
At a minimum, one semester credit hour equals 15 classroom contact hours of lectures, 30 hours of laboratory or 45 hours of practicum. The majority of courses listed in this catalog carry three semester credit hours. Intensive courses worth four to eight credits and also one credit courses are available. Internships carry three semester credits and require 135 hours of work experience. Credit information on individual courses can be found below each course description at the rear of the catalog.

Course Load and Student Classification
A minimum of 12 credit hours is required to be considered a full-time student. The maximum full-time student load, except for students on the Provost’s list (see the relevant ‘provost’s list’ section of this catalog), is 17 credit hours. A student enrolled for fewer than 12 credit hours is considered a part-time student.

On-line and blended courses are considered part of a student’s course load for the semester.

Class standing is defined as follows:
- First Year: 0-29 credit hours
- Sophomore: 30-59 credit hours
- Junior: 60-89 credit hours
- Senior: 90+ credit hours

Course Numbers
Course numbers generally adhere to the guidelines below. Exceptions are indicated by the course pre-requisites which may require Sophomore (30 or more credits earned), Junior (60 or more credits earned) or Senior (90 or more credits earned) standing and/or permission of the instructor.

Definitions
Pre-requisites – must be completed prior to the course
Pre- or co-requisites – may be taken prior to or concurrently with the course.
Co-requisites – must be taken concurrently with the course
001-099 Remedial, developmental or other courses carrying no credit
100-199 Lower-level introductory courses with no pre-requisites
200-299 Lower-level courses with one or more pre-requisites
300-399 Upper-level courses with one or more pre-requisites
400-499 Upper-level advanced courses with two or more pre-requisites in the discipline and/or Senior standing
450 Internship
491-494 Independent Study (one to four credits, respectively)
498, 499 Senior Seminar/Capstone Course/Senior Thesis
500-599 Graduate-level courses

Pre-requisites
Some courses at The American University of Rome require pre-requisites. With the assistance of his or her academic advisor, the student must ensure all pre-requisites have been met. Where the requirement has been met but the formal pre-requisites are not in place, the academic advisor may approve a pre-requisites waiver. In these cases, a Pre-requisites Waiver form, signed by both the student and the academic advisor, must be submitted to the Registrar’s Office.
Registration
Incoming First-Time-in-College students, as well as Transfer students, will be pre-registered for required courses according to their declared majors before the semester starts. During Orientation Week, incoming students will meet with their Academic advisors to complete and finalize their schedule.

Degree-seeking students must register online (through MyAUR) for the following semester during the registration period as indicated on the Academic Calendar. Students who register late will be charged a Late Registration Fee of 105 Euros. Students need to request approval for their course registration from their academic advisor. Registration is on a first-come, first-served basis. Spaces in courses are limited. Students have the option of wait-listing themselves online if that a course is full. If and when spots open up, wait-listed students will be contacted by the Registrar’s Office directly.

Degree-seeking students on financial hold will not be able to register online, but should use a paper registration form, to be approved by their advisor and returned to the Registrar’s Office. The student will be registered once the hold has been lifted and according to class availability at that time.

Online Add/Drop is available to students during the first week of a regular semester and during the first day of classes of a summer session. Students need to receive approval from their academic advisor for any added class.

After the Add/Drop period, no courses may be added and withdraw penalties will apply.

Academic Advising
The academic advising program of The American University of Rome helps students define and clarify their life, career and educational goals and develop academic strategies to reach them.

It is the responsibility of both the student and his/her academic advisor to participate in the advising process equally. The academic advisor serves as a resource for course/career planning and academic progress review and as an agent of referral to other administration members as necessary.

After consultation with his/her academic advisor, the student is ultimately responsible for choosing and implementing his/her academic program.

Learning Accommodations
The American University of Rome does not discriminate based on differing abilities and is committed to providing all students with a high quality educational experience.

While not bound by the "Americans with Disabilities Act" and other legislation, the American University of Rome still makes every attempt to provide all reasonable accommodations.

Possible accommodations may include:
• Extended time for papers or projects
• Time-and-a-half for testing
• Distraction-free testing room
• Tape lectures (with appropriate permission)
• Use of a computer for essay exams

In order to request learning accommodations, the student needs to submit medical or psychological documentation, specifying detailed and reasonable accommodation(s), 2 weeks prior arrival. Please note all documentation must be valid and current (within the past 4 years) and issued by a licensed specialist.

After all required documentation has been received, our Learning Accommodations Coordinator will consult with faculty and staff to determine available accommodations.

Attendance Policy
In keeping with AUR’s mission to prepare students to live and work across cultures, the University places a high value on classroom experience. As a result attendance is expected in all classes and attendance records are maintained. The University’s attendance policy is as follows:

1.0. Minimum Attendance Requirement: Students must attend a minimum of 70% of a course in order to be eligible to be considered for a passing grade.

1.1. Automatically Accepted Absences
Students will not be penalized for one absence from classes meeting once a week;
Students will not be penalized for three absences from classes meeting twice a week;
Students will not be penalized for four absences from classes meeting more than twice a week, as in the case of some intensive courses.

1.2. If further absences are recorded, grade penalties will be applied according to the instructor’s specific attendance policy, as stated in the syllabus, and following the institutional parameters given in the Note* below.

1.2.1. If the instructor does not specify an attendance policy, there will be no grade penalty other than that attached to the minimum attendance requirement, and any penalized absences recorded above the basic 70% attendance requirement for the course will be invalidated.

1.3. During Summer sessions where courses are taught more intensively over a shorter period the following applies:
- Students will not be penalized for two absences from class.

2.0. Tolerated Absences
Certain categories of absence will not be penalized but will be counted as an absence (for a 3-credit course meeting twice a week). These absences are:
• The Model United Nations (MUN);
• Permit to Stay;
• SG’s “Ambassador Program” (Student Government initiative)
• Religious Holidays

The American University of Rome makes all reasonable efforts to accommodate students who must be absent from classes to observe religious holidays. (Please refer to the Provost’s Office list of accepted absences for religious holidays). Not attending a class due to the observance of a religious holiday will normally not be counted as an absence. Students who will need to miss class in order to observe religious holidays must notify their instructors by the end of the Add/Drop period (first week of classes), and must make prior arrangements with their instructors to make up any work missed.

2.1. The list does NOT include academic field trips because these (including arrangements for travel) must not overlap with other classes.

3.0. Cases of prolonged absences caused by an emergency or a medical condition may require students to withdraw from some or all of their courses. Under such circumstances students should first consult their academic advisors.

*Note: No instructor may penalize a student more than half a letter grade for each absence beyond the tolerated limit (e.g. from A- to B+).

Grade Point Average
A student’s grade point average (GPA) is computed by multiplying the quality points achieved by the number of credits for each course. The result is then divided by the total number of credit hours taken. The Cumulative or Career Total Grade Point Average (CGPA) is the grade point average for all credit hours taken at the University and at approved study abroad programs. The GPA and CGPA are calculated by truncating after the second digit after the decimal point. Transfer credits have no effect on the CGPA at The American University of Rome.
Final Examinations

Final exams are scheduled during the day(s) indicated on the Academic Calendar. Students can view the course Final Exam day and time on their schedule online, as of the first day of classes. Students must remain available until all exam and test obligations have been fulfilled. Travel plans are not an acceptable reason to miss examinations.

A student may defer a final examination for only three petitionable reasons:
1. documented medical grounds;
2. documented international competition with a national team or other activities with equivalent significance, or;
3. documented compassionate grounds.

Requests for rescheduled examinations are made in writing to the course instructor. A request for a rescheduled examination must be made 15 days prior to the final exam. Consideration for these requests is a privilege, not a right.

If a student is absent during the final examination for medical or compassionate reasons, he/she may be granted a deferred examination. Applications for a deferred examination after the examination has been missed, must be filed in writing with the course instructor within 48 hours of the date of the missed examination. In the event that the situation cannot be resolved with the instructor, the student may appeal in writing to the Provost’s Office. A medical certificate of otherwise appropriate documentation may be required.

Grades

Grades are posted on a secure area of the University’s official website and are mailed to the various study abroad programs. Grades are mailed to the various study abroad programs. Grades computed in the (GPA) reflect the following grade equivalents:

Grade Appeals

1. Students dissatisfied with their final grade in a course should contact the instructor of the course as soon as possible to discuss it.
2. Ordinarily the instructor will explain how the student’s final grade was arrived at. If the instructor’s explanations do not satisfy, students will see the Director of the Program in which the course in question was offered. If students and Program Directors cannot agree about grades, students may request of the Dean an appeal to the Committee on Academic Fairness, no later than 30 days after the grade has been issued. The Academic Fairness Committee will not make sensitive academic judgments or delve into the academic content of papers, quizzes, or exams, etc., but rather it will determine the fairness and accuracy of the grading process and assessment tools. It will look for human or computer errors in calculation, or basic systemic errors that could be construed as unfair or partial to one student or another. The decision of the committee is final, therefore grades may go up or down depending on the judgment of the four members of the committee.

3. Students are responsible for laying out the grounds for their appeals in writing: either instructors violated institutional requirements or the criteria for grading laid out in their syllabi. Students will supply to the committee graded work from the course in their possession.

4. When an Academic Fairness appeal is made the Provost and the Dean will determine if there exists a prima facie case for an appeal. If it is determined that no such case exists the Dean will write to the student informing him or her of the decision and the reasons motivating that decision. The decision of the Provost and Dean is final. If it is determined that a prima facie case for an appeal exists, the Dean will inform the student of this and convene the Academic Fairness Committee (see paragraph above). Program Directors will supply the instructor’s written explanations of how the student’s final grade was arrived at and any student work in the instructor’s possession. The Registrar will supply the instructor’s reports of final grades in the course and student’s final examination in the course, and the Dean will supply course syllabi and convene the Academic Fairness Committee.

5. The Academic Fairness Committee, composed of two student representatives appointed by the Student Government and two Faculty members appointed by the Provost, provides a court of appeal for students who believe they have been unfairly treated. The committee is chaired by the Provost or the Provost’s designee, who is ex officio and non-voting except in the event of a tie. If it upholds a student’s appeal, the Dean will change the student’s grade to reflect the deliberations of the committee; if the appeal is denied, there is no further appeal.

When students are no longer enrolled at AUR

Program Directors will consult with instructors and send students no longer enrolled at AUR explanations of how their final grades were arrived at. If instructors and Program Directors cannot agree about grades, students may request of the Dean an appeal to the Committee on Academic Fairness. (see paragraphs 4. and 5.)

Grades not computed into the grade point average are:

- W Withdrawal
- AUDIT (AU) Only possible when the student registers for a course at the beginning of the semester as an audit student
- I Incomplete work must be completed within the following semester. Failure to do so results in automatically converting the I grade to the default grade, which is then computed into the grade point average
- P Pass grade is applicable to courses as indicated in the catalog
- WIP Work in progress
When instructors are no longer teaching at AUR
Program Directors will consult with instructors by email or telephone and explain to students, in person or by mail, how their final grades were arrived at. If instructors and Program Directors cannot agree about grades, students may request of the Dean an appeal to the Committee on Academic Fairness. (see paragraphs 4. and 5.)

Academic Fairness Committee
The Academic Fairness Committee, staffed by two student representatives appointed by the Student Government and two faculty members appointed by the Provost, provides a court of appeal for students who feel they have received unfair treatment in the evaluation of their academic performance. Such appeals concern course grades, examination policy and other means of academic evaluation. The committee is chaired by the Provost or a designated representative of the Provost. Appeals to the committee should be submitted in writing to the Dean no more than 30 days after the grade in question has been issued.

Course Withdrawal (W and WU)
A student who wishes to change schedule by dropping a course within the published time parameters may do so with the permission of their academic advisor. Study abroad students who wish to change schedule by dropping a course within the published time parameters may do so with the permission of the home university. Exceptions may be made after deadlines have expired only by completion of a Petition to Drop Courses After the Deadline form and with the permission of both the instructor and the student. It must detail the work to be submitted, the deadline by which it must be submitted and the grade which should be substituted for the Incomplete should the student not fulfill the contract. The submission deadline should not extend beyond the last day of the following semester.

On completion of the contract, the Incomplete grade must be replaced through the completion of a Change of Grade form by the instructor. If no Change of Grade form is received, the default grade from the incomplete contract will become the final grade. An Incomplete grade will not be recognized without proper documentation. An Incomplete grade can not be replaced by a W. An Incomplete may not stand as a permanent grade.

Course Withdrawal (W and WU)
AUR students who wish to change schedule by dropping a course within the published time parameters may do so with the permission of their academic advisor. Study abroad students who wish to change schedule by dropping a course within the published time parameters may do so with the permission of the home university. Exceptions may be made after deadlines have expired only by completion of a Petition to Drop Courses After the Deadline form and with the permission of the Provost, academic advisor and the Registrar. Students who withdraw from a course prior to completion will be assigned the grade of W up to the withdrawal deadline or WU after. Medical withdrawals will be assigned a grade of W. A change of grade may be allowed for a medical withdrawal. The grade W is not calculated into the CGPA. The grade WU is considered an F and is calculated into the CGPA. Both the W and WU will be considered credits attempted if the student has incurred a financial obligation for the semester and will affect the successful course completion percentage. Any withdrawal after the withdrawal deadline as specified in the academic calendar will be considered an unofficial withdrawal (WU).

Provost’s List
Each semester full time degree seeking students who have completed the previous semester’s work with a grade point average of 3.50 or above on a 4.00 scale are placed on the Provost’s List. No grades of D, F, I, or WU are allowed in any course completed or attempted. Students must complete 12 credits or more in the semester. Inclusion on the Provost’s List is recorded on the official transcript. Students on the Provost’s List are permitted to enroll for six courses for the following semester at no additional charge.

Standards of Satisfactory Progress
All students must meet the following minimum standards of academic achievement and successful course completion to remain enrolled at the University. The student’s progress is monitored each semester and evaluated at the required evaluation points on the satisfactory progress table. Non-credit courses (e.g., Developmental English) are not counted as credits attempted, earned or taken and, therefore, do not affect the grade point average. Thus these courses do not influence the standards of satisfactory progress. Change of major does not affect the standards of satisfactory progress. Pursuit of an additional degree (e.g., pursuit of a Bachelor of Arts degree following completion of an Associate of Arts degree) does not affect the standards of satisfactory progress.

Maximum Time Frame and Successful Course Completion
The maximum time in which a student is permitted to complete a degree or certificate program is equal to the period of time during which the student attempts 1.5 times the number of credit hours normally required to complete the program (180 attempted credits). In no case can the student exceed 1.5 times the standard time frame and receive the original academic credential for which he or she enrolled. Part time students should consult the Registrar for further information on the appropriate satisfactory progress standards.

Minimum Academic Achievement: Probation and Suspension

The table above defines two criteria (CGPA and per cent of attempted credits earned); both must be satisfied to avoid suspension following a semester on probation. Students who fail to maintain a GPA of 2.00 for any fall or spring semester will be placed on probation. The student may not register for more than 12 credits per semester while on probation. At the end of that probationary period, if the academic record is not in compliance with the standards of Satisfactory Progress, the student will be suspended for a minimum of one semester. The student is considered to be maintaining satisfactory progress while on probation. However, the student on probation may not hold office in student organizations nor participate in the student assistantship or resident assistant programs.

Transfer students shall have their status determined for purposes of satisfactory academic progress measurement by including the number of transfer credits accepted toward the degree in both attempted credits and earned credits.

Attention is called to the three sections immediately following, which specify rights of appeal and related regulations.

Mitigating Circumstances

The Provost may waive the academic progress standards for circumstances of poor health, family crisis or other significant occurrences outside the control of the student. These circumstances must be documented by the student to demonstrate that they have had an adverse impact on the student's performance. Students who receive a waiver of the standards of satisfactory progress will be on probation. All graduation requirements must be met.

Appeal of Satisfactory Progress Standard

Should a student disagree with the application of these satisfactory progress standards, he or she must first discuss the problem with the Dean. If still dissatisfied, the student may then appeal to the Academic Fairness Committee (see relevant section above).

Reinstatement as a Regular Student

Students who wish to be readmitted after being suspended due to failure to maintain the academic minimums must reapply for admission but not before a full fall or spring semester has passed from the time of suspension. The readmitted student must retake courses previously failed as soon as these courses are offered or demonstrate the skills applicable to the student's academic objectives. If readmitted, the student will be placed on probation for a period of one semester. At the end of the probation period, if the student's academic record is not in compliance with the standards of satisfactory progress, the readmitted student will be dismissed indefinitely.

Academic Integrity

Integrity is fundamental to the academic enterprise. It is violated by such acts as borrowing or purchasing assignments, including but not limited to term papers, essays, and reports; lending to or producing assignments for others (either for or without payment); using concealed notes or crib sheets during examinations; copying the work of others and submitting it as one's own; and otherwise misappropriating the knowledge of others. Such acts are both dishonest and deceptive: the work submitted to instructors is not the work of the person whose name it bears.

In consequence, the sources from which one derives one's ideas, statements, terms, and facts, including internet sources, must be fully and specifically acknowledged in the appropriate form. Failure to do so, intentionally or unintentionally, constitutes plagiarism.

Intentional Plagiarism

Submitting a paper written by someone else - a paper written by another student, a purchased paper, or a paper downloaded from the internet - can only be construed as intentional plagiarism. So, too, is writing a paper for someone else. The evidence is non-debatable.

Such instances will be reported to the Dean, who will require the student (or students) involved to sign the following statement: "Submitting a paper written by someone else as my own work (or writing a paper for someone else) is dishonest. I understand that repeating this offense will result in my suspension or permanent expulsion from AUR." The instance will also be entered on the student's record or, for a study-abroad student, reported to the home institution. A second instance may result in suspension or permanent expulsion from AUR.

The instructor will have the option of failing for the course: the student (or students) involved; averaging the zero grade of the plagiarized paper into the student's final grade; or averaging the zero grade of the plagiarized paper into the student's final grade and requiring another paper in its place.

The Improper Use of Sources

Using sources improperly or failing to acknowledge them fully and specifically may be construed as intentional or unintentional plagiarism. In such instances the instructor has latitude in determining the seriousness of the offense and the penalty: failing the student in the course; averaging the zero grade of the plagiarized paper into the student's final grade; averaging the zero grade of the plagiarized paper into the student's final grade and requiring another paper in its place; or accepting another paper in place of the plagiarized paper and dropping the zero grade. The student will also be required to attend the Writing Center for instruction in the proper use of sources.

Such instances will also be reported to the Dean and entered on the student's record or, for a study-abroad student, reported to the home institution. A second instance may result in suspension or permanent expulsion from AUR; a third instance will result in suspension or permanent expulsion from AUR.

Cheating on Examinations

Cheating on examinations in any form whatsoever — using concealed notes or crib sheets, getting help from another student, or giving help to another student — is a serious offense against academic honesty. The instructor has latitude in determining the grade on the examination and the grade for the course; the grade for the examination may be zero, the grade for the course F.

Such instances will be reported to the Dean, who will require the student (or students) involved to sign the following statement: "Cheating on an examination (or helping someone else to cheat on an examination) is dishonest. I understand that repeating this offense will result in my suspension or permanent expulsion from AUR." The instance will also be entered on the student's record or, for a study-abroad student, reported to the home institution. A second instance will result in suspension or permanent expulsion from AUR.

In all these instances students have the option of an appeal to the Academic Fairness Committee.

Classroom Behavior

It is the professor's ultimate responsibility to establish behavioral tone in the classroom. Guidelines on attendance, class participation, tardiness, etc. are to be outlined in the course syllabus or clearly stated by the professor in class. It is incumbent upon the student to honor these guidelines. While the professor should engage in a policy of positive reinforcement in his or her teaching practices, students must maintain a sense of decorum in the classroom conducive to a high standard of education. AUR does not permit, for example, the use of cell phones during class. All phones must be turned off before entering the room. Students are also encouraged to take care of all personal needs outside of the classroom. Leaving and re-entering class during lectures is not allowed. Disruptions of any sort for any reason other than an emergency are considered a serious violation of classroom decorum. Repeated disturbances of this kind may have academic and disciplinary consequences.

Study Abroad Opportunities for AUR Students

With the approval of the academic advisor, AUR degree students may apply to participate in study abroad programs offered at other institutions. Courses taken at other universities must be pre-approved by the academic advisor and a Transfer Credit Permit Form must be completed and submitted to the Registrar's Office. This also applies to summer and winter sessions.

Leave of Absence

AUR degree students in good financial standing may take a leave of absence by filing the appropriate request form with the Registrar. A leave of absence can be for no more than one year and enables automatic readmission under the same academic program. A student who fails to file a signed form and pay the required fee by the last day of Add/Drop and does not return by the start of classes, will be considered to have withdrawn from the University. A student must reapply for admission under the rules then applicable should he or she decide to return. A leave of absence deposit fee is required (€120). This fee will be credited toward the tuition payment once the student returns, otherwise it is non-refundable. Students are advised to contact their academic advisor to understand how a leave of absence will affect their degree progression, as well as AUR’s Financial Aid Director if they have financial aid.

Withdrawal from AUR

Students wishing to withdraw from the University should complete a Withdrawal Notification form available from the Registrar or notify the Registrar in writing.

Graduation

The formal commencement ceremony is held at the end of the spring semester for degree candidates who have completed all graduation requirements that academic year. Degree candidates who have yet to complete a maximum of eight credits in the following summer session may also apply to participate in the ceremony. There are three degree conferral dates per year (noted on transcripts and diplomas): in December, May and July or August. These three dates will constitute a graduating class. Candidates for degrees are to file a Graduation Request Form with the Office of the Registrar before beginning their final semester of study. Applications for graduation will only be approved by the academic advisor after the advisor has completed a graduation audit. Students must pay the graduation fee by April 30th in order to participate in the ceremony and/or receive their diploma. Students graduating in the fall semester must pay the graduation fee by November 30th. Students may not file an application for graduation during the summer sessions. Diplomas will be issued only to students in good financial standing with the University and only these students may participate in the commencement ceremony.

Graduation with Honors in the Major

On recommendation of Program Directors, students with at least 24 credits in the major may graduate with ‘Honors in the Major’. Students are eligible for Honors in the Major if their GPA in the major is not less than 3.50 and their cumulative GPA is not less than 2.70 at the time of graduation.

Transcript Requests

An official transcript will be sent to any institution or institutions designated by the student on a Transcript Request form, which is available from the Registrar (registrar@aur.edu) and from the AUR website www.aur.edu. Only requests bearing a student signature will be processed. Faxed requests are accepted. Students should allow three weeks for transcript processing. A fee will be charged for the service (see ‘Financial Information’ section of this catalog). Transcripts will not be issued to students who are not in good financial standing with the University.

Grievances

Students who have any grievances against the University regarding its institutional policies or the actions of any of its officers should in the first instance, submit a written statement of their grievances to the President of the University at:

Via Pietro Roselli, 4
00153 Rome, Italy
Tel: +39-06 5833 0919
Fax: +39-06 5833 0992
UNDERGRADUATE DEGREES

All degrees conferred by The American University of Rome are approved by the State of Delaware Program of Education. A degree can only be conferred after the degree candidate has satisfied all University and program requirements. Individual program requirements are set out in the relevant section of this publication. The conferred degrees and University graduation requirements are described in this catalog.

Bachelor’s Degrees

The Bachelor of Arts degrees and the Bachelor of Science degree require completion of at least 120 credit hours of coursework. At least 45 credit hours must be completed in residence at The American University of Rome and the final semester must be completed in residence. At least 50% of the credits used to satisfy the requirements for an academic major must be earned at The American University of Rome and at least fifteen credits must be in upper-level courses in the students major. All core courses in the major must be completed with no grades of D and no more than one grade of C-. A minimum cumulative or Career Total Grade Point Average (CGPA) of 2.0 is required for completion of all degrees. The bachelor’s degree programs offered by the University lead to conferment of the following degrees:

- Bachelor of Arts in Archeology and Classics with Cultural Heritage with Screen Media
- Bachelor of Arts in Art History with Art Business
- Bachelor of Arts in Communication with concentration in Intercultural Communications with concentration in Writing for the Media
- Bachelor of Arts in Film and Digital Media with concentration in Visual Media Production and Technology with concentration in Film and Digital Media Studies
- Bachelor of Arts in Fine Arts
- Bachelor of Arts in Interdisciplinary Studies
- Bachelor of Arts in International Relations and Global Politics
- Bachelor of Arts in Italian Studies
- Bachelor of Arts in Religious Studies
- Bachelor of Science in Business Administration with concentration in Finance with concentration in Management with concentration in Marketing with concentration in Social Marketing with concentration in Sports and Leisure with concentration in The Business of Art with concentration in Travel and Tourism

The specializations listed are optional additional areas of focus.

Associate Degrees

The Associate of Arts and the Associate of Applied Arts degrees each require completion of at least 60 credit hours of coursework, 30 of which must be taken in residence at The American University of Rome. The associate degree programs offered by the University lead to the conferral of the Associate of Arts in Liberal Studies and the Associate of Applied Arts in International Business. All core courses in the major must be completed with a C grade (2.00) or better. A minimum cumulative or Career Total Grade Point Average (CGPA) of 2.0 is required for completion of all degrees.

Multiple Degrees

A student who has completed an associate degree at The American University of Rome may continue on to complete a bachelor’s degree at The American University of Rome without affecting the standards of satisfactory progress. A student who has completed one bachelor’s degree may complete a second bachelor’s degree by accumulating a total of at least 150 semester hours and satisfying the major requirements of both degree programs. The additional 30 credits needed for a second AUR degree must be completed in residence at The American University of Rome.

General Education Requirements

All students must satisfy General Education requirements as outlined in the ‘General Education’ section of this catalog. These requirements may vary depending upon the student’s choice of major.

Declaring a Major

Students intending to pursue a bachelor’s degree at The American University of Rome must declare their major by their junior year. Change of major does not affect the standards of satisfactory progress.

Minors

Minors require 15 credit hours of coursework in the minor area. No more than six credit hours may be used from either the General Education program or the major simultaneously to satisfy the requirements of a minor. At least nine credit hours of the courses for a minor must be taken in residence at The American University of Rome. Students must have a grade point average of 2.00 or better in the courses for the minor.

Minors do not appear on diplomas but are recorded on transcripts. Minor requirements are listed in the section ‘Minors’ following the degree programs. The University currently offers minors in:

- Archeology

Course Sequences and Pre-requisites Requirements
Degree students must enroll in courses appropriate to their level of academic standing and their major and minor areas of study. Students must also satisfy the course pre-requisites indicated in this catalog.

GENERAL EDUCATION

Bachelor of Arts 38-44 credits
(Archeology and Classics, Art History, Communication, Film and Digital Media, Fine Arts, Inter-disciplinary Studies, International Relations and Global Politics, Italian Studies, Religious Studies)

Bachelor of Science 41 credits
(Business Administration)

Associate of Arts in Liberal Studies 38 credits

Associate of Applied Arts in International Business 26 credits

The General Education program comprises 38-44 credits for bachelor's degrees of which six may also be used towards a minor. Consistent with the mission of the University, the program develops important practical skills, addresses social issues of diversity, multiculturalism and ethics and draws on the rich resources of the city of Rome as a learning tool. Reflecting the mission of the institution, it strives to ensure that all students, regardless of major, will share a common dialogue which will prepare them to live and work across cultures. The goals of The American University of Rome's General Education program are:
1. to develop and strengthen basic skills which will prepare students upon graduation for a modern working environment and which will be adaptable to a rapidly evolving economy.
2. to cultivate an awareness of, and sensitivity to, cultural diversity and its importance in personal and professional decision making.
3. to achieve a broad knowledge base, drawn from multiple disciplines, typical of an American Liberal Arts Education
4. to use Rome as a classroom and as an invaluable learning resource.
5. to encourage active and responsible citizenship through knowledge of the forces shaping the actions of individuals and societies and through the development of critical thinking.

Note that a student's choice of General Education electives will be defined by the major. The General Education description relevant to the major and a student's academic advisor should be consulted for further details.

A. Foundational Skills

AUR requires that all students achieve excellence in the following skills: Writing, Quantitative and Scientific Reasoning, Italian Language, Information Technology, Information Literacy and Oral Presentation. These skills are considered essential to a successful career in any field and will provide a basic knowledge which can be adapted to changing working conditions and will enable the individual to respond effectively to the challenges that he or she will face in his or her professional and personal life.

There are eight elements to the Foundational Skills program. The first four (First Year Seminar, Writing, Quantitative and Scientific Reasoning and Italian Language competence) are satisfied by taking required courses that specifically address these skills. Information Technology, Information Literacy and Oral Presentation skills are embedded in courses which the student will be taking as part of other requirements and are tagged as developing these particular skills. The eighth element consists of courses required by the major.
1. First Year Seminar
   This course will provide a transition to university studies for first time in college students. It also satisfies three credits of the General Education Part B requirement.

2. Writing Skills
   All students must take two courses in English which will ensure that all students can write grammatically correct English and express themselves clearly in language suited to the target audience. These skills are further developed in the Junior and Senior years by writing requirements specific to each discipline.

3. Quantitative and Scientific Reasoning
   All students should be capable of performing basic mathematical operations and should have firsthand knowledge of the principles of scientific reasoning through laboratory experimentation. Students will be required to take one course in mathematics, and one science course.

4. Italian Language Competence
   In order to appreciate the opportunities that Rome has to offer it is considered essential that all students have a basic competence in the Italian language and culture. All students must demonstrate a proficiency in Italian equivalent to one year of study or demonstrate that this level of competency has already been reached by achieving an appropriate score on the Italian placement examination.

   Students may be exempted from all or part of the Italian language requirement by virtue of competency demonstrated through proficiency placement examinations. Such exemptions do not yield any credit unless the exemption is based on successful completion of college courses.

5. Information Technology Skills
   All students must be competent users of modern technology and commonly used software. Students will be introduced to these skills in the First Year Seminar and can pursue development of IT skills as they are embedded in courses in General Education and through the various disciplines.

6. Information Literacy
   The ability to access appropriate information sources efficiently and to assess the reliability of these sources is essential for a modern graduate. This skill will be introduced in the First Year Seminar and developed as an embedded skill in courses in General Education and through the various disciplines. Students will be required to demonstrate that they are competent independent users of information by taking two courses identified in the course descriptions and schedule of classes as satisfying this requirement. These courses may be taken as part of the General Education requirement or as part of the major and at least one must be upper level.

7. Oral Presentation Skills

Techniques for speaking in public and making effective presentations will be introduced in the First Year Seminar and developed as an embedded skill in courses in General Education and through the various disciplines. Students will give three oral presentations in courses identified in the course descriptions and schedule of classes as satisfying the Oral Presentation Skills requirement. These courses may be taken as part of the General Education requirement or as part of the major and at least one must be upper level. This requirement may be fully satisfied by taking COM 203 or BUCO 400 in place of the three courses required.

8. Additional Major-related Requirements
Courses in this section further develop particular foundational skills relevant to the individual majors.

B. The Individual in a Multicultural Society
All students will take three courses that analyze aspects of human affairs (social, political, ethical, philosophical, religious, cultural, economic, artistic) and treat them with comparative methods to highlight issues of diversity and cross-cultural encounters, including the individual student's response to multicultural contexts. Students must take courses in at least two different disciplines (course codes). Major core and elective courses taken to satisfy the major may not be used to satisfy this General Education requirement.

C. United States Government and Society
In keeping with our mission, students should deepen their understanding of the U.S. as a result of attending AUR. All students will be required to take one course which covers U.S. history and/or government.

D. Roma Caput Mundi
Rome has a unique position in Western culture and the modern city of Rome reflects more than 2,500 years of cultural development. The archeology and art of Rome are its greatest resources, but also present many challenges for a modern capital city that needs to maintain a vibrant economy. All students will take one course which brings them out of the classroom and into the city to examine the heritage, aesthetic beauty and/or contemporary life of Rome. Major core and elective courses taken to satisfy the major may not be used to satisfy this General Education requirement.

See each degree program for detailed General Education requirements.
BACHELOR OF ARTS IN ARCHAEOLOGY AND CLASSICS 120 credits

The Archaeology and Classics program offers the student the opportunity of combining the study of archaeology with classics in the unique context of the city of Rome. Drawing upon a wide range of high-level academic and practical skills the student will receive a thorough Liberal Arts education which also focuses upon preparation for the workplace. In addition to traditional courses in Ancient History and Classics, students have the possibility to excavate archaeological sites, explore the ethical concerns of preservation and restoration and study the management and marketing of heritage.

The traditional classroom environment is complemented by on-site classes visiting ancient monuments, museums, archaeological sites and specialized laboratories. Students are encouraged to participate in the archaeological fieldwork opportunities available in the program. These not only give a good foundation in archaeological techniques but also provide an opportunity to develop teamwork skills in a multicultural environment with international collaborators. The program is currently developing its online course offerings which will have a particular emphasis on artifact-based studies and advanced practical techniques.

The undergraduate degree is available in three formats. Students wishing to focus solely on the academic basis of the discipline can take a degree in Archaeology and Classics. Students who envisage a future career path in cultural heritage can take a degree in Archaeology and Classics with Cultural Heritage. It should be noted that this degree is not, by itself, a preparation for a career in this field, but is intended to provide the basis for application to an appropriate graduate program. Students who are considering working in field of popular archaeology can take a degree in Archaeology and Classics with Screen Media. A full range of Latin courses from beginners to advanced is available and a minor in Latin is open to all majors.

Program Goals
1. To provide a high quality education that will give students the necessary skills for a highly evolving field of employment
2. To develop cross cultural sensitivity with particular regard to the management of, and research into, the classical civilization, archaeology and cultural heritage of the Mediterranean world
3. To provide students with the educational background to find employment in the field of classics, archaeology or cultural heritage of the Mediterranean world.

Students graduating from this program will have the following core competencies:
- Excellent oral and written communication skills
- The ability to conduct research using appropriate information literacy and linguistic skills
- Knowledge of the historical background to the cultures of the Mediterranean and its impact upon contemporary social and political issues
- Ethical competency regarding the concerns of heritage restoration and preservation within a multi-cultural society
- Good practice and ethical management and marketing skills with regard to not-for-profit organizations

The Bachelor of Arts in Archeology and Classics requires successful completion of 120 credits made up of a 41-credit General Education requirement, a 39 to 45 credit major and 34 to 40 credits of free electives. Students must achieve a cumulative grade point average of no less than a 2.00 on a 4.00 scale with no grades of D and no more than one grade of C- in core courses required for the major (21 credits).

The major comprises core courses covering Archeology, Ancient History, and Ancient Art and electives which may focus on Cultural Heritage or Screen Media.

Unless otherwise stated in the course syllabus, students are responsible for all entrance fees to museums, art galleries and archaeological sites.

Unless otherwise stated, each course carries three credits.

GENERAL EDUCATION REQUIREMENTS 41 credits

For further information on General Education credit requirements see ‘General Education’ section of this catalog. Courses taken to satisfy General Education requirements may not be used to satisfy the major. Up to six credits can be used towards satisfying a minor.

A. Foundational Skills 26 credits
1. First Year Seminar
   Required course: FYS 101 First Year Seminar
   This course satisfies 3 credits of the Part B, The Individual in a Multicultural Society, requirement.

2. Writing Skills
   Required courses:
   ENG 101 Writing Workshop I
   ENG 102 Writing Workshop II

3. Quantitative and Scientific Reasoning
   Required course:
   MTH 104 Mathematics for the Liberal Arts
   Plus one of the following Science courses:
   ASTR 100 General Astronomy
   BIO 203 Philosophy and Mechanisms of Evolution
   ENV 103 Environmental Science
   PHYS 102 Explorations in Physics

4. Italian Language Competence
   Required courses:
   ITL 101 Elementary Italian I (4 credits)
   ITL 102 Elementary Italian II (4 credits)
   or

5. Information Technology Skills
   All students must be competent users of modern technology and commonly used software. Students will be introduced to these skills in the First Year Seminar and can pursue development of IT skills as they are embedded in courses in General Education and through the various disciplines.

6. Information Literacy
   The ability to access appropriate electronic information sources efficiently and to assess the reliability of these sources is essential for a modern graduate. This skill will be introduced in the First Year Seminar and developed as an embedded skill in courses in General Education and through the various disciplines. Students will be required to demonstrate that they are competent independent users of information by taking two courses identified in the course descriptions and schedule of classes as satisfying this requirement. These courses may be taken as part of the General Education requirement or as part of the major and at least one must be upper level. For a list of all the courses, see the ‘Information Literacy’ section under ‘General Education’.

7. Oral Presentation Skills
Techniques for speaking in public and making effective presentations will be introduced in the First Year Seminar and developed as an embedded skill in courses in General Education and through the various disciplines. Students will give three oral presentations in courses identified in the course descriptions and schedule of classes as satisfying the Oral Presentation Skills requirement. These courses may be taken as part of the General Education requirement or as part of the major and at least one must be upper level. This requirement may be fully satisfied by taking COM 203 or BUCCO 400, in place of the three courses required. For a list of all the courses, see the ‘Oral presentation’ section under ‘General Education’.

Archeology and Classics Electives
18-24 credits

Students majoring in Archeology and Classics may choose their major electives in one of the following three ways:

- By choosing 18 credits of Archeology and Classics electives; or
- By choosing 24 credits of Archeology and Classics electives of which 12 credits focus on Cultural Heritage as described below; or
- By choosing 24 credits of Archeology and Classics electives of which 12 credits focus on Screen Media as described below.

Archeology and Classics
18 credits

Students choosing to fashion their own program of major electives may take any 18 credits of Archeology and Classics courses (including languages). Up to six credits can be used for courses in Humanities, Anthropology, Heritage or Screen Media with the approval of the academic advisor. It is strongly recommended that all students take the Archeology Practicum course (ARC 293). At least one three-credit course other than the Capstone Experience must be at the 400 level. The Archeology Practicum (ARC 293) may be taken twice for credit.

Archeology and Classics with Cultural Heritage
24 credits

Archeology and Classics Electives

Students take any 12 credits of Archeology or Classics courses (including languages). It is strongly recommended that all students take the Archeology Practicum course. At least one three-credit course other than the Capstone Experience must be at the 400 level.

The Bachelor of Arts in Art History requires successful completion of 120 credits made up of a 44-credit General Education requirement, a 37 to 40 credit major and 37 to 40 credits of free electives. Students must achieve a cumulative grade point average of no less than a 2.00 on a 4.00 scale with no grades of D and no more than one grade of C- in core courses required for the major (19 credits).

Students graduating with a degree in Art History are prepared to embark on a variety of careers directly or indirectly connected with art and architecture, including museum and gallery work, art sales, historic property sales and management, publishing, fashion and design industries, high school teaching, and not-for-profit organizations. They may also pursue higher degrees that prepare them for the burgeoning fields of art law and art crime, as well as arts management, college and university teaching and research, museum curatorship, and public administration.

Course levels entail the following distinctions:

- 100-level courses are introductory and cover the major epochs of European art history and the contemporary global era
- 200-level courses require some prior knowledge of art historical terminology and method
- 300-level courses require some prior knowledge of the subject, period, or theme of the course; they require some independent research and oral and written presentations
- 400-level courses conduct in-depth analyses of art historical problems or topics and require independent research at an advanced level

Unless otherwise stated, each course carries three credits.
GENERAL EDUCATION REQUIREMENTS

44 credits

For further information on General Education credit requirements see ‘General Education’ section of this catalog. Courses taken to satisfy General Education requirements may not be used to satisfy the major. Up to six credits can be used towards satisfying a minor.

Graduates of the Bachelor of Arts in Film and Digital Media will have the ability to:

- Articulate a wide range of concepts and ideas relating to film and digital media through well-structured written compositions demonstrating the capabilities to express, inform, analyze, evaluate, persuade, conduct research and use primary and secondary sources.
- Translate their imaginative ideas into words, film and other digital media in work which demonstrates a well-developed degree of control over language, narrative technique and form.
- Apply skills of analysis, synthesis and evaluation to elucidate the purposes of film and digital media, theories and skills associated with film and digital media studies, the messages of film and digital media content, and the reasoning behind content choices (film and digital media literacy).
- Demonstrate high levels of competence in using computer technology as the main component of Digital Media (web-related software, including training in web design, graphic design and interaction design, as well as non-linear editing software for the completion of film and digital media projects) and in using video, sound recording, lighting, and postproduction equipment to produce their own media projects (e.g., digital films, TV commercials, experimental films, music videos, etc.) so that they are able to succeed in entry-level positions or begin graduate studies.
- Identify information needs, access and evaluate information from a variety of sources and use information ethically and legally to accomplish specific purposes within the context of film and digital media research.
- Demonstrate a sophisticated understanding of the power of film and digital media to persuade and inform audiences, and to foster a sense of social responsibility, professionalism, ethics and civic engagement.

The Bachelor of Arts in Film and Digital Media requires successful completion of 120 credits made up of a 38-credit General Education requirement, a 42-credit major and 40 credits of free electives. Students must achieve a cumulative grade point average of no less than a 2.00 on a 4.00 scale with no grades of D and no more than one grade of C- in core courses required for the major (24 credits).

Unless otherwise stated, each course carries three credits.
GENERAL EDUCATION REQUIREMENTS

For further information on General Education credit requirements see ‘General Education’ section of this catalog. Courses taken to satisfy General Education requirements may not be used to satisfy the major. Up to six credits can be used towards satisfying a minor.

MINORS

The following minors are available to students pursuing any of the University’s other bachelor’s degree programs:

Minor in Film and Digital Media

For further information please see ‘Minors’ section of this catalog.
The program in Fine Arts combines training in traditional artistic media and a critical approach to art making typical of American curricula with an intense immersion in the city that has inspired artists for centuries: Rome. Courses at all levels on-site and in the studio emphasize developing personal capacity for visual expression, creative innovation, critical observation and analysis, and technical ability, taking inspiration from the vibrant contemporary art scene and historical monuments in Rome and throughout Europe. Students develop skills to create works of art in various media, to defend their works in writing and orally, to discuss their works within the context of contemporary art making, and to create works of art appropriate to their own artistic vision. Fine Art Programs aim to prepare students to progress to advanced degrees and/or positions in fields related to the Fine Arts.

The curriculum for the Bachelor of Arts in Fine Arts instills in its students the capacity to:
• Demonstrate basic skills to create works of art in at least three different media and show advanced skills and knowledge to create works of art in at least one medium and intermediate skills and knowledge of at least one other medium — demonstrating safe working habits and a general understanding of materials and process in the visual arts.
• Defend their portfolio work both orally and in written statement and create original objects of art and articulate the nature of art and art making
• Interpret and create written or spoken dialogue about diverse works of art and convey thoughts and ideas in relation to an art historical timeline, apply contemporary concepts in art to their own work and articulate and discuss art within their own culture and the art of other cultures.
• Demonstrate a capacity for visual expression and creative innovation and a more personalized visual vocabulary, thus presenting and applying their skill in studio practice in the creation of a cohesive body of work on a level appropriate to entry into both graduate schools and art-related professions.
• Articulate about their own work, the work of others, and the condition of art in a contemporary, global, and multi-cultural society.

Students have the opportunity to gain expertise in the making of art by completing specific core courses, selecting a specific concentration of either painting or printmaking. In addition students can simultaneously gain an extension beyond a standard studio based arts degree and gain also a complementary background in the areas of Communications, Conservation, Cultural Heritage and Gallery Management.

The aim of the curriculum is to give students a well rounded preparation in the Fine Arts to ensure that they are versatile and prepared for the competitive job market. In particular, a major in Fine Arts would also serve as a preparation for students wanting to enter the field of study relating to restoration and/or conservation. The major will enable students to develop a large portfolio of work which, with the final thesis exhibition, will enable them to have a body of work to present for future MFA or related Masters, and career possibilities including curating, arts administration, art therapy, artist assistant and gallery work.

The Bachelor of Arts in Fine Arts requires a successful completion of 120 credits made up of a 38-credit General Education requirement, a 36-credit major and 46 credits of free electives. Students must achieve a cumulative grade point average of no less than a 2.00 on a 4.00 scale with no grades of D and no more than one grade of C- in core courses required for the major (21 credits).

Unless otherwise stated, each course carries three credits.

BACHELOR OF ARTS IN INTERDISCIPLINARY STUDIES 120 credits

The curriculum for the Bachelor of Arts in Interdisciplinary Studies leaves ample room for personal variation so that students, in conjunction with their academic advisor, can tailor their studies to their own particular interests. This program is recommended for students whose interests do not fall under a single conventional academic heading.

Interdisciplinary studies will develop in each student the ability to:
• Make meaningful and effective connections across disciplines.
• Identify and incorporate discussions of cultural, political, artistic and religious diversity.
• Critically analyze and evaluate alternative points of view.

The Bachelor of Arts in Interdisciplinary Studies requires successful completion of 120 credits made up of a 38-credit General Education requirement, a 36-credit major and 46 credits of free electives. Students must achieve a cumulative grade point average of no less than a 2.00 on a 4.00 scale with no grades of D and no more than one grade of C- in core courses required for the major (36 credits in Arts and Sciences electives).

Unless otherwise stated, each course carries three credits.

INTERDISCIPLINARY STUDIES MAJOR REQUIREMENTS 36 credits

Arts and Sciences electives (30 credits must be at the upper-level)

Individual programs of study will be designed for each candidate for this major, in consultation with the academic advisor for Interdisciplinary Studies. The individual program of study must have a clearly defined focus.

FREE ELECTIVES 46 credits

Free electives can be used towards satisfying a minor, to supplement a major or to explore other academic areas.
The Bachelor of Arts in International Relations and Global Politics provides the student with theoretical and practical skills required to become the next generation of leaders in different fields: policy, academia, think tanks, media, governmental or non-governmental organizations, multinational corporations.

The Program includes core courses in the discipline coupled with area studies (e.g. Mediterranean and Middle East studies; Asia studies), combining local, national and global politics. Students will be taking courses such as: International Relations, International Political Economy, Globalization, International Security, Ethics, Migration and Human Rights, as well as introductory political science courses (e.g. History, Sociology, Anthropology and Psychology). Special language courses are also offered, i.e. Arabic, Mandarin and Russian.

Students have the possibility to participate to Field study trips around Italy, Europe and beyond in order to bridge the theoretical learning with real world experience. The Fall-field study trips usually focus on cities hosting major International Institutions (e.g. Brussels, Geneva, Vienna and Paris); Spring-field study trips focus on major issues (e.g. security, conflict, separatism –destinations being: Kosovo; Basque country; Montenegro, Catalonia). The J-term field study trips went to Ghana for several years and now to Israel/Palestine.

The Model UN is a practical exercise that follows a theoretical preparation offered within the International Relations Program. The Model UN is designed to develop: critical thinking, public speaking and intercultural negotiation skills in order to build consensus within international politics and international organizations.

Internship possibilities in Rome at International Organizations (e.g. Food and Agricultural Organization; World Food Program; International Fund for Agricultural Development; NATO Defense College) represent a great opportunity students can exploit during or after their Bachelor degree in International Relations and Global Politics at AUR.

In addition to the requisite classroom time, students pursuing an AUR degree in International Relations and Global Politics are given the opportunity to supplement class lectures with International Conferences which address issues of current topical interest and give students opportunities to meet, listen to and question those who develop and implement international relations policy. Monthly Special guest seminars (e.g. ambassadors; politicians; academics) will complement course lectures and offer food for thought.

After having completed AUR’s program in International Relations and Global Politics, students will:

- Possess a framework of knowledge in the fields of politics, history, economics international relations and relevant social sciences.
- Possess the knowledge of the theory and the analytical ability to put it into comparative and ethical context.
- Possess methodological skills relevant to data-gathering and communication of findings.
- Be prepared for pursuing postgraduate studies or for a career in either: International Governmental Organizations, International Non-governmental Organizations, public administration and associated institutions for research and commentary on the subject.
- Be able to use the Roman, Italian and multicultural learning experience at AUR in order to enhance their ability to apply the skills in other contexts.

The Bachelor of Arts in International Relations and Global Politics requires successful completion of 120 credits made up of a 41-credit General Education requirement, a 36-credit major and 44 credits of free electives. Students must achieve a cumulative grade point average of no less than 2.00 on a 4.00 scale, and earn at least a C grade (2.00) in every core course in the major (21 credits).

Unless otherwise stated, each course carries three credits.
GENERAL EDUCATION REQUIREMENTS

For further information on General Education credit requirements see ‘General Education’ section of this catalog. Courses taken to satisfy General Education requirements may not be used to satisfy the major. Up to six credits can be used towards satisfying a minor.

The Italian Studies program has the following educational goals:

- To educate students to read, write and speak Italian with proficiency.
- To offer knowledge of the literary, cultural and social history of Italy.
- To endow students with skills in research, analysis, and critical thinking.
- To provide students with tools to experience directly, interact with, and appreciate the Italian culture.
- To prepare students to operate within today’s global world with the necessary intercultural skills.
- To prepare students for successful careers in administrative, professional or business positions in Italy and in the US or for graduate training in the U.S. or Italy.

The Bachelor of Arts in Italian Studies requires successful completion of 120 credits made up of a 41-credit General Education requirement, a 36-credit major and 43 credits of free electives. Students must achieve a cumulative grade point average of no less than a 2.00 on a 4.00 scale with no grades of D and no more than one grade of C- in core courses required for the major (24 credits).

Unless otherwise stated, each course carries three credits.

For further information please see ‘Minors’ section of this catalog.
All religious traditions are impressively complex and multifaceted. The program in Religious Studies combines an historical approach to the varied religious traditions that figure in the development of human culture, with particular emphasis on the civilizations and cultures of that border upon the Mediterranean. Religious Studies is therefore conceived as a multidisciplinary enterprise, whose subject matter is best understood through the employment of a variety of approaches: artistic, historical, sociological, anthropological, and ethical. Students may therefore combine courses into a variety of diverse strands and focus upon Christianity, World Religions, Religion and Philosophy/Ethics/Politics or any combination thereof. Taking advantage of AUR's location in the heart of Rome, a great deal of the teaching is conducted on-site. The emphasis given by the program to the cultural interchange of the world religions prepares students to recognize similar mechanisms in the modern world and the need for intercultural understanding and mutual respect.

Program Objectives

• To provide a high quality education that will give students the necessary skills for employment in an increasingly competitive workplace.
• To develop an appreciation of the diversity of religious outlook within a cultural and historical context.
• To foster cross-cultural and intercultural understanding and mutual respect.

Upon completion of the BA in Religious Studies students will have the following core competencies:

• Excellent oral and written communication skills.
• The ability to articulate a wide range of concepts and ideas relating to the study of Religion through well-structured written compositions and oral presentations.
• Skills of research, analysis, synthesis and evaluation to elucidate the purposes of Religion; religious theory; and the messages of religious content.
• A sophisticated understanding of the power of religion to persuade and inform, and to foster a sense of social responsibility, ethics and civic engagement.

The Bachelor of Religious Studies requires successful completion of 120 credits made up of a 41-credit General Education requirement, a 37-credit major and 42 credits of free electives. Students must achieve a cumulative grade point average of no less than a 2.00 on a 4.00 scale with no grades of D and no more than one grade of C- in core courses required for the major (19 credits).

Unless otherwise stated, each course carries three credits.
7. Oral Presentation Skills
Techniques for speaking in public and making effective presentations will be introduced in the First Year Seminar and developed as an embedded skill in courses in General Education and through the various disciplines. Students will give three oral presentations in courses identified in the course descriptions and schedule of classes as satisfying the Oral Presentation Skills requirement. These courses may be taken as part of the General Education requirement or as part of the major and at least one must be upper level. This requirement may be fully satisfied by taking COM 203 or BU CO 400, in place of the three courses required. For a list of all the courses, see the 'Oral Presentation' section under 'General Education'.

The Bachelor of Science in Business Administration (BSBA) curriculum provides a broad, professional foundation in all functional areas of business. Students follow a structured, organic core curriculum that introduces them to the various functions (marketing, finance, operations, accounting) of business, provides them with the quantitative tools (algebra, statistics, computer science, economics, decision science) necessary to understand and interpret data, and introduces them to prevailing management theories and paradigms as well as issues related to legal and ethical concerns in the business arena. Upper level courses incorporate case analyses, group projects and creative problem solving. All students take the capstone course, Strategic Management, in their last spring semester, which is a seminar-style, case-based application of the tools and concepts acquired in the first three years of study. At the same time they research and write their thesis, a strategic audit of a publicly traded transnational firm of their choice.

The program has an international focus with many opportunities for students to explore the social and cultural ramifications of operating in the global economy. The nature of the student body complements the international flavor of the program. AUR Business students represent more than 30 different countries. The program promotes a work ethic that prepares students for working in diverse multi-cultural environments. Interdisciplinary learning opportunities allow students to understand how different world views can affect the functioning of business. The BSBA program will enable students to:

• Select and apply appropriate quantitative and qualitative methodologies to analyze problems in a business context.
• Develop creative and innovative solutions to real-world problems.
• Develop leadership and organizational skills, working in teams toward common objectives.
• Apply a variety of communication methods that are used in the business world in order to articulate and resolve business problems.
• Situate business problems and appropriate solutions within their cultural and ethical contexts.

Students armed with the AUR Business degree are ready to begin their careers in business in the fields of marketing, finance, manufacturing, sales, advertising and management, and should be comfortable working in either American or international settings. The degree also provides a firm foundation for MBA graduate study.

The Bachelor of Science in Business Administration requires successful completion of 120 credits made up of a 41-credit General Education requirement, a 48-51 credit major and 28-31 credits of free electives. Students must achieve a cumulative grade point average of no less than a 2.00 on a 4.00 scale with no grades of D and no more than one grade of C- in core courses required for the major (36 credits).

Unless otherwise stated, each course carries three credits.

GENERAL EDUCATION REQUIREMENTS

For further information on General Education credit requirements see ‘General Education’ section of this catalog. Courses taken to satisfy General Education requirements may not be used to satisfy the major. Up to six credits can be used towards satisfying a minor.

MINOR IN THE ITALIAN BUSINESS ENVIRONMENT

The minor in the Italian Business Environment is available to all students pursuing any of the University's bachelor's degrees other than Business Administration.

Required courses:
- BUS 300  Introduction to International Business
- ECO 304  The Italian Economy
- ITL 307  Italian for Business
- MKT 200  Principles of Marketing
  or
- MGT 201  Principles of Management

Plus one of the following courses:
- AHMG 320  Art Gallery Management
- BUIA 308  International Economic Organizations
- BUS 302  International Business Law
- BUS 450  International Business Internship
- MGT 301  Organizational Behavior in a Global Context
- MKT 302  Marketing for Non-Profit Organizations
- MKT 303  Special Topics in Marketing and Organizational Communication in Italy
- MKT 400  Global Marketing

MINOR IN TRAVEL AND TOURISM

The minor in Travel and Tourism is available to all students pursuing any of the University's bachelor's degrees other than Business Administration.

Required courses:
- MKT 200  Principles of Marketing or
- MGT 201  Principles of Management
- MKT 311  Marketing for Travel, Tourism and Leisure

Plus three of the following courses:
- ARMG 315  Management of Cultural Heritage
- BUS 300  Introduction to International Business
- COEN 322  Travel Writing
- COMK 325  Spectacle and Heritage in Rome
- BUS 450  International Business Internship (ideally with a travel and tourism-related sector)
- IS 220  Travel to/through Italy: Representations of Contacts Between Cultures
- MGMK 312  Event Planning, Marketing and Management
- MGT 311  Entrepreneurship: Creating, Funding and Managing New Ventures
- MKT 302  Marketing for Non-Profit Organizations
- MKT 400  Global Marketing (with final project focused on a TandT firm)
The course will invite a systematic questioning of taken-for-granted assumptions concerning humanity and their behavior. 3 credit hours. This course satisfies the oral presentation requirement.

ANT 120 – THE MODERN TRIBES OF ROME
This course will introduce the students to the city of Rome from an anthropological perspective. Exploring the location of the AUR, Rome will be approached not only as a historical monument but also as a particularly interesting human laboratory of today’s multicultural society. As an exercise in urban anthropology, this implies to study Rome as a multi-faceted reality, consisting of multiple groups of people definable through different ethnic, religious and socio-economic criteria. The course will follow a twofold methodology, combining class discussions and on-site visits. On site visits will introduce the students to alternative settings of Rome through first-hand experience, including meetings with representatives of religious and ethnic minority groups. 3 credit hours.

ANT 283 – SPECIAL TOPICS: THE BLACK DEATH IN ITALY
This course is designed to give students the opportunity to study the Black Death by experiencing first-hand where it occurred, and to see the consequences of a pandemic that killed as much as one half the population of Italy and Europe in less than four years! Students will study descriptions of the Black Death as recorded in eyewitness accounts, and will examine its biological, social, economic, political, and cultural consequences through the eyes of modern scholars. By studying what the Black Death was, where it occurred, and why it occurred where it did, students gain an understanding of how pandemics have, and continue, to shape the world in which we live. From this geographical perspective students will study how the Black Death provides an important analog to the spread, and potential consequences, of epidemic and emerging diseases in the modern world.

This is a Blended Course: Six online sessions will be held during the last two weeks of June prior to the classroom and onsite sessions held at AUR in Rome. These sessions will provide background material for the learning activities in Rome and will reduce the actual class meeting time during July. The online sessions will be open participation meaning that required assignments and posts can be submitted at any time during the day of the assignment. Participation in the online component of the course is required. 3 credit hours.

ANT 300 – THE MEDITERRANEAN WORLD
This course addresses recent cultural, social and political changes in the Mediterranean area, but from a historical perspective. The course will combine theoretical discussions with case studies from the three main regions of the Mediterranean area: the Middle East, North Africa, and Southern Europe. While stressing a comparative perspective, regional variations will be addressed throughout the course. The approach is multi-disciplinary, combining anthropology, sociology, history and political science. The first part of the course will address mainly cultural themes, while the second part of the course will address mainly political themes. 3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: Junior or Senior standing. This course satisfies the oral presentation requirement.

ARABIC

ARAB 101 – ELEMENTARY ARABIC I
This course is intended as an introduction to Arabic Language. Beginners will start speaking, making the first steps in listening comprehension and being familiar with basic principles in gram-
ARAB 102 – ELEMENTARY ARABIC II
This course is a second semester course for students who have already been introduced to the Arabic script and basic grammatical structure, for at least 40 class hours. The course teaches Standard Arabic, which makes understanding various dialects easier with time and practice. It adopts a multi-level methodology that emphasizes the four comprehensive skills required for learning a foreign language: reading, writing, listening and speaking. Each class session covers basic grammatical, structural and communicative aspects of the language (further types of verb categories, longer sentence structures, further roles of prepositions, short texts of particular themes and situations, etc.).

3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: ARAB 101 or placement test.

ARCHEOLOGY

AHAR 204 – ANCIENT NORTH AFRICA: THE ARCHEOLOGY AND ART HISTORY OF THE OTHER SIDE OF THE MEDITERRANEAN
This course discusses the material remains of North Africa from Morocco to Libya and from the foundation of Carthage around 800 BC until the conquest of the same city by the Arabs in 698 CE. Special attention will be paid to the cultural interactions of native and foreign populations that shaped its identity: Numidians, Phoenicians, Romans, Berbers, Vandals, Byzantines and Arabs. Major themes that will be treated are: religion, economy, urban culture, art and architecture and the administration of the territory.

3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: A lower-level Archeology or Art History or Classics course or permission of the instructor.

AHAR 207 – CONSERVATION AND RESTORATION: ETHICS AND PRINCIPLES
This introductory course surveys the history of conservation and restoration, and addresses current ethical dilemmas faced by curators, art historians, scientists, and archeologists. Students will debate the various issues involved in the care of cultural heritage with reference to professional organizations, special interest groups, cultural identity and economic development. Present and past use of an artifact, whether as a functional object, as a cultural symbol, as an historical record, and the nature of object. Particular reference will be made to the art and archeology of Rome.

3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: A lower-level Archeology or Art History or Classics course or permission of the instructor.

AHAR 214 – EGYPTIAN ART AND ARCHEOLOGY
This course is an introduction to the history and civilization of Egypt. The aim of the course is to provide a broad overview of Egyptian society and culture as revealed through art and archeology. The first half of the course will follow a chronological path covering the emergence and decline of Egyptian civilization. After the midterm exam the classes will explore themes. The course will also cover the re-discovery of Egypt by the west and the dilemmas faced by modern Egypt in caring for this remarkable heritage.

3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: Sophomore standing or permission of the instructor.

AHAR 250 – INTRODUCTION TO ART AND ANTIQUITIES CRIME
This course is an introduction to the history of art and antiquity crime and its impact upon contemporary society. It will also examine how art can be protected and recovered including techniques of provenance research. Art crime has evolved from a relatively innocuous crime of passion carried out by individuals (often for ideological as much as financial reasons) into the third highest-grossing criminal industry in the world. The course will include a practical class on-site in assessing security risk and devising a security plan.

AHAR 255 – BERLIN MUSEUMS AND CULTURAL DILEMMA
Berlin is re-emerging as a cultural capital of Europe, and its museums showcase that. This excursion course to Berlin will review its history of collecting art and antiquities, examine the buildings designed to house them, and analyze the cultural conditions inflected by their changing political contexts, from the 18th century to the present. Conflicting issues of a past of cultural nationalism and imperialism and a present driven by historical conscience and revisionism will be discussed on a case by case basis. We will exercise analytical skills relevant to visual culture within complex historical contexts, with comparative material drawn from our experience of Rome and its museums. This course is run over a three-day weekend excursion.

AHAR 300 – ROMAN IMPERIAL ART AND ARCHITECTURE
Imperial Roman Art and Architecture is a study of ancient Roman architecture, sculpture, painting and minor arts from 27 BC to AD 193. The focus is on the city of Rome and the ancient capital's imperial dominion in the peninsula and Mediterranean. The approach to the material is technical, stylistic and iconographical levels understood within the historical context. On-site visits in Rome alternate with class lectures and a possible excursion outside Rome. The goals are to create a thorough preparation for critical analysis of artifacts and source material, to develop research techniques and skills of interpretation of ancient art and architecture.

3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: A 100-level Art History course. This course satisfies the information literacy and oral presentation requirements.

AHAR 304 – CONSERVING ROME'S MONUMENTS
This is an upper-level course focusing on the current techniques and controversies surrounding the preservation of ancient monuments, historic buildings and stone sculpture. The course will comprise a classroom element where the underlying theories are discussed and an on site element reviewing case studies in the framework of the historical development of conservation and preservation.

3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: A lower-level Archeology or Art History course including aspects of architecture or AHAR 207 or permission of the instructor. This course satisfies the information literacy and oral presentation requirements. Students are responsible for all entry fees.

AHAR 307 – LATE ANTIQUE AND BYZANTINE ART
This course explores the art of Rome in transition from the late Imperial age into the early Christian, from the 3rd to the 6th centuries. Attention is also paid to the developments across the Mediterranean region and in Constantinople, to the relationship to Late Antique art and to the formation of Christian iconography. Classes are held on-site and in the classroom with a possible excursion outside Rome. The course goals are to grasp the nature of art in periods of transition and to hone skills of critical analysis.

3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: A 100-level Art History course. An additional fee may be collected in the event of a required excursion.
AHAR 314 – ETRUSCAN ART AND ARCHAEOLOGY
This is an upper level course studying the art and archaeology of the Etruscans from their reemergence at the beginning of the first millennium BCE until their absorption by the Romans. The course will take full advantage of the rich museum collections of Etruscan material in Rome and will include a field trip to the sites of Cerveteri and Tarquinia. The course will look at the origins of the Etruscans, their art and material culture, their interactions with other groups and their eventual absorption by the Romans.
3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: A previous course in classics, classical studies, ancient art history or archeology or permission of the instructor.

ANAR 201 – EARLY MAN IN EUROPE
This is an introductory course to the study of early man in Europe from the Lower Paleolithic to the Neolithic. It covers the period when man lived exclusively as a hunter-gatherer, and the transition to farming. The impact of the changing climatic and environmental conditions will be explored and the impact on social systems of the changing economic base.
3 credit hours. This course satisfies the information literacy and oral presentation requirements.

ARC 101 – ROMAN ARCHAEOLOGY ON-SITE
This is an introductory on-site course exploring the archeological sites and ancient monuments of Rome. The course will begin with the evidence for the earliest settlement in Rome and continue through the development of the Republic, the empire and the transition to early Christian Rome. The course will focus on placing the archeological and architectural evidence in its topographical context. 3 credit hours. This course satisfies the oral presentation requirement.

ARC 103 – ANCIENT ROMAN TECHNOLOGY
This is an introductory on-site class on ancient technology. The course will alternate classroom sessions with on-site visits. Students will be introduced to the principles of construction and water technology and will visit examples in and around Rome. After a general introduction to ancient technology, monuments related to water will be visited and discussed; these include aqueducts and sewers, bath buildings and fountains, ports and ships. Technology serving the navy and the army will follow: weapons and armor, walls and streets. Construction techniques lead to the architectural remains: quarries, stone and brick work, opus caementicum. Ceramics and metal production can be studied in several museums by means of pottery and bronze artifacts. Theatres and amphitheaters had special technical installations for entertainment, and also during antiquity mechanical art (automata) was much appreciated. The course will also analyze the impact of Roman technology on the economy and social systems.
3 credit hours.

ARC 104 – ARCHAEOLOGICAL TECHNIQUES
This course in archaeological techniques introduces students to the principles of survey, excavation, post-excision analysis, scientific testing and heritage through a mixture of on-site visits, classroom lectures, practical classes and fieldwork. The course will begin with a consideration of the ‘idea’ of the past and examine the historical development of archaeology. The course will then explore the key fieldwork techniques used to survey, excavate and record sites and monuments before considering how scientific techniques can date and analyze artifacts and environmental evidence. Contemporary issues of heritage practice, with particular reference to Rome, will be addressed in conjunction with a group project. The course will make use of ongoing excavation and research in Rome and Italy, and it is possible that this will necessitate some weekend fieldwork.
3 credit hours. This course satisfies the oral presentation requirement.

ARC 105 – ROME: THE ANCIENT CITY
This is an introductory course exploring the ancient city of Rome. The first part will be taught on-line and give an overview on Roman history and civilization. A basic knowledge of ancient Roman history, of the terminology used in art history, and of archaeological methods has to be acquired by the students through their pre-arrival studies. The stay in Rome is mostly dedicated to the visit of important archaeological sites and monuments. A post-departure assignment will close the course.
3 credit hours.

ARC 200 – BODIES AND BURIALS
This course explores all aspects of funerary archaeology from the symbolism of graves and grave goods to the new technological and forensic advances in burial archaeology that allow archaeologists to extract scientific data from ancient remains. The course will focus in particular on the burials of the Etruscans and the Romans and will include field trips to visit archeological sites, museums and archeological laboratories.
Note: Coursework will require looking at images of burials and may involve handling skeletons. Students who are uncomfortable with either or both of these activities are advised not to register for this course.
3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: Sophomore standing or permission of the instructor. This course satisfies the information literacy and oral presentation requirements.

ARC 206 – ARCHAEOLOGY OF GREECE
This is a survey course of the archeology of Greece covering the period from the Greek Bronze Age to the absorption of Greece into the Roman Empire. It will cover the material within a chronological framework and class room lectures will be supplemented by a visit to the Greek collection at the Vatican Museums. Particular attention will be paid to issues of cultural transmission and the wider influence Greece had on surrounding communities. The course will finish with an examination of the role of archeology in the formation of modern Greece and issues within contemporary Greek heritage.
3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: Sophomore standing or permission of the instructor.

ARC 215 – GREAT KINGDOMS OF THE ANCIENT NEAR EAST
This course will give an introduction to the kingdoms of the Ancient Near East which were crucial to the development of the Old World. Basic knowledge about history, topography and society is the starting point for the understanding of each period progressing into explorations of typical elements such as the development of cities with their palaces, temples and ziqqurati, cylinder seals, cuneiform writing and relief sculpture. Points of special interest are the origins of highly developed early civilizations, Mesopotamia as an area of permanent exchange and conflict, the influences on the West, and Near Eastern monuments as part of the world's cultural heritage.
3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: Sophomore standing or permission of the instructor.

ARC 252 – CARTHAGE
This one credit course is based around a weekend visit to ancient Carthage. The city was founded by the Phoenicians and developed a great trading Empire that rivalled Rome. After a three wars Rome destroyed Carthage 146 BC and rebuilt its own city on the ruins. The modern city of Tunis is built over many of the ancient ruins. A classroom lecture in the week preceding the visit will give students the background to the sites we will see. The trip will look at both the Punic (Phoenician) and Roman remains. During the week following our return to Rome there will a classroom lecture to follow up our site visits and a short exam.
1 credit. Pre-requisites: Sophomore standing or permission of the instructor. Students will pay a fee to cover the cost of the field-study trip.
ARC 253 – POTTERY AND ARCHEOLOGY
This is an introductory one credit course on analyzing pottery assemblages from archaeological sites. The course will take place over one weekend. Students will be introduced in the classroom to the methodology of studying ceramics from archaeological sites and the main forms of fine and coarse ware found on Roman sites around the Mediterranean. This will be followed by a practical session on fine wares where students will gain experience of sorting and recording archaeological material and a visit to Crypta Balbi museum to see their very extensive ceramics display. The course will finish with a lecture on the broader implications of pottery analysis for studying the Roman economy and society.
1 credit. Pre-requisites: ARC 104.

ARC 291, ARC 292, ARC 293 – ARCHEOLOGY PRACTICUM
Archeology 291/2/3 is a practicum course that allows students to experience archeological excavation first hand and to receive credit for it. The student can earn 1, 2 or 3 credits depending on the length of time spent excavating.
1, 2 or 3 credits.

ARC 301 – ARCHEOLOGY OF ROMAN IDENTITY
This upper-level on-site course examines the archeological remains of Rome from the perspective of the different ethnic, cultural and social groups that populated the city and whose interaction created Roman identity. Roman society has often been presented as a uniform mono culture but developments in archeological theory have allowed us to recognize diverse influences and to chart the evolving construction of Roman identity which underlay political power. What was considered ‘Roman’ was not static but changed according to period, class and setting and nearly always involved negative judgments of ‘others’ who were perceived as displaying non-Roman characteristics.
3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: An Archeology or Ancient History (including HST 201) or Classical Studies course or permission of the instructor. This course satisfies the information literacy requirement.

ARC 306 – MEDITERRANEAN LANDSCAPES
This course explores the ways that human societies have interacted with physical landscapes in the Mediterranean region from the Paleolithic until the end of the Roman Empire. The characteristic landscape of the Mediterranean basin is the result of complex processes that have consciously and unconsciously shaped the land for economic, social and sacred reasons. The course will be divided into two parts: the first part up to the midterm will cover the archeological techniques used to collect data on the landscape (survey, remote sensing, environmental sampling) and illustrate the use of these techniques by means of case studies of research projects; part two after the midterm will focus on the history of landscape change in the Mediterranean.
3 credit hours. Pre- or co-requisites: A 200-level Archeology course or permission of the instructor.

ARC 308 – HUMAN REMAINS
This is an intermediate course on the study of human remains. It will focus on the analysis of a discrete group of burials. Students will be expected to follow all parts of the post-excavation process including cleaning the material, recording it on standardized data forms, analyzing for sex and age and writing a report summarizing the data. In addition a short essay placing the material in the context of other contemporary material will be completed. The practical work may be carried out off-campus.
3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: ARC 200 or permission of the instructor.

ARC 312 – FORENSIC GEO-ARCHAEOLOGY: MATERIALS AND METHODS
Geo-archaeology is the use of geoscience methodology to determine past events. Using these techniques in a legal context constitutes forensic geo-archaeology. This online course introduces students to this specialization. The course will cover the methodology of investigating burials, and analyzing geo-scientific data. Procedural issues such as interaction with other forensics experts and the police and the impact of popular television shows on public perception will also be covered. Much of the course will be in the form of case studies of both solved and unsolved crimes. We will investigate cases from the facts that make up each side to the potential evidence useful to expose culprits. This on-line course will be full of discussions about the cases and creative approaches to reaching the solutions. The approach is hands-on so students will have a chance to participate in the process, not simply study it.
3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: An introductory course in archaeological methodology and a level 200 archaeology course or permission of the instructor. This course is offered in online format, students must have access to PCs or tablets and video capabilities.

ARC 313 – GIS AND REMOTE SENSING IN THE ARCHAEOLOGICAL LANDSCAPE
Geographical Information Science and Remote Sensing techniques can be used to explore archaeological landscapes. This course will analyze these techniques through case-studies from different archaeological periods and regions. The course will teach students to evaluate standard techniques and to map and analyze archaeological data. Students will also critically assess the contribution of GIS to the theoretical and methodological development of landscape archaeology.
3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: An introductory methodology course and a level 200 archaeology course or permission of the instructor. This course is offered in online format, students must have access to PCs or tablets and video capabilities.

ARC 381 – SPECIAL TOPICS: SUSTAINABLE HERITAGE TOURISM
In a period of declining governmental resources, archaeological and heritage sites that are central to the tourism industry increasingly must be managed as businesses, but in unique and often contentious contexts. This course is intended for students seeking a foundational understanding of the planning, marketing, management and funding of sustainable heritage-related tourism projects. Readings and case studies will explore technical, practical and ethical issues that arise in heritage tourism. Relevant analytical techniques will be introduced and particular emphasis will be placed on commercial, government and community issues unique to heritage-related activities. Students will produce one research paper and lead portions of each session’s discussion.
1 credit. Pre- and/or co-requisites: Level 200 course in either marketing or management or archaeology. This course satisfies the oral presentation requirement.

ARC 391 – SURVEYING HISTORIC BUILDINGS
This is an archaeology practicum course lasting five days. It will take place at the Benedictine abbey of Montelabate in Umbria. The project will focus on carrying out a detailed survey of the abbey walls and the crypt of the earlier church using photography, laser scanning and ground penetrating radar. Students will learn to use this equipment and to interpret results. The overall aim of the project is to establish the chronological phases of the building, particularly in relation to the earlier church. Students will stay in accommodation on the site during the course.
1 credit. Pre-requisites: ARC 100 or equivalent.

ARC 402 – BEING HUMAN; THEORETICAL ISSUES IN ARCHEOLOGY
This course examines the theoretical foundations which underpin all archeological interpretation. We will examine how theory has changed the interpretation of human society over time, relating this both to developments in methodology (e.g., the introduction of scientific archeology) and changes in contemporary society (e.g., post-colonial archeology). The course will be organized in a broadly historiographical format analyzing prevailing theoretical concerns in different time periods in both the United States and Europe. Classes will follow a seminar format and students will be expected to come to class prepared to participate fully in the discussion.

3 credit hours. Pre- or co-requisites: A 300-level Archeology course and at least one course in regional Archeology or permission of the instructor.

ARC 403 – GLOBAL HERITAGE
This upper level seminar course examines global heritage concerns looking in particular at how the past conditions the present and influences identity. Lectures and seminars will be built around four topics: the role of international organizations, heritage and memory, heritage and economic development and contemporary issues in global heritage. Each topic unit will be completed by a seminar where students will present case studies that illustrate the issues raised. The course will require students to prepare reading material in advance in order to contribute meaningfully to class discussion.

ARC 404 – ARCHEOLOGY OF FOOD
This upper level course explores how food has been used in archeology to address cultural phenomena. The study of the archaeological record (faunal remains, botanical data, pottery analysis) has traditionally provided an indirect evidence of food consumption, while it is only through the application of biomolecular techniques that we were able to determine directly what people ate in the past. This has changed the way we have used food consumption to define past cultures and has often challenged hitherto beliefs, from the so-called ‘revolutions’ of European prehistory to the feasts of Roman times. This course will compare and contrast different methodologies for studying food consumption in the past.

3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: A level 300 course in Archeology or permission of the instructor.

ARC 450 – ARCHEOLOGY AND CLASSICS INTERNSHIP
An internship is an individual, non-classroom, extended learning experience requiring 135 hours of practicum. It requires an on-site supervisor as well as a faculty member as project sponsor. An internship requires a daily log of activities (emphasizing impressions and reactions to the experience plus a brief description of the activity). Students are required to make a presentation and submit a final paper summarizing how goals were achieved and demonstrating the relationship of academic material to the work performed during the internship.

3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: Junior or Senior standing in Archeology and Classics.

ARC 491, ARC 492, ARC 493, ARC 494 – ARCHEOLOGY AND CLASSICS INDEPENDENT STUDY
The independent study is a course undertaken individually by upper-level students under the direction of a faculty member. A required course schedule, together with a reading list, must be submitted by the student under the professor’s guidance. The course is designed to allow upper-level students to examine historical periods, specialized topics, and single authors and to work on specific material or projects that have not been covered in regularly scheduled courses. Hours of meeting sessions may vary depending on the number of credit hours. At the end of the course, the student will produce a research paper or a project. Students may take a maximum of six credit hours of independent study in their upper-level biennial.

1, 2, 3 or 4 credit hours. Pre-requisites: Junior or Senior standing in Archeology and Classics.

ARC 498 – CAPSTONE EXPERIENCE (RESEARCH METHODOLOGY AND BIBLIOGRAPHY)
The research skills course will usually be taken in the penultimate semester in preparation for writing a dissertation. The course will develop skills in three areas: on-line and library research, focusing in particular on the research libraries available in Rome to undergraduate students; quantitative analysis, focusing on appropriate use and interpretation of quantitative techniques (rather than in carrying out the computation); qualitative analysis, focusing on appropriate integration of such data into research projects. The course will culminate in the students producing an abstract, methodology and bibliography of the research project they intend to pursue the following semester.

3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: Senior standing in Archeology and Classics. To be taken in the penultimate semester.

ARC 499 – CAPSTONE EXPERIENCE (THESIS)
The capstone senior thesis offers students majoring in Archeology and Classics the opportunity to demonstrate mastery of the skills and competence gained in their course of study (as outlined in the learning goals of the Program [below]) by applying them to a senior independent research project of their choice. The capstone experience will be taken either in the penultimate or ultimate semester.

3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: Senior standing in Archeology and Classics and completion of all core courses or permission of the instructor.

ARCL 209 – ROMAN ARMY
This course is an online asynchronous seminar (over 10 weeks) that will explore the everyday elements in the life of people who lived in the ancient Roman world, through the study of ancient artifacts, artwork, ancient literary sources, and ancient architecture. Specific objects will be used as a starting point for examining the social roles of children, women, and slaves in contexts such as schooling, marriage, and expected duties. Popular forms of entertainment, such as gladiatorial combat, will be discussed. In addition, health, hygiene, bathing, dining, and death and burial will be addressed. This course will include relevant readings and discussion questions, along with images, videos, and three dimensional scans and reconstructions of specific objects and the contexts that they were found in. Students will write papers on other daily life topics not covered in the class, and they will present their ideas to their classmates through a presentation uploaded online.

3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: A previous course in Archeology or Ancient History (including Western Civilization I) or Classical Studies or permission of the instructor. This course satisfies the information literacy and oral presentation requirements. Students must have access to PC or tablet and video and audio capabilities.

ARCL 311 – ROMAN COOKING: WHAT THE ROMANS ATE AND HOW WE KNOW IT
This is an introductory one-credit course on the food and food culture of ancient Rome. Students will be introduced to the ancient kitchen, ingredients and condiments, cooking methods, and
ARCL 400 – TROY: HOMER VERSUS ARCHEOLOGY
This upper-level interdisciplinary course examines the Trojan War and the city of Troy from the perspective of both archeology and the classical literary sources, in particular Homer. The course will examine the literary evidence as presented by Homer and the subsequent archeological researches inspired by the epic. The second half of the course will examine the reception of the Trojan War in different periods and how this has influenced excavation and interpretation of the sites associated with these events.
3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: A 300-level Archeology or Classics course or permission of the instructor.

ARCL 401 – ROME OF AUGUSTUS
This interdisciplinary course combines archeology, art history, history, literature and sociology to explore a defining moment in the ancient world: Rome at the time of Augustus (c.44 BC-c.14 AD). The students will create an image of the emperor Augustus through his own building projects and writings and assess the role of imperial propaganda in this process. We ask how culture, identity and power were shaped in particular contexts by social factors such as religion, gender, the economy and status, presenting case studies of building projects, review contemporary philosophical ideas and contemporary comment. This interdisciplinary course enables students to develop their skills of analysis and evaluation across a range of ancient source materials.
3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: Level 300 course in Classics, Classical Studies, Classical Archeology or Ancient History course or permission of the instructor.

ARIA 310 – ARCHEOLOGY AND POLITICS
The course explores the relation between archaeological practise and domestic and foreign policies of states and International Organization. The study of the relations that occur between archeology and politics provides the students with a framework of knowledge in the field of archeology, history, politics and relevant social sciences and the knowledge of theory and the analytical ability to put it into comparative context. Emphasis is given to the activities and the role of international institutions like UNESCO, WHC and different national research institutions (e.g. the DAI Deutsches Archäologisches Institut, the British School at Rome, etc.) that are active in foreign and domestic archeology and politics.
3 credit hours. Pre- and/or Co-requisites: A level 200 archeology course or IA/IPOL 200 or permission of the instructor.

ARMG 315 – MANAGEMENT OF CULTURAL HERITAGE
Management of Cultural Heritage explores theoretical and ethical issues directly applicable to management decisions concerning cultural heritage sites impacted by modern tourism. Issues of authenticity, cultural identity, art ownership and enterprise, ideology and commoditization of art heritage, trade in art and antiquities, restitution and repatriation will be discussed in theoretical terms and in case study analyses and on-site visits. The aims of the course are to enable students to evaluate real situations of cultural heritage and tourism, and to exercise judgment in ethical issues involving cultural heritage.
3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: An introductory-level Art History, Archeology or Business or Management course or permission of the instructor.

ART/FINE ARTS

AHFA 328 – THE MAKING OF ART: HISTORY OF ART MATERIAL
This course introduces students to the history of artistic media. The course focuses especially on the history of painting, sculpture, prints, and drawings as media. During the course, students will be introduced to how to identify artistic materials in various historical techniques, as well as the composition and origins of materials. To provide historical perspective on the use of artistic media, attention will be given to the following topics: economic and symbolic reasons for the use of materials, the advent of oil painting in the history of Western art, the advent of modern materials and techniques starting at the end of the 19th century, and the history and debates surrounding restoration/conservation of historic media (e.g. restoration of ancient sculpture in the Baroque period; conservation of Renaissance fresco in the Sistine Chapel in the 20th century). Classes are taught both on-site in museums and churches in Rome and in the classroom.
3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: One 100-level Fine Art class (e.g. Introduction to Drawing) or permission of the instructor.

ART 101 – ITALIAN SKETCHBOOK: IMAGES OF ROME
Italian Sketchbook is an introductory course in drawing. On-site classes will provide landscape views, architectural forms, paintings and three-dimensional sculpture as subject matter, using pencil, pen, charcoal and sanguigna as drawing techniques. The course includes art historical introductions to sites, individual drawing projects and a written component related to the experience of sketching on location. The aim is to develop confidence and visual awareness in creating representations of the vast selection of art works that Rome has to offer.
3 credits, 6 hours. Students are responsible for all entry fees.

ART 103 – PRINTMAKING I
This course introduces students to the following techniques of printmaking – linoleum prints, woodblock prints, drypoint engraving and monoprints – done in both black and white and in color. The aims are to develop knowledge relating to how the various techniques effect imagery, visual thinking and personal experimentation. The course will include an individual graphic project and a research paper.
3 credits, 6 hours. Students are required to purchase their own material needed for the course.
ART 115 – PAINTING TECHNIQUES I
This is an introductory course in painting techniques – acrylics, watercolor, pastels, collage and mixed media. Some on-site visits are organized to receive stimulus from the unique Italian sense of color, as exemplified in their vast offering of works by the great masters. The aim is to develop skills in the variety of media offered and to increase color harmony perception. The course has an individual painting project, a research paper and students will participate in a public exhibition at the end of the course.
3 credits, 6 hours. Students are required to purchase their own material needed for the course.

ART 208 – INTERMEDIATE DRAWING IN ROME
This course develops advanced techniques of drawing with pencil, pen, charcoal, and soft and oil pastels. On-site classes provide landscape views, architectural forms, low relief and three-dimensional sculptural subjects treated both from a figurative and abstract perspective. The aims are to develop drawing skills and an awareness of form, color and materials and how they interact. The course includes an individual drawing project and a research paper on one of the great masters. The course culminates in participation in a public exhibition.
3 credits, 6 hours. Pre-requisites: ART 101 or equivalent or permission of the instructor.

ART 214 – PRINTMAKING II
A Studio Art printmaking course for intermediate-level students. Students will continue to expand their printmaking techniques from level I with an emphasis on the effect of different processes on imagery, visual thinking and personal development. Techniques will include dry point, mezzotint, aquatint, aquaforte and multiblock woodblock printing and monoprints done with the aforementioned technical means.
3 credits, 6 hours. Pre-requisites: An introductory printmaking course or permission of the instructor. Students are required to purchase their own material needed for the course.

ART 215 – PAINTING TECHNIQUES II
This is an intermediate-level course in painting techniques – oils, pastels (oil and soft) acrylics, collage, mixed media and small installation work. Some on-site visits are organized to receive stimulus from the unique Italian sense of color, composition and decorative skills, as exemplified in their vast offering of works by the great and lesser known masters. Factors such as scale, paint handling, palette choices and sources of imagery will be focused on. Attention will be given to the formal vocabulary of painting.
3 credits, 6 hours. Pre-requisites: An introductory painting techniques course or permission of the instructor. Students are required to purchase their own material needed for the course.

ART 402 – ADVANCED PRINTMAKING
This is an advanced course of printmaking techniques, which may include insertion of other media, such as photography and painting as a research aids. Students will develop and explore personal concepts in the printmaking medium. They will produce a body of art work which shows coherence and development of a personal style in printmaking. Reference will be made to the work of modern and post modern movements as well as direct references to past movements in art. Their study of other artists will enlarge their horizons and broaden their personal references. The projects chosen will be strictly linked to “The Inspirational Track Methodology”. This methodology will help students follow a research path through their own work and the works of other artists. Originality and self expression will be ensured by using the above named methodology. A written paper will be required at the end of the course. Group discussions and critiques will be intrinsic to this course.
3 credits, 6 hours. Pre-requisites: ART 214. Students are required to purchase their own material needed for the course.

ART 415 – ADVANCED PAINTING
This is an advanced course of painting techniques, which may include inclusion of other media, such as photography and printmaking as research aids. Students will develop and explore personal concepts in the painting medium. They will produce a body of artwork which shows coherence and development of a personal style in painting. Reference will be made to the work of modern and post modern movements as well as direct references to past movements in art. Their study of other artists will enlarge their horizons and broaden their personal references.
3 credits, 6 hours. Pre-requisites: ART 215. Students are required to purchase their own material needed for the course.

ART 491, ART 492, ART 493 – FINE ARTS INDEPENDENT STUDY
The independent study is a course undertaken individually by upper-level students under the direction of a faculty member. A required course schedule, together with a reading list, must be submitted by the student under the professor’s guidance. The course is designed to allow upper-level students to examine historical periods, specialized topics, and single authors and to work on specific material or projects that have not been covered in regularly scheduled courses. Hours of meeting sessions may vary depending on the number of credit hours. At the end of the course, the student will produce a research paper or a project. Students may take a maximum of six credit hours of independent study in their upper-level biennial.
1, 2, 3 or 4 credit hours. Pre-requisites: Junior or Senior standing in Fine Arts.

BUFD 208 – FILM/TV INDUSTRY
Film and TV Industry looks at the filmed entertainment industry from two perspectives: production and distribution. The production part of the course will look at the role of producers, agents, writers, and studio executives in bringing a project together, as well as the role of directors, actors and crew in the filming of it. The distribution part of the course will examine the means of generating revenue from the property including cinema exhibition, video/DVD sales, television broadcast, as well as earnings from merchandise, music and other related areas.
3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: ENG 101.

FAFD 241 – DIGITAL IMAGING: ART, DESIGN AND VISUAL CULTURE
This hands-on studio course focuses on the fundamentals of visual literacy and communicating visually in an effective, persuasive, and aesthetically pleasing way. Artistic and design strategies, concept development, imaging as a means for media/social critique, international sign and symbol communication, logo and corporate identity, and magazine design will be discussed and addressed through visual problem solving exercises.
3 credit hours. Pre- or co-requisites: COM 100 and Junior or Senior standing or permission of the instructor.

AH 100 – ART OF ROME
Art of Rome is an introductory course in the history of art and of the history of Rome from its origin to contemporary times. Masterpieces of painting, sculpture, architecture and urbanism are examined with attention to their specific historical contexts; ancient, medieval, renaissance, baroque and modern. Most classes are held on site. The course honed a method of description, critical analysis and interpretation of art and builds an understanding of traditional forms and cultural themes useful in the comprehension of all western art.

3 credit hours. Students are responsible for all entry fees.

AH 102 – ARTS OF RENAISSANCE AND BAROQUE
Arts of Renaissance and Baroque is an introductory course that surveys the development of painting, sculpture and architecture in Italy from the 14th to the mid-18th centuries, focusing in particular on the cultural context of Rome with reference also to the contributions of Florence and Venice. Most classes are held on-site in the museums, churches and palaces of Rome. The course honed a method of description, critical analysis and interpretation and builds a broad comprehension of the nature of the Renaissance tradition.

3 credit hours. This course satisfies the information literacy requirement. Students are responsible for all entry fees.

AH 103 – ARTS OF MODERNITY
Arts of Modernity is an introductory course that surveys the development of painting, sculpture and architecture, covering the major movements in European and American modernism with special reference to the modern art in Rome, from the middle of the 18th century to the present. This course will follow the avant-garde art movements in Italy and abroad as they addressed problems of the visual expression of the modern era. The course will start with Neoclassicism emanating from Rome and becoming an international language of art, through Romanticism, and Impressionism, and the succession of 20th-century avant-garde movements like Art Nouveau, Italian Futurism, Cubism, Surrealism, Pre- and Post-war Italian modernism (Arte Povera and Transavanguardia), Pop Art, and the various permutations of the contemporary art scene. This course will develop themes of art operating under the pressures of political regimes, and art as a vehicle of freedom of expression. The course is designed to broaden cultural perspectives while providing the foundation for further study in art history.

3 credit hours. This course satisfies the information literacy and oral presentation requirements. Students are responsible for all entry fees.

AH 104 – SAINTS AND SINNERS IN ROME
‘Saints and Sinners’ introduces students to the iconography of the principal saints associated with the city of Rome from the early Christian martyrs to the key figures of the Counter Reformation. The saints will be treated as both historical as well as religious figures within the context of the history of art. The course will explore the complex relationship between Classical iconography and Christian hagiography and mark how the images of saints change in response to both theological and political needs. The course will be divided between classroom lectures and seminars and on-site visits.

3 credit hours. This course satisfies the oral presentation requirement. Students are responsible for all entry fees.

AH 105 – ARTS OF THE MIDDLE AGES: FOURTH TO FOURTEENTH CENTURY
This course provides an overview of the art and architecture of Rome and the Christian world in the 1,000 years from the legalization of Christianity by Constantine in 313 CE to the emergence of proto-Renaissance trends in painting and sculpture around 1300. A combination of on-site visits and lectures will trace the history of distinctively medieval art forms (wall mosaics, icons, illuminated manuscripts, Cosmati ornaments and liturgical furniture) from the early Christian to the end of the Gothic period.

AH 209 – PAPAL POWER, PAPAL ART
Papal Power Papal Art is a thematic survey of the art fostered by the papal courts from the Middle Ages and the Renaissance periods, 10th century to the 17th century. Issues of iconography, liturgical and political functions, papal patronage systems and the commissions to artists such as Leonardo da Vinci, Raphael and Michelangelo, Bernini and Borromini are treated. Classes are given almost entirely on-site. Students are prepared with the historical background and critical methodology to think analytically on the broader meanings of Italian Renaissance art in context.
3 credit hours. Students are responsible for all entry fees.

AH 210 – VAN GOGH TO Warhol
This course examines the foundations of modern painting in French Impressionism and its influence on other avant-garde movements, including Expressionism, Symbolism, Art Nouveau, Surrealism and Cubism, De Stijl, and Italian Futurism. These threads are followed to Abstract Expressionism and Pop Art in the US. Throughout the course connections are made with other media (sculpture and architecture) and other regions (UK and Russia). The course includes on-site sessions in Rome at the Galleria Nazionale d’Arte Moderna and a field trip to the Musée d’Orsay and Centre Pompidou in Paris. It is highly recommended that students visit the Peggy Guggenheim Museum in Venice on their own.
3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: AH 103 or permission of the instructor. Students arrange their own transportation to, and accommodation in, Paris. Students are responsible for all entry fees.

AH 212 – CONTEMPORARY ART IN THE GLOBAL VILLAGE
This course is an investigation into contemporary art world-wide. The course begins by examining the art of the 1980’s as providing the backdrop to contemporary trends. It then moves on to analyze art in a series of themes that have been widespread in artistic practice – time, place, identity, the body etc. The scope of the course is overtly multicultural comparing and contrasting ethnic approaches. The course finishes with the students organizing their own virtual exhibition to analyze art in a series of themes that have been widespread in artistic practice – time, place, identity, the body etc. The scope of the course is overtly multicultural comparing and contrasting ethnic approaches. The course finishes with the students organizing their own virtual exhibition.

AH 219 – RENAISSANCE ART FROM FLORENCE TO ROME
This course explores the art culture of Rome through the Middle Ages up to the dawn of the Renaissance. Rome ruled by medieval popes played a key historical role in the process of the formation of “mystery paintings” and, in the process, it will explain why the mysteries are present to enliven the eyes of the foreign ‘Grand Tour’ visitors. The course will focus on the history of the forming of important collections of ancient, Renaissance, and Baroque art, in particular the Archaeological Museum of Naples and the Capodimonte Museum, and the impact of the discovery of Pompeii and Herculaneum. Special attention will be given to the reactions of the visitors when confronted with the nude figure in Renaissance and ancient art and the ancient erotic art found at Pompeii and Herculaneum. The course meets several times on the AUR campus before a weekend long trip to Naples.
1 credit.

AH 229 – METHODS AND THEORY OF ART HISTORY: SEMINAR ON METHODOLOGY
This seminar introduces students to the historiography and methods of art history as well as to its predominant interpretative paradigms and theories. The focus of the course is not the art object itself but the discipline devoted to its study and interpretation, and the discipline’s intellectual, historical, theoretical and methodological foundations. The course is constructed as an interactive seminar with discussion of selected readings by significant authors and the application of skills and principles derived from them. The course is required of all art history majors and is also open to other students interested in the intellectual development of art history as a discipline.
3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: AH 103 plus one other course in art history at the 100 or 200 level and AHPH 202. This course satisfies the information literacy and oral presentation requirements.

AH 301 – PATRONS AND ARTISTS IN BAROQUE ITALY
This course investigates the major developments in Italian painting, sculpture and architecture during the seventeenth century with a particular focus on the role of art patrons as catalysts for change. A range of patrons will be considered, from popes, cardinals, religious orders, and foreign kings, to scholars, nuns, widows, and a disinherited virgin queen. The range of motives that led these patrons to spend fortunes on art, their criteria for selecting artists to carry out their commissions, and the personal perspectives they brought to bear upon their direction of artistic endeavors are the primary issues that will be faced. More than half the class meetings will be on-site visits to examine relevant artworks in Rome.
3 credit hours. Pre- or co-requisites: A 200-level Art History course or permission of the instructor. Students are responsible for all entry fees.

AH 308 – ROME BEFORE THE RENAISSANCE
This course explores the art culture of Rome through the Middle Ages up to the dawn of the Renaissance. Rome ruled by medieval popes played a key historical role in the process of the formation of modern Europe. Ranging from the end of Imperial Roman art up to the work of Giotto, the course is intended as a detailed study of history and art of this millennium, with a specific emphasis on Rome, taking advantage of the city’s richness of medieval monuments and works of art: mosaics and paintings, sculptures and architecture. The course aims to analyze the similarities and differences between the Roman artistic production and the art of the rest of Europe, the Byzantine East and other cultural contexts, for example the Islamic world, as well as within the larger framework of medieval culture and history. The course includes a class excursion to Assisi. 3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: A 100-level Art History course. Students are responsible for all entry fees. An additional fee may be collected in the event of a required excursion.

AH 311 – ARCHITECTURE OF MODERN ITALY
This course is a study of the history of architecture and urban design as it has developed in Italy from 1750 to the present. Issues of the dialectical relationship between forces of tradition and forces of modernization guide an examination of functional building types, design characteristics and handling of materials, social and political ramifications as well as the pressures of context and historical consciousness. Classroom slide lectures will alternate with on-site visits in Rome and coordinated with opportunities for individual travel beyond Rome. The aim is to heighten awareness of contemporary architectural design’s potential for dialog with historical contexts. 3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: A 100-level Art History course. Students are responsible for all entry fees. An additional fee may be collected in the event of a required excursion.

AH 312 – VILLAGES, PALACES AND GARDENS IN THE RENAISSANCE AND BAROQUE
This course will investigate villages, palaces and gardens in Italy between the 15th and the 18th centuries, in both urban and rustic settings. During this period, dramatic changes took place in the design of palaces and villas fueled first by humanistic study of the ancient architectural treatises, and then by changes in courtly and urban society. The topic will be considered from various perspectives including patronage, stylistic development, Renaissance architectural theory, urbanism, material culture, social contexts, and the history of garden design. This course is designed to foster a theoretical understanding of links between architecture and society with an emphasis upon the use of primary sources for advanced research in art history. A one-day excursion to visit palaces and villas in Florence is possible. 3 credit hours. Pre- or co-requisites: A 200-level Art History course or permission of the instructor. Students are responsible for all entry fees. An additional fee may be collected in the event of a required excursion.

AH 321 – VENICE IN THE RENAISSANCE
This course focuses on the Golden Age of Venetian Art from the building of the Ca’ D’Oro (1421) to the completion of Tintoretto’s work in the Scuola Grande di San Rocco (1587). The course traces the impact of Venice’s unique location on the art and architecture produced in the maritime Republic. The course will cover the works of the architects Sansovino, Bartolomeo Buon; the painters Titian, Veronese and Tintoretto, who produced a series of masterpieces which were to be the inspiration for seventeenth-century painters throughout Europe. There will be a weekend field trip to Venice. 3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: A 100-level Art History course. Students are responsible for all entry fees. An additional fee may be collected in the event of a required excursion.

AH 324 – ART OF THE ROMANTIC IMAGINATION, 18TH AND 19TH CENTURY ROME
Neoclassicism is the artistic expression of the Enlightenment. It found in Rome a natural breeding ground, since the city was still imbued with memories of its Classical past. During this course we will see how Neoclassical art owed to its own time as much as to Antiquity, and how it reflected an enthusiasm for the ideals of the French Revolution, the majesty of the Napoleonic Imperial Age and the restoration of papal temporal rule. The second part of the course is devoted to Romanticism, a cultural movement born in Northern Europe with the development of nations-states. It too found fertile ground in Italy, which would itself be finally unified during the Risorgimento. Art therefore became a vehicle for political propagandizing, with artists referring back to the Middle Ages as the last period of Italy’s independence from foreign rule. Italy contributed once more to the development of European art through its “Macchiaioli” movement in painting, which anticipated Impressionism, and through the vast urbanistic programs to renovate and modernize Rome, now a capital again, in the closing years of the century. 3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: A 100-level Art History course. This course satisfies the information literacy and oral presentation requirements. Students are responsible for all entry fees. An additional fee may be collected in the event of a required excursion.

AH 325 – ROME FROM RENAISSANCE TO MANNERISM
This course introduces students to the varied works of art produced by artists active in Rome in the mid-sixteenth century, with the legacy of Raphael and under the shadow of Michelangelo. These artists are often banded together under the ill-defined term “Mannerism,” which emerged after the death of Raphael and the Sack of Rome in the 1520s. The course reconsiders the concept of “Mannerism” and the artists associated with it. It ends with the arrival in Rome of Caravaggio, which ushers in the Baroque. 3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: AH 102 or permission of the instructor. This course satisfies the information literacy and oral presentation requirements.

AH 401 – CARAVAGGIO
This seminar examines the entire artistic production of Caravaggio. His paintings are investigated within their specific historical context taking into consideration his personal biography, church reform and iconography, research in artistic style, patronage and collecting and Caravaggio’s influence on European art. Lessons are held predominately on site in the churches and galleries where his works are on public view. An excursion outside Rome may be included. Beyond a complete comprehension of Caravaggio’s work, the course aims toward a mastery of art historical research skills, the evaluation of current scholarship and independent critical thought on art. 3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: A 300-level Art History course or permission of the instructor. Students are responsible for all entry fees. An additional fee may be collected in the event of a required excursion.

AH 402 – BERNINI
This seminar examines the entire artistic production of Gian Lorenzo Bernini. His work in sculpture, painting and architecture are investigated within their specific historical context taking into consideration his personal biography, the nature of the Catholic church and aristocratic patrons for whom he worked, iconography, research in artistic style and theory and Bernini’s influence on other major artists of the time, especially Borromini and Pietro da Cortona. An excursion outside Rome may be included. Beyond a complete comprehension of Bernini’s work, the course aims for a mastery of art historical research skills, the evaluation of current scholarship and independent critical thought on art. 3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: A 300-level Art History course or permission of the instructor. Students are responsible for all entry fees. An additional fee may be collected in the event of a required excursion.

AH 403 – MICHELANGELO IN ROME
This seminar on Michelangelo examines the work of the Renaissance master; his sculpture, painting, architecture and literary production. His works are investigated within their specific historical context, focusing on issues of commission, iconography, censorship, biography, historiography and aesthetics. An excursion to Florence is also planned. Beyond a complete comprehension of Michelangelo’s work, the course aims toward a mastery of art historical research skills, the evaluation of current scholarship and independent critical thought on art.

3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: A 300-level Art History course or permission of the instructor. Students are responsible for all entry fees. An additional fee may be collected in the event of a required excursion.

AH 410 – ART, POWER AND PROPAGANDA
This course will investigate the intersection of visual culture, art, architecture and urban planning, with political power: art as propaganda for modern regimes. The seminar-style investigation will approach themes of art and propaganda as they were developed in a limited range of 20th-century political climates, particularly Fascist Italy, Nazi Germany and Soviet Russia, with connections to related historical and political examples. This seminar will venture beyond the traditional boundaries of Art Historical study by bringing into discussion the current state of research in nationalism and ritual studies on a theoretical foundation in aesthetics. The goal of the course is to advance superior argumentation, evaluate and employ primary historical source material (in translation) and apply current theoretical approaches to art historical research.

3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: A 300-level Art History course, preferably also a modern European history course or permission of the instructor. This course satisfies the information literacy and oral presentation requirements.

AH 418 – PICASSO AND HIS TIME
This course focuses on one of the great masters of modern art, Pablo Picasso. However, it also takes into account the social and political contexts of his artistic production as well as his relationships with other important artists like Georges Braque and Henri Matisse; the women in his life and how they shaped his art; his affinities with his fellow Spaniards Salvador Dalí and Joan Miró and the influence he had on later artistic movements such as Abstract Expressionism. A field trip to France is planned.

3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: A 100-level Art History course. This course satisfies the oral presentation requirement. Students arrange their own transportation to, and accommodation in, France. Students are responsible for all entry fees.

AH 450 – ART HISTORY INTERNSHIP
An internship is an individual, non-classroom, extended learning experience requiring 135 hours of practicum. It requires an on-site supervisor as well as a faculty member as project sponsor. An internship requires a daily log of activities (emphasizing impressions and reactions to the experience plus a brief description of the activity). Students are required to make a presentation and submit a final paper summarizing how goals were achieved and demonstrating the relationship of academic material to the work performed during the internship.

3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: Junior or Senior standing in Art History.

AH 491, AH 492, AH 493, AH 494 – ART HISTORY INDEPENDENT STUDY
The independent study is a course undertaken individually by upper-level students under the direction of a faculty member in one of the Programs at AUR. A required course schedule, together with a reading list, must be submitted by the student under the professor’s guidance. The course is designed to allow upper-level students to examine historical periods, specialized topics, and single authors and to work on specific material or projects that have not been covered in regularly scheduled courses. Hours of meeting sessions may vary depending on the number of credit hours. At the end of the course, the student will produce a research paper or a project. Students may take a maximum of six credit hours of independent study in their upper-level biennial.

1, 2, 3 or 4 credit hours. Pre-requisites: Junior or Senior standing in Art History. past use of an artifact, whether as a functional object, as a cultural symbol, as an historical record, or as a domestic space, requires that the conservator understand both the tangible and intangible nature of objects. Particular reference will be made to the art and archeology of Rome.

3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: A 100-level Art History or Archeology course or permission of the instructor.

AHAR 214 – EGYPTIAN ART AND ARCHEOLOGY

This course is an introduction to the history and civilization of Egypt. The aim of the course is to provide a broad overview of Egyptian society and culture as revealed through art and archeology. The first half of the course will follow a chronological path covering the emergence and decline of Egyptian civilization. After the midterm exam the class will explore themes. The course will also cover the re-discovery of Egypt by the west and the dilemmas faced by modern Egypt in caring for this remarkable heritage.

3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: Sophomore standing or permission of the instructor.

AHAR 250 – INTRODUCTION TO ART AND ANTIQUITIES CRIME

This course is an introduction to the history of art and antiquity crime and its impact upon contemporary society. It will also examine how art can be protected and recovered including techniques of provenance research. Art crime has evolved from a relatively innocuous crime of passion carried out by individuals (often for ideological as much as financial reasons) into the third highest-grossing criminal industry in the world. The course will include a practical class on-site in assessing security risk and devising a security plan.

AHAR 255 – BERLIN MUSEUMS AND CULTURAL DILEMMA

Berlin is re-emerging as a cultural capital of Europe, and its museums showcase that. This excursion course to Berlin will review its history of collecting of art and antiquities, examine the buildings designed to house them, and analyze the cultural conditions inflicted by their changing political contexts. 18th century to the present. Conflicting issues of a past of cultural nationalism and imperialism and a present driven by historical conscience and revisionism will be discussed in case by case basis. We will exercise analytical skills relevant to visual culture within complex historical contexts, with comparative material drawn from our experience of Rome and its museums. This one-credit course is run over a three-day weekend excursion.

1 credit. Pre- or co-requisites: A 100-level course in Art History or permission of the instructor. Students arrange their own transportation to, and accommodation, in Berlin. Students are responsible for all entry fees.

AHAR 300 – ROMAN IMPERIAL ART AND ARCHITECTURE

Imperial Roman Art and Architecture is a study of ancient Roman architecture, sculpture, painting and minor arts from 27 BC to 193 AD. The focus is on the city of Rome and the ancient capital’s imperial dominion in the peninsula and Mediterranean. The approach to the material is at technical, stylistic and iconographical levels understood within the historical context. On-site visits in Rome alternate with class lectures and a possible excursion outside Rome. The goals are to create a thorough preparation for critical analysis of artifacts and source material, to develop research techniques and skills of interpretation of ancient art and architecture.

3 credits. Pre-requisites: A 100-level Art History course. This course satisfies the information literacy and oral presentation requirements.

AHAR 304 – CONSERVING ROME’S MONUMENTS

This is an upper-level course focusing on the current techniques and controversies surrounding the preservation of ancient monuments, historic buildings and stone sculpture. The course will comprise a classroom element where the underlying theories are discussed and an on site element reviewing case studies in the framework of the historical development of conservation and preservation.

3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: A lower-level Archeology or Art History course, including aspects of architecture or AHAR 207 or permission of the instructor. This course satisfies the information literacy and oral presentation requirements. Students are responsible for all entry fees.

AHAR 307 – LATE ANTIQUE AND BYZANTINE ART

This course explores the art of Rome in transition from the late Imperial age into the early Christian, from the 3rd to the 6th centuries. Attention is also paid to the developments across the Mediterranean region and in Constantinople, to the relationship to late antique art and to the formation of Christian iconography. Classes are held on-site and in the classroom with a possible excursion outside Rome. The course goals are to grasp the nature of art in periods of transition and to hone skills of critical analysis.

3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: A 100-level Art History course. An additional fee may be collected in the event of a required excursion.
composition and origins of materials. To provide historical perspective on the use of artistic media, attention will be given to the following topics: economic and symbolic reasons for the use of materials, the advent of oil painting in the history of Western art, the advent of modern materials and techniques starting at the end of the 19th century, and the history and debates surrounding restoration/conservation of historic media (e.g., restoration of ancient sculpture in the Baroque period; conservation of Renaissance fresco in the Sistine Chapel in the 20th century). Classes are taught both on-site in museums and churches in Rome and in the classroom.

Artistic media covered during course include, but are not limited to: ancient wall painting, fresco, tempera, gold ground, oil, watercolor, acrylic painting; bronze, stone, terra-cotta, and wood sculpture with various patinas; and engraving, etchings, woodcuts, digital prints; charcoal, pencil, pen and ink.

ARMG 320 – ART GALLERY MANAGEMENT
This course explores the principles and practices of art gallery management. Topics include the history of art galleries, artist and client relations, gallery space and design, collections management, staging an exhibition and art marketing. The role of the art dealer and all aspects of gallery management will be discussed in theoretical terms and in case study analyses and on-site visits to Rome's contemporary art galleries.

3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: An introductory-level Art History or Management course or permission of the instructor. This course satisfies the information literacy and oral presentation requirements. Students are responsible for all entry fees.

AHPH 202 – CREATIVITY AND BEAUTY
This course concentrates on the nature and value of creativity, of the work of art, and of the reception of art by the viewer or auditor. It is not intended to be a course in art appreciation but rather an analysis of the sources and modalities of human creativity and of beauty.

AHRE 106 – SACRED SPACE: RELIGIOUS ARCHITECTURE OF ROME
The course explores main ideas behind the sacred space on the example of sacral architecture of Rome, from the ancient times to the postmodern. The course maximizes the opportunity of on-site teaching in Rome; classes are held in the real surrounding, which best illustrates particular topics of the course. Students will have the opportunity to experience a variety of sacred spaces including the ancient Roman architecture (Forum Boarium), early Christian sacred spaces (catacombs and early Christian Basilicas), Renaissance and Baroque architecture (St. Peter's Church and Il Gesù), as well as Orthodox Christian and Protestant churches, Jewish and Muslim architecture.

ARMG 315 – MANAGEMENT OF CULTURAL HERITAGE
Management of Cultural Heritage is a course that explores theoretical and ethical issues directly applicable to management decisions concerning cultural heritage sites impacted by modern tourism. Issues of authenticity, cultural identity, art ownership and enterprise, ideology and commoditization of art heritage, trade in art and antiquities, restitution and repatriation will be discussed in theoretical terms and in case study analyses and on-site visits. The aims of the course are to enable students to evaluate real situations of cultural heritage and tourism, and to exercise judgment in ethical issues involving cultural heritage.

3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: An introductory-level Art History or Business or Management course or permission of the instructor.

ASTRONOMY

ASTR 100 – GENERAL ASTRONOMY
This course is an introduction to astronomical phenomena in the Universe for non-science majors. The course covers four main topics: (1) motions in the sky, (2) the solar system, (3) stars (why they shine, and how they evolve), and (4) first steps in cosmology (what are galaxies and how they are distributed in space). The basic physics required to understand astronomy will be presented. Topics of current interest will also be touched upon, such as astronomical discoveries (ground-based, mission), and whether there is life on other planets. We will also become acquainted with the night sky, through naked eye observations, and a field trip to a nearby amateur observatory.

3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: Score of 60% or above on AUR Math Entry Exam. This course satisfies the oral presentation and quantitative and scientific reasoning requirements.

CLASSICS
ARCL 209 – ROMAN ARMY
This is an introductory course to all aspects of the Roman army. Chronologically it follows the development of the army from the beginning of the Republic until its demise at the end of the Empire. The course will draw on both archaeological and textual information. Much of the course material will focus on the provinces, especially the western provinces, where there is abundant evidence of military camps. The course will also cover military tactics, equipment and daily life in the army. There may be out of class visits to the suitable on-site locations.
3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: Sophomore standing or permission of the instructor.

ARCL 311 – ROMAN COOKING: WHAT THE ROMANS ATE AND HOW WE KNOW IT
This is an introductory one-credit course on the food and food culture of ancient Rome. Students will be introduced to the ancient kitchen, ingredients and condiments, cooking methods, and eating habits through primary sources (Apicius and much more) and archaeological evidence (Pompeii and Ostia). Ancient food is an exquisitely interdisciplinary subject in which philology, epigraphy, art history, geography, agronomy, botany, and paleobotany are only a few of the areas of expertise that can be called upon to enrich the picture of ancient life. Students will be encouraged to use their own special interests or talents to investigate the panorama of food in ancient Italy. The course will conclude with the practical preparation of Roman food.
1 credit. Pre-requisites: A level 200 course in Roman History or Western Civilization or a level 100 course in Latin or permission of the instructor. Students will have to pay a fee for a practical session.

ARCL 400 – TROY: HOMER VERSUS ARCHEOLOGY
This upper-level interdisciplinary course examines the Trojan War and the city of Troy from the perspective of both archeology and the classical literary sources, in particular Homer. The course will examine the literary evidence as presented by Homer and the subsequent archeological researches inspired by the epic. The second half of the course will examine the reception of the Trojan War in different periods and how this has influenced excavation and interpretation of the sites associated with these events.
3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: A 300-level Archeology or Classics or Classical Studies or Ancient History course or permission of the instructor.

ARCL 401 – ROME OF AUGUSTUS
This interdisciplinary course combines archeology, art history, history, literature and sociology to explore a defining moment in the ancient world: Rome at the time of Augustus (c.44 BC-c.14 AD). The students will create an image of the emperor Augustus through his own building projects and writings and assess the role of imperial propaganda in this process. We ask how culture, identity and power were shaped in particular contexts by social factors such as religion, gender, the economy and status, presenting case studies of building projects, review contemporary philosophical ideas and contemporary comment. This interdisciplinary course enables students to develop their skills of analysis and evaluation across a range of ancient source materials.
3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: Level 300 course in Classics, Classical Studies, Classical Archeology or Ancient History or permission of the instructor.

CLHS 205 – ROME: REPUBLIC AND EMPIRE
This course explores the Roman Republic and Empire, from the founding of the city through the age of Constantine and examines the development of political forms in the classical commonwealth, the relationship of art and literature to society and politics, the development of a bureaucratic world-state and Christianity as the official state religion. The course may include field trips to historical sites and museums in Rome and Ostia.
3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: Sophomore standing or permission of the instructor.

CLHS 207 – LIFE AND LEISURE IN ANCIENT ROME
This introductory Classics/History course presents a survey of the social and cultural history of Ancient Rome. The course seeks to answer such questions as how the Romans organized their day, what they ate and wore, what was the nature of family life, education, religion and entertainment. Students will be introduced to the methodology of ancient history and the critical analysis of a wide variety of historical source materials, including inscriptions, as well as the interpretation of classical texts. Archeological evidence, including art and architecture, will also be examined.
Field trips to historical sites and museums in Rome and at Ostia Antica will be used to reanimate ancient Roman history.

CLHS 302 – CAESAR, CICERO AND THE COLLAPSE OF THE ROMAN REPUBLIC
The Roman Republic traditionally began in 509 and lasted until the dictatorship of Julius Caesar (46–44). This course concentrates on the last fifty years of the Republic down to 42 when the Republican forces were finally defeated at Philippi. Emphasis is given to reading and analyzing primary texts (in translation) with particular importance given to the works of Cicero and Caesar.

3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: A Classics or Classical Studies or Ancient History course or permission of the instructor. This course satisfies the information literacy requirement.

CLHS 314 – FROM OLD ROME TO NEW ROME: TRANSITION OF EMPIRE IN LATE ANTIQUITY
The period from the 4th to 6th centuries (CE) witnessed the transformation of the Roman Empire: the city of Constantinople was inaugurated as the universal capital (330). Christianity became the official religion of the state (380), and the western half of the Empire collapsed to “barbarian” invasions in the 5th century, only to be reconquered by eastern Roman forces a century later. This period can thereby be described not only as the fall of the Empire in the west, but also as the transition of the Roman Empire into the Byzantine Empire. This course concentrates on the political, legal, cultural and religious changes and challenges that characterized the Empire at this time. Emphasis is given to reading and critically analyzing primary texts (in translation), including the writings of Eusebius (4th C), Socrates Scholasticus (5th C) and Procopius (6th C), among others. Students will be introduced to the methodology of late antique history and the critical analysis of a wide variety of historical source materials, along with the comparative interpretation of these sources, including artistic, architectural and archeological evidence. Visits to important Late Antique monuments of Rome will also help to animate this historical period.

CLRE 202 – CHRISTIANITY AND THE ROMAN EMPIRE (100 – 425 CE)
This course offers an overview of the history of the Early Church from 100-425CE, focusing on the confrontation of Christianity with Roman law and thought. It will examine that relationship both from the early Christian and early Roman perspectives. Field trips to historical sites and museums in Rome will be used to reanimate ancient Roman history.

3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: Sophomore standing or permission of the instructor.

CLS 201 – MYTHOLOGY
Mythology is the study of the legends about the origins and history of a people, their deities, ancestors and heroes. The stories of the gods and legendary heroes of the Graeco-Roman tradition have provided the fountainhead for literature and the arts in the service of religious and political imagery down to the present. While the emphasis will be primarily literary, with extensive readings of such writers as Virgil and Ovid (noting, in passing, the influence upon later literature). The visual depiction of these myths will also be studied.

3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: Sophomore standing or permission of the instructor.

CLS 208 – LOVE AND LAUGHTER IN ANCIENT LITERATURE
This course offers an overview of Latin literature from its origins to the 5th Century CE. Representative writers (Plautus, Cicero, Horace, Virgil, Ovid, Petronius, Martial, Juvenal, St. Augustine, St. Jerome, Macrobius) of the various literary genres are read in translation. The readings emphasize different aspects of Roman society: theater, rhetoric and politics, education, the role of women, artistic taste and esthetic theory, the contrast between city life and life in the countryside, the relationship between literature and imperial propaganda. Attention will also be given to the way Latin literature has influenced our contemporary society. The course may include field trips in and outside Rome to sites associated with authors assigned.

CLS 304 – CLASSICAL GREEK AND ROMAN RHETORIC
An examination of the nature, purpose and place of classical rhetoric in classical antiquity as conceived and practiced by the ancient Greeks and Romans. Selected readings focus on the writings of the pre-Socratic poets, sophists and historians (Homer, Gorgias, Thucydides), Socratic and post-Socratic philosophers (Xenophon, Plato, Aristotle), as well as Greek and Roman orators (Demosthenes, Cicero). Particular attention is paid to the origin, formulation and use of rhetoric as an art of persuasion in the Greek city-state of Athens, as well as to the subsequent transformation and application of oratory as the ‘arms’ of politics in Athens and then in Rome. The practical aim of this course is to prepare students with the necessary vocabulary and theoretical foundation to examine the use – and abuse – of rhetoric in contemporary politics, economics, marketing, media and visual arts.

3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: A Classics or Classical Studies or Ancient History course and Junior or Senior standing or permission of the instructor.

CLS 307 – HEROES AND LOVERS: EPIC AND THE EPIC TRADITION
This course outlines the development of the epic genre from Antiquity to the Renaissance (in translation). Both the linear narratives of Homer and Virgil and the episodic alternative, exemplified by Ovid’s Metamorphoses, will be studied. This course traces a number of strands in the broad epic tradition. Narratives of warfare, quest narratives (both geographical and spiritual) and the combination of the two in narratives of chivalry and love, will be explored in both the classical period and beyond. Emphasis will be both upon the literary qualities of these poems and on the values and ideals of the societies which produced them.

CLS 312 – MAGNA GRAECIA
Magna Graecia is the collective name for the Greek cities of Southern Italy. The course focuses on the history of the Mediterranean as seen from a variety of perspectives, including Phoenician, Greek and Roman. Students will be introduced to the methodology of ancient history and the critical analysis of a wide variety of historical and literary source material, including inscriptions and coins as well as the interpretation of classical texts. Archeological evidence, including art and architecture will also be examined. Attention will also be given to the organization of the urban space in relation to politics, religion and social life. Field trips to historical sites and museums in and around Eastern Sicily will be used to reanimate the ancient sources.

3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: Two Classics or Classical Studies or Ancient History courses and Junior or Senior standing. Students will pay a fee to cover the cost of the field-study trip. Students are responsible for all entry fees.

CLS 401 – ROME: THE CITY IN TEXT
This upper level Classics course will examine depictions of the city of Rome in classical literature. It will examine the fabric of the city and the idea of Rome as a symbol of civilization. The buildings and public spaces of Rome were the backdrop for performance, spectacle, ceremony and daily and these activities generated meaning and symbolism. For the Romans specific locations were connected to history, myth and collective memory and were protected by the genius loci. Amongst

The class is designed to give the student an overview of broadcast and film writing. Concepts to be introduced include: various media format, concept development, plot development, writing treatments, scene construction, dialogue, character development, idea generation, outlining, brainstorming and more.
FDM 215 – THE COMPUTER AS A MEDIA TOOL
This is a hands-on, practical course that teaches students the aesthetic concepts of visual communication along with technical skills such as working with Macintosh-based software utilized to create various forms of visual media. The areas of computer art/image making, graphic design, typography, sound design, and video motion graphics will be explored. Practical foundations will be applied to design projects as developed through an increasing command of analyzing concepts of design, composition, color theory, and graphic communication.
3 credit hours. Pre- or co-requisites: COM 100. This course satisfies the oral presentation requirement. Laboratory course fee €75.

FDM 217 – MEDIA TECHNOLOGY
This is a hands-on, practical course that teaches students how to use the equipment needed for visual media production including broadcast quality digital video cameras, lighting equipment, microphones and audio technologies, and non-linear editing software. The aesthetics of good still and moving imagery, light and color theory, the aesthetics of camera angles and movements, sound design principles, and good composition will also be addressed.
3 credit hours. Pre- or co-requisites: COM 100. This course satisfies the oral presentation requirement. Laboratory course fee €75.

FDM 301 – COMPUTER GAME DESIGN AND PRODUCTION
Game design is the pre-production process of creating storyline, plot, character(s) and game play that will be used in the production stage of game creation. This course is intended to introduce the student to the process of game design and also includes a basic level of game production with regards to the implementation of graphics and animation, in both 2D and 3D environments. Students will use artificial intelligence and game logic/mechanics in the creation of a demo stage for class projects and several in-class assignments. For the final project, students will participate in a team project, designing and developing a fully playable 3D game demo.
3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: Either COM 214 or COM 212. Laboratory course fee €75.

FDM 314 – MUSIC VIDEO PRODUCTION
Students learn the history and methods of music video production. Lectures survey the history and evolution of music video art, noting the directors, photographers and musicians who revolutionized the form and the influence of the international avant-garde and the Hollywood musical genre on the development of music video technique. Students learn pre-production, production and post-production techniques of professional music video production in order to complete their final project, a 3-5 minute music video.
3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: FDM 205 or lower-level film or video production course and Junior or Senior standing or permission of the instructor. Laboratory course fee €75.

FDM 316 – ANIMATION, EDITING AND SPECIAL EFFECTS
This hands-on course will focus on intermediate and advanced video editing and special effects techniques. Students will learn how to create and combine 2D computer animation and stop motion animation with video footage and moving type to create a range of special effects.
3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: FDM 215 or FDM 217 or by permission of the instructor. Laboratory course fee €75.

FDM 319 – WEB GRAPHICS, CODING AND SITE DESIGN
This course will introduce beginners to the art of creating interesting, intelligent, usable, and well-designed websites. Students will learn the tools and techniques for creating well developed content, aesthetically pleasing design, user-friendly navigation and site organization, and good site functionality. By the end of the semester students will have created and be able to maintain a fully functioning personal, club/group, or business oriented website.
3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: FDM 215 or FAFD 241 or relevant demonstration of computer literacy/experience working with computer imagery or by permission of the instructor. Laboratory course fee €75.

FDM 326 – 3D COMPUTER ANIMATION
This is a hands-on practical course that teaches the student the principles of computer generated imagery and animation in a 3D environment. Throughout this course the student will build and animate 3D models using industry standard software. Students will also learn how to combine 3D animation techniques with actual video footage.
3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: FDM 215 or FDM 217 or permission of the instructor. Laboratory course fee €75.

FDM 327 – THE ART AND CRAFT OF EDITING: HISTORY, THEORY AND PRACTICE
This is a hands-on practical course that teaches the student the principles of digital non-linear video editing using industry standard software. In a series of practical workshops, students will create visual narratives while working with sound, music and special effects. Students will apply the craft to the narrative demands of both fiction and documentary, using provided footage from professionally shot films.

FDM 407 – INTERACTIVE ONLINE MEDIA
This hands-on course teaches students how to create successful web-based interactive experiences such as online animation, games, web art, digital portfolios, dynamic websites, experimental media, etc. Projects can also be exported as interactive multimedia CD or DVD-ROMS. Students will learn the aesthetics and foundations of interactive design and gain experience using the appropriate tools and technologies to create a range of interactive products.
3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: FDM 316 or FDM 319 or permission of the instructor. Laboratory course fee €75.

FDM 450 – FILM AND DIGITAL MEDIA INTERNSHIP
An internship is an individual, non-classroom, extended learning experience requiring 135 hours of practicum. It requires an on-site supervisor as well as a faculty member as project sponsor. An internship requires a daily log of activities (emphasizing impressions and reactions to the experience plus a brief description of the activity). Students are required to make a presentation and submit a final paper summarizing how goals were achieved and demonstrating the relationship of academic material to the work performed during the internship.
3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: Junior or Senior standing in Film and Digital Media.

FDM 483 – SPECIAL TOPICS IN COMMUNICATION: IMAGES OF ITALIANS IN AMERICAN FILM
This course looks critically at the representation of Italians and Italian Americans in contemporary American film, from images of gangsters to tales of assimilation and family dynamics. Using semiotics and cultural studies, we will investigate, through screenings, readings, and critical discussion, the depictions of Italians and the story of Italian American assimilation through various critical approaches to cinema and identity. Students will write one critical paper, work together on one presentation project and take a final exam.

FDM 491, FDM 492, FDM 493, FDM 494 – FILM AND DIGITAL MEDIA INDEPENDENT STUDY
The independent study is a course undertaken individually by upper-level students under the direction of a faculty member in one of the Programs at AUR. A required course schedule, together with a reading list, must be submitted by the student under the professor’s guidance. The course is designed to allow upper-level students to examine historical periods, specialized topics, and single authors or artists and to work on specific material or projects that have not been covered in regularly scheduled courses. Hours of meeting sessions may vary depending on the number of credit hours. At the end of the course, the student will produce a research paper or a project. Students may take a maximum of 6 credit hours of independent study in their upper-level biennial.

FDM 498 AND FDM 499 – CAPSTONE SENIOR PROJECT
A laboratory/seminar in which senior students select a publication, production, screenplay or thesis to complete over one year in their penultimate and ultimate semesters. Course work includes a written analysis of the writing, design and research problems and skills related to the completion of the project. Problems, solutions and final projects will be presented orally and/or visually before all Capstone students, Capstone advisors, and Film and Digital Media faculty.

3 credit hours each semester. Pre-requisites: Senior standing in Film and Digital Media, or pursuing a minor in Film and Digital Media. This is a one-year course which meets 1.5 hours per week over two semesters.

FDMK 306 – INTRODUCTION TO THE TV COMMERCIAL
After a general overview of what makes a television or web commercial and their various categories, students will then go through the practical steps towards the creation of television/web commercials including choice of approach in regards to specific products or messages, scripting, directing, creating a storyboard, budgeting, casting, music, and production schedules. The students will also go out on location to shoot a commercial, edit it, add the music and sound effects, and finally screen it.

3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: MKT 200 and FDM 205 or lower-level film or video production course or permission of the instructor. This course satisfies the oral presentation requirement. Laboratory course fee €75.

FINANCE
ECFN 305 – MONEY AND BANKING
This course focuses on the role of money in the economy, including its packaging and exchange (financial products, intermediaries and markets), distribution and regulation (US Federal Reserve and the commercial banking structure) and use for macroeconomic purposes (monetary policy).

3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: ECO 211.

ECFN 306 – INTERNATIONAL FINANCE
International Finance opens with an overview of the global financial environment, including a history of exchange rate regimes: Gold Standard, Bretton Woods, and the present system of managed and floating exchange rates. Students then analyze the factors affecting determination of exchange rates. With that knowledge, they turn to an analysis of international foreign currency exposure of multinational businesses, and the financial derivatives available to hedge these exposures. Students will explore the role of international institutions, including the International Monetary Fund, the World Bank, and the World Trade Organization, as well as topics related to past and present financial crises, specifically, Russia, East Asia, and Latin America.

3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: ECO 211 and FNC 300.

FNC 211 – PERSONAL FINANCE
In Personal Finance, students explore how individuals should manage their money. Students discuss basic financial concepts, such as the time value of money, and how to interpret interest rates. They examine personal loans, including credit cards, auto loans, and home mortgages. The second part of the course is primarily devoted to the study of investing in stocks and bonds, including a discussion of money market and mutual funds and their role as individual saving instruments in various societies. Insurance, retirement planning and estate planning will also be discussed. To wrap up, students will learn how to integrate all the components into a comprehensive financial plan.

FNC 300 – MANAGERIAL FINANCE
Designed to provide a working knowledge of significant financial topics and an awareness of how managerial finance affects business operations, this course covers financial analysis, planning and control, working capital management, investment decisions, cost of capital and valuation, and long-term financing decisions.

3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: ACC 201.

FNC 313 – REAL ESTATE FINANCE AND INVESTMENTS
This course covers the principles of real estate with an emphasis on financial principles. Both residential and commercial property investments will be covered. Purchases of real estate for personal use as well as income producing properties will be analyzed. Though the course will focus on the most sophisticated real estate markets of the US and the UK, other international markets will also be reviewed. Current events and the importance of the macroeconomic environment will also be discussed.

FNC 314 – EMERGING MARKETS: INVESTING IN DEVELOPING ECONOMIES
In this course students learn to analyze financial risk and return in emerging market economies. The political, economic, social, and legal frameworks, among other relevant drivers, will be examined. Emphasis is on the impact of the financial sector on economic development, performance, and crises. Valuation of and investment in emerging market securities will be emphasized in particular; that investing necessitating a full understanding of local, national, and global forces affecting valuation.

FNC 400 – PORTFOLIO MANAGEMENT
Portfolio Management introduces students to the study of investments in financial securities. It focuses on the analysis of marketable instruments, both from a theoretical and a practical perspective. The primary focus is on common stocks and bonds. A significant portion of the course is dedicated to valuing and measuring the performance of these investments. Students will also explore the environment in which these financial securities are traded, including stock exchanges, financial institutions, and the impact of taxes and inflation. Where applicable, current events in the financial markets will also be discussed.

3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: FNC 300. This course satisfies the oral presentation requirement.
FNC 401 – INVESTMENT BANKING
In this course students learn how investment banks and investment bankers operate. Public offerings, M&A, venture capital, sales and trading, merchant banking, debt financing, institutional research, among numerous other aspects of the investment banking field, are studied, analyzed, and discussed. Emphasis is on developing analytical tools and social skills necessary to succeed in the world of Wall Street finance. The role of a successful analyst operating in such settings, and working on such transactions will be emphasized in particular.
3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: ACC 201 and any 300-level Finance course or permission of the instructor.

FINE ARTS (SEE ART)

FOOD STUDIES

FS 301 – FOOD, ENVIRONMENT AND SOCIETY
How do we affect the Earth's resources with our food choices? This course covers the interrelationship of food and the environment: it reviews the global agro-food system, its structure and evolution with particular reference to global food security. Through an interdisciplinary perspective, it will discuss the existing knowledge on the major global challenges for food production, including climate change, depletion of natural resources and changes in diets. The social, economic, cultural and psychological determinants of food consumption habits and patterns will be analyzed with the view to exploring the linkages between sustainable production and sustainable diets. The governance of the agro-food system, with its institutions and regulatory frameworks, will be examined together with the policy space for integrating health, environment and society. A field trip to UN agency is included in the course.
3 credit hours. Pre/Co-Requisites: any lower level course in International Relations or Economics or Management or Marketing or Political Science. This course satisfies the information literacy and oral presentation requirements.

FOUNDATIONAL SKILLS

FYS 101 – FIRST YEAR SEMINAR
This course is designed to encourage all first-year students to become active participants in The American University of Rome community and help ensure a successful college experience. Students will develop the fundamental skills of writing, information literacy, IT, communication and oral presentations, and put them into practice through the examination of various cultural and multicultural themes. The course will be team taught; it is project based, and will include many on-site lectures. Using the book assigned as summer or holiday reading as a guide, the course will focus on Italy and, in particular, on the city of Rome, its people, its customs, and its relationship with other cultures. This is a mandatory course for all first-year-in-college AUR students.
3 credit hours. This course satisfies the information literacy and oral presentation requirements.

GREEK

GRK 101 – BEGINNING ANCIENT GREEK I
Open to students with no previous training in Greek, this course offers an introduction to the fundamentals of the language and teaches the student to begin to read Greek authors. Major emphasis is given to grammar and syntax, composition and reading. The course develops direct reading comprehension of Greek through short sentences from graduated texts, short stories and dramas; and through them provides an introduction to ancient Greek civilization. The course also aims at building a grammatical foundation to develop further levels of proficiency.
3 credit hours.

GRK 102 – BEGINNING ANCIENT GREEK II
Continuation of GRK 101. This stage two introductory course introduces students to more complex grammatical structures and syntax. Major emphasis is given to reading and translation. The course develops direct reading comprehension of Classical Greek from graduated texts, short stories and passages from drama; and through them provides an introduction to ancient Greek civilization. The course also aims at building a grammatical foundation to develop further levels of proficiency.
3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: GRK 101 or permission of the instructor.

HISTORY

CLHS 205 – ROME: REPUBLIC AND EMPIRE
This course explores the Roman Republic and Empire, from the founding of the city through the age of Constantine and examines the development of political forms in the classical commonwealth, the relationship of art and literature to society and politics, the development of a bureaucratic world-state and Christianity as the official state religion. The course may include field trips to historical sites and museums in Rome, Ostia and Pompeii.
3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: Sophomore standing or permission of the instructor.

CLHS 207 – LIFE AND LEISURE IN ANCIENT ROME
This introductory Classics/History course presents a survey of the social and cultural history of Ancient Rome. The course seeks to answer such questions as how the Romans organized their day, what they ate and wore, what was the nature of family life, education, religion and entertainment. Students will be introduced to the methodology of ancient history and the critical analysis of a wide variety of historical source materials, including inscriptions and coins, as well as the interpretation of classical texts. Archeological evidence, including art and architecture, will also be examined. Field trips to historical sites and museums in Rome and at Ostia Antica will be used to reanimate ancient Roman history.

CLHS 302 – CAESAR, CICERO AND THE COLLAPSE OF THE ROMAN REPUBLIC
The Roman Republican tradition began in 509 and lasted until the dictatorship of Julius Caesar (46-44). This course concentrates on the last fifty years of the Republic down to 42 when the Republican forces were finally defeated at Philippi. Emphasis is given to reading and analyzing primary texts (in translation) with particular importance given to the works of Cicero and Caesar.
3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: A Classics or Classical Studies or Ancient History course or permission of the instructor. This course satisfies the information literacy requirement.
CLHS 314 – FROM OLD ROME TO NEW ROME: TRANSITION OF EMPIRE IN LATE ANTIQUITY
The period from the 4th to 6th centuries (CE) witnessed the transformation of the Roman Empire: the city of Constantinople was inaugurated as the universal capital (330), Christianity became the official religion of the state (380), and the western half of the Empire collapsed to “barbarian” invasions in the 5th century, only to be reconquered by eastern Roman forces a century later. This period can thereby be described not only as the fall of the Empire in the west, but also as the transition of the Roman Empire into the Byzantine Empire. This course concentrates on the political, legal, cultural and religious changes and challenges that characterized the Empire at this time. Emphasis is given to reading and critically analyzing primary texts (in translation), including the writings of Eusebius (4th C), Socrates Scholasticus (5th C) and Procopius (6th C), among others. Students will be introduced to the methodology of late antique history and the critical analysis of a wide variety of historical source materials, along with the comparative interpretation of these sources, including artistic, architectural and archeological evidence. Visits to important Late Antique monuments of Rome will also help to animate this historical period.
3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: Level 200 Classics, Classical Studies, or Ancient History course, or permission of the instructor.

HSSO 209 – TANKS, TRENCHES AND TREATIES: THE HISTORY AND THEORY OF WAR
This course is a survey of theories of war from an International Relations perspective: a study of societies in relation to warfare, how and why they waged it, how it affected them, how they have chosen to view war. It is organized as a general overview using case studies, of the ways in which war has been organized, fought, explained and justified. Major events and periods in Western military history are used as a repertory of case studies to address some of the most challenging questions surrounding war. Although it examines war from the Ancient World to the present, the course is thematic rather than chronological; it literally uses History to single out Theory, providing a survey of the main concepts involved in studying war and its representations.
3 credit hours. Pre- and/or co-requisites: HST 200 or a Political Science course or permission of the instructor.

HSSO 208 – SPORT AND SOCIETY
This course will provide a core of knowledge of sport’s role in the development of the modern world. It will ground students in the basic theories, methods and practices of sport history while developing a basic knowledge of the political, economic and social development of a variety of countries across the globe.
3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: Sophomore standing and ENG 102 (or equivalent).

HSSO 312 – MUSSOLINI’S ROME
This course will provide detailed knowledge of how Fascism transformed Rome. Grounding students in the history, architecture and politics of this dramatic period of urban change and expansion, this study of the capital under Mussolini will be contextualized within a broad analysis of Italy during the Fascist regime. This series of 13 x 3hr classes will consist of a majority of site visits, plus lectures and class discussion, and structured group break-out work. Groups will then report back to the class and all participants will be encouraged to venture opinions. Teaching will also include the use of video material.
3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: Junior standing. Students must previously have taken a general course on Italy (History of Modern Italy, Sociology of Modern Italy or similar), ITL 101 and 102.

HST 200 – HISTORY OF MODERN ITALY
This is an introductory course for all majors; it provides substantive knowledge about the history of Italy from the Napoleonic period to the present day. The study concentrates on the centuries of political fragmentation and the efforts to develop an effective political system. In this respect, the course offers insights for the comparative study of different ‘paths to modernity’ in Western Europe.
3 credit hours.

HST 305 – HISTORY OF MODERN EUROPE
A study of selected aspects of modern Europe, focusing on the post-1945 period, the course focuses on major themes of the age, from the origins of World War I to the reunification of Germany, will be selected for discussion. Topics include the emergence of and challenges to the welfare state, the Communist Revolutions, changing defense considerations, East-West relations and the European Union.
3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: Junior or Senior standing or permission of the instructor.

HST 307 – HISTORY OF THE MODERN MIDDLE EAST
Both before but particularly after September 11th, 2001, The Middle East has played a vital role in influencing the world we live in. In order to better understand the complexity of this region where major wars have been waged, it is necessary to equip students with an in-depth understanding of the forces and influences that have historically shaped the region. This will be done by asking questions that analyze trends such as the growth of Nation States, of Arab Nationalism, the Arab-Israeli Conflict, the tension between Secularism and Religion, as well as the growth of Political Islam. The course will start with the encounters between East and West at the beginning of the 19th Century and the rise of Nation-States through to our times.
3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: A lower-level History course and Junior or Senior standing. This course satisfies the information literacy and oral presentation requirements.
INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS

ARIA 310 – ARCHEOLOGY AND POLITICS
The course explores the relation between archaeological practise and domestic and foreign policies of states and International Organisation. The study of the relations that occur between archeology and politics provides the students with a framework of knowledge in the field of archeology, history, politics and relevant social sciences and the knowledge of theory and the analytical ability to put it into comparative context. Emphasis is given to the activities and the role of international institutions like UNESCO, WHC and different national research institutions (e.g. the DAI Deutsches Archäologisches Institut, the British School at Rome, etc.) that are active in foreign countries. The course focuses on specific areas of Europe, Mediterranean area and Near East. The use of archeology in national and transnational identity building and international relations is analyzed and correlated to the most influential and popular archeological theories and their reception in society. Particular attention is given to the role of the media in disseminating archeology to a public of non-specialists. Through the study of several case studies the different types of relation between archeology, politics, media and society are analyzed enabling students to develop a critical approach to the subject. The course gives an important contribution to prepare the students in pursuing higher academic qualifications or a career in either IGOs, INGOs, public administration and associated institutions for research and commentary on the subject.
3 credit hours. Pre- and/or co-requisites: a level 200 archeology course or IA 200 or POL 200 or permission of the instructor.

ARIA 303 – THE US, THE EU AND CHINA: WHO IS GOING TO LEAD?
This 3-credit course is an advanced course of International Relations where students will learn how to apply Theories of International Relations to critically analyze contemporary global affairs between the US, the EU and China. Will these global actors try to use increasingly power politics or institutional cooperation? Will they be able to write together the rules of the Game? The US, the EU and China might recur to different policies and strategies depending on the circumstances and prevailing ideologies. Accordingly, the future of International Relations can be mapped in

IA 201 – GLOBAL POLITICS
The changes in world politics over the last 15-20 years have been both sudden and dramatic. This course provides the students with diverse conceptual frameworks for understanding the current transformation of global politics. How basic political science concepts (like state, power, political movements, governance) need to be readressed in light of these changes will be discussed. The current stage of globalization will be explored by historical comparison with earlier periods of political integration and disintegration, going back to Antiquity.
3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: IA 200. This course satisfies the information literacy and oral presentation requirements.

IA 202 – INTERNATIONAL ORGANIZATIONS
This course explores the functioning of international organizations in today’s world. It analyses 1) the meaning, the origins and the actors of global governance and the reasons why it is increasingly needed; 2) the centerpiece of global governance: the United Nations; and 3) the evolution, the role, the purposes and the impact of regional and sub-regional organizations active in Europe, Asia and in the Middle East. The course will also address a number of cross-cutting issues and challenges whose resolution require a global approach, and will, finally, discuss the role played by IOs in securing international peace and security.
3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: A lower-level Political Science course or permission of the instructor. This course satisfies the information literacy and oral presentation requirements.
four scenarios: 1. Each global power tries to undermine the others, i.e. Everyone goes alone = mistrust and anarchy; 2. A coalition between the western powers, i.e. The US and the EU against China = instability; 3. The China Age, i.e. threat for Western powers; 4. The construction of an effective multi-polar world, i.e. The US, The EU and China = equilibrium.

3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: Junior standing; IA 200 or equivalent. This course satisfies the information literacy and oral presentation requirements.

IA 304 – SECURITY AND ENERGY IN THE XXI CENTURY
This is an advanced IR course focused on the relation between security and energy supplies, with a particular focus on three major global actors: the US, Russia and Turkey in order to assess how they interact in the South-Caucasus. Assessing the evolution of theory and practice of national security in the last twenty years, this course will illustrate the concept of energy security and its implications on States’ behavior. In particular, the policies of Russia, Turkey and the US will be investigated as well as how the State control - or influence - over some key strategic resources and areas is crucial in the XXI century international scenario.

The approach will be comparative and diachronic. In particular, illustrating the relevance of the Caspian region into different eras, students will learn to critically analyze the interactions among major, middle and local powers and how material factors (i.e. geography and the control over strategically relevant resources) affect international politics.

3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: IA 200 or ECO 211 or equivalent or permission of the instructor.

IA 305 – INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS OF EAST ASIA
This course examines the nature of international relations in East Asia. Particular attention will be devoted to the positions occupied by Japan and China in the context of the Cold War, as well as to their interactions both with the other regional actors, the two Superpowers and Europe. The analysis of the factors which were generated during the phase of bipolarism will facilitate the identification of continuity and discontinuity lines in the light of globalization.

Topics will include: (1) the historical development of international relations in East Asia since the mid 19th century, (2) WWII and its legacy, (3) domestic institutions and foreign policy outcomes, (4) regional security issues, (5) regional economic relations, and (6) the implications of these issues for the United States.

3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: IA 200.

IA 351– KOSOVO: NATION-BUILDING AND INTERNATIONAL ORGANIZATIONS
A weekend field study trip to Pristina; students will see the effects of the 1999 intervention and reconstruction since then. They meet with UNMIK representatives, the local government and representatives of civil society to understand how the conflict is being resolved.

1 credit. Pre-requisites: A lower-level Political Science or European history course. Students will pay a fee to cover the cost of the field-study trip.

IA 356 – BRUSSELS: INTERNATIONAL ORGANIZATIONS AND INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS
The trip takes two very different looks at international relations; before leaving, there will be a class introducing the basic structure of the IGOs visited. On the first day of the trip students see the formal side and visit two key international organizations, the European Commission and NATO. They are given briefings on topical issues facing the organizations and the responses which are being formulated to address the issues. There are informal meetings representatives of Brussels’ political organizations, from some of the many parties present at the IGOs. On the second day, they visit some of the key political sites in the city and the museum and battlefield of Waterloo. There is a final classroom session to draw conclusions from the trip.

1 credit. Pre- or co-requisites: A lower-level Political Science or European history course. Students will pay a fee to cover the cost of the field-study trip.

IA 357 – MONTENEGRO: NATION BUILDING AND INSTITUTION BUILDING
This field study course examines the history and contemporary reality of Montenegro, the UN’s most recent addition as a sovereign nation-state. Over the last century, Montenegro has gone from independence to foreign control to being part of changing versions of a South Slav state before becoming independent again. It avoided the worst violence of the break up of Yugoslavia in the 1990s but suffered from the economic and political instability and the growth of criminality that the wars provoked. It now seeks greater integration with the EU. It also is a small country so that all of these issues can be addressed in a short field trip course.

1 credit. Pre-requisites: A lower-level Political Science or European history course. Students will pay a fee to cover the cost of the field-study trip.

IA 358 – POLITICS AND SEPARATISM
This course examines the history and contemporary reality of one of Europe’s most longstanding and intractable issues of nationalism and separatism. Along with similar issues in Catalonia, Scotland and Belgium, it is a difficult contemporary issue for the whole of Europe. The course consists of an introduction and concluding lectures, a film and a weekend field trip to meet with representatives of the political institutions and parties, civil society and the media. The trip includes cultural encounters and informal meetings intended to enhance the formal learning.
1 credit. Pre- or co-requisites: Lower level politics or European history. Students will pay a fee to cover the cost of the field-study trip.

IA 360 – SPECIAL TOPICS: MODEL UN
This course is a practical exercise in critical thinking and analysis, public speaking, and intercultural negotiation and consensus building within the context of international politics and international organizations. Students will represent, support, and defend a selected country’s national interests at the United Nations. Students will learn how and be trained to speak clearly and convincingly on selected policy areas, know and use the technical language of the UN. Skill building exercises in consensus building, negotiations and communications will complement the public speaking activities as will writing assignments on how to develop talking points, policy position papers and draft UN resolutions in order to master style, form and substance of typical diplomatic and UN documents. The students will exercise and develop learning in a close to real-world organizational setting that brings together actors from all over the world. Students will represent a specific country, as a member of the UN in a Model UN conference simulation, the dates of which will be communicated. The policy areas will relate to UN committee work and topics chosen by the organizers. Costs to participate at the Model UN conference will be covered by the student. This course may be taken more than once as long as the country represented and the committee topics are different.
3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: 200 level IA, POL, HST, social science or public speaking or permission of the instructor. This course satisfies the information literacy and oral presentation requirements.

IA 361 – ISRAEL PALESTINE
Two weeks intensive field study course composed principally of the following elements:

IA 403 – CONFLICT RESOLUTION AND NEGOTIATION
Conflict is part of daily life: it can be destructive as well as constructive but it needs to be dealt with productively. Resolution is a collaborative process by which differences are handled and outcomes are jointly agreed by the interested parties. It is the transformation of the relationship and situation such that solutions are sustainable and self-correcting in the long term. This course will introduce the student to conflict, the cause, how it happens and why it occurs. Techniques and methods to approach, manage and resolve will be introduced, including good listening and communication skills. Various forms of intervention will be examined and applied: negotiation from a humanitarian perspective with armed groups, using selected case studies, will be examined and applied in depth.
3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: Senior standing is required. IAPO 200 or equivalent. This course satisfies the information literacy and oral presentation requirements.

IA 450 – INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS INTERNSHIP
An internship is an individual, non-classroom, extended learning experience requiring 135 hours of practicum. It requires an on-site supervisor as well as a faculty member as project sponsor. An internship requires a daily log of activities (emphasizing impressions and reactions to the experience plus a brief description of the activity). Students are required to make a presentation and submit a final paper summarizing how goals were achieved and demonstrating the relationship of academic material to the work performed during the internship.
3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: Junior or Senior standing in International Relations.

IAPO 200 – JUNIOR RESEARCH SEMINAR IN INTERNATIONAL POLITICS
The Junior Research Seminar in International Politics is a compulsory three-credit course, which all IR majors should take during the fall semester of their junior year. The course will provide students with a broader common background on IR issues, a forum for the discussion of these issues, advanced training in research methods, and support for improvement in their writing and speaking skills, particularly their extemporaneous skills in these areas.
3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: IA 100 and Sophomore standing. This course satisfies the information literacy and oral presentation requirements.
IAPO 499 – INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS SENIOR THESIS
The Capstone Project offers each student the opportunity to demonstrate mastery of International Relations theory and practice by applying the knowledge and skills gained in the IR program to a project of the student’s choice. This involves completing a project report reflecting the cumulative knowledge gained from these experiences. The course is intended only for students who are completing their BA degree at the Program of IR at the AUR.
3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: Senior standing and completion of all International Relations core courses or permission of the instructor. This course satisfies the information literacy requirement.

IARE 302 – ISLAM AND POLITICS
Scholars, government analysts and terrorism experts have examined the relationship between Islam and politics for years. Although this field of study is not recent, it became both dominant and essential since 9/11. This course intends to provide a comprehensive, analytical, and in-depth examination of political Islam in an increasingly globalizing world. The purpose is thus to show the interaction of Islam and politics and the multiple and diverse roles of Islamic movements, as well as issues of: i) authoritarianism; ii) democratization; iii) religious extremism; and iv) terrorism.
The first part of the course will give a general overview; the second part of the course will focus on case studies at the regional and global level.
3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: IA 200. This course satisfies the information literacy and oral presentation requirements.

ITALIAN
COIS 221 – THE ITALIAN-AMERICAN EXPERIENCE
This course examines literary, cinematic, and critical works on the experience of Italian Americans in order to investigate the many facets of their identity. The first part of the course includes readings on theories of race, ethnicity, and identity formation in the United States. The second part explores novels, films, and popular culture as evidence of the many forms of Italian-American cultural expression and their representation. Particular attention is given to the construction of internal and external stereotypes, interethnic relations between Italians and other minorities in the US, and religious, family, and gender identity.
3 credit hours. Pre- or co-requisites: ENG 102. This course satisfies the information literacy and oral presentation requirements. Conducted in English.

COIS 320 – ITALIAN MEDIA AND POPULAR CULTURE
This course has a thematic approach, applying the analytical theories of cultural studies to contemporary Italian media and popular culture, focusing on: the evolution of Italian print and broadcast media in terms of their impact on Italian culture and society; the effect of Italy’s regional character on sports, use of language, gastronomic traditions; the role of folktales, popular theatre and folk music; popular expressions of religious life (Carnival, Passion Plays etc); the relationship between local craftsmanship and high fashion. Students will apply and develop their analytical skills by actively engaging with these phenomena through field trips, case-studies and example texts.

IS 212 – ITALIAN FOOD AND CULTURE
This interdisciplinary course will examine the relationship between food and culture in contemporary Italian society through a variety of readings, class discussions and personal and practical experiences. The course will also consider, from historical and cultural studies perspectives, how Italian cuisine has become a staple around the world and particularly in the U.S., comparing the culture and politics of food in Italy to that of the U.S. Students will undertake a group-learning project around Rome that will enhance their classroom experience.
3 credit hours. This course satisfies the oral presentation requirement. Conducted in English.

IS 220 – TRAVELS TO/THROUGH ITALY: REPRESENTATIONS OF CONTACTS BETWEEN CULTURES
The depiction of Italy as a member of the G8 and NATO, a leading provider of fashion, cinema, cars, design, and cuisine, is relatively recent, though widely held. But Italy as the seat of a highly prized way of life traces back through the centuries, with many writers declaring their admiration, from Goethe, De Stael and Stendhal, to Milton and Shakespeare. To understand Italy's contemporary image in the world, this course seeks to understand some of the earlier representations of Italy and Italians from Dante, through the Renaissance and Baroque periods, the Risorgimento, the Great Migration, the Economic Boom and la dolce vita, and down to the present time. A primary goal of the course is to connect students' experiences in Rome and Italy more generally with the experiences of other travelers and with the rich and diverse history of what being Italian is. Specific themes will include geography, the persistence of classicism in Italy to the present day, paganism and Christianity, northern Europe vs. the Mediterranean, post-Renaissance decline, rationalism vs. passion, localism vs. nationalism, civilization and the natural. Students will come to realize that, beyond the Italian state, there are many "Italies" conditioned by a variety of historical, political, economic, social, cultural, and religious circumstances.
3 credit hours. Pre- or co-requisites: ENG 102. This course satisfies the information literacy and oral presentation requirements. Conducted in English.

IS 251 – FOOD AND (MULTI)CULTURE IN ITALY
This 1-credit weekend field trip course presents food in its complex connections with culture, nutrition, environment, society, economics and politics. Combining traditional lectures and discussion meetings with hands-on co-curricular activities, the course will lead students to the city of Torino, a leading city in Italy for food studies and the slow food movement. The lectures and meetings with professors from the Università di Studi Enogastronomici provide a dynamic learning environment with an interdisciplinary approach while the practical assignments allow students to explore and experience first-hand food culture in different settings around Torino. All course topics are accompanied by practical activities, ranging from meetings in Eataly, the famous slow food supermarket, to food and wine pairing and tasting workshops (observations and meetings with the experts). The course will also take advantage of Torino's rich multicultural fabric by visiting the largest international market in Italy, Torino's Porta Palazzo market, where food traditions from Italy and around the world come together.
1 credit. Conducted in English. Students will pay a fee to cover the cost of the field trip.

IS 301 – THE MAFIA IN ITALIAN SOCIETY, LITERATURE AND FILM
This course aims to explore representations of the Italian Mafia in literature and cinema, with reference also to the Italian-American context. Students will be introduced to the history of the mafia, starting from its beginnings in Sicily, and follow its historical and geographical evolution within, and also outside, Italy. The course will make reference to Italian literary texts as well as Italian and Italian-American cinematic representations of the phenomenon.
3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: ENG 102. This course satisfies the information literacy and oral presentation requirements.

ISSO 250 – SICILY AGAINST THE MAFIA
This weekend field trip course presents students with a different view of Sicily and of the mafia in Sicily, providing them with an understanding of the emergence of a new Sicilian culture and society based on the fight against the mafia, on pacificist expression and on the creation of a culture of legality. The course will allow students the opportunity to visit sites of historical, social and cultural interest that document resistance to the local Mafia and encounter local civic associations, community service and solidarity networks that are active in the Sicilian context. Students will meet and exchange ideas with young Sicilians and thereby learn from direct experience an example of social activism in the Italian context. An understanding of the mafia in Sicily will be supported by readings from Sicilian writers such as Luigi Pirandello, Leonardo Sciascia and Giuseppe Tomasi di Lampedusa and through the viewing of Italian films such as "I Cento Passi". 1 credit. Students will pay a fee to cover the cost of the field-study trip. Conducted in English.

ITAL 100 – INTRODUCTION TO ITALIAN LANGUAGE AND CULTURE
Open to students with no previous training in Italian, the course introduces features of the Italian language needed for interaction in everyday practical situations, such as the café, restaurant, accommodation and in shops. The course satisfies a limited number of immediate needs necessary for survival in the target language culture. Cultural topics, such as religion in Italy, Italian geography, and Italian families will also be studied through readings in English, in order to familiarize the student with certain aspects of contemporary Italian society and culture.
3 credit hours. No placement examination. This course does not constitute a pre-requisites for ITL 102.

ITAL 101 – ELEMENTARY ITALIAN I
In this course students establish an introductory base in the Italian language in the four areas of language skills: listening comprehension, speaking, reading, and writing. At the successful completion of this course students will be able to demonstrate proficiency in everyday spoken Italian by performing the following functions: greet people and introduce themselves, give and follow simple directions, respond to and ask questions, describe their families and friends, order items in a café, discuss their life at school and hobbies, express likes and dislikes, and recount recent past actions. Students will be able to read simple written texts in Italian and write short paragraphs on familiar topics. Students will also have gained specific knowledge about contemporary Italy through cultural readings on topics such as family life, pastimes, and food and wine culture.
4 credit hours. No placement examination. Required for AUR degree students.

ITAL 102 – ELEMENTARY ITALIAN II
This course, open to students who have taken ITL 101 or equivalent or the appropriate placement examination, is a continuation of ITL 101, Elementary Italian I. The course focuses on vocabulary expansion and strengthening the four language skills of speaking, listening, writing, and reading in order to provide students with the ability to converse on familiar social situations related to school, recreation, and particular interests, provide oral descriptions in the major time frames (past, present, and future), read short written texts, and write short compositions on familiar topics.
4 credit hours. Pre-requisites: ITL 101 or placement examination.
ITL 103 – INTENSIVE ELEMENTARY ITALIAN I AND II
This intensive course, open to students with no previous training in Italian, covers in one semester all material from ITL 101 and 102, Elementary Italian I and II. Although major emphasis is given to speaking and listening skills, the course provides students with a foundation in the four language skills of speaking, listening, reading and writing through the study of grammatical exercises and written and spoken texts. Upon successful completion of the course, students will demonstrate the ability to converse on familiar social topics related to school, recreation, and particular interests, provide oral descriptions in the major time frames (past, present, and future), read short written texts, and write short compositions on familiar topics. Students are also introduced to elements of Italian culture through bimonthly readings and discussion on topics such as Italian gestures, the Italian working world, and youth and leisure time.
3 credit hours. No placement examination.

ITL 201 – INTERMEDIATE ITALIAN I
Open to students who have completed the equivalent of one year of college Italian, and taken the appropriate placement examination. This course is designed to build competency in grammar and syntax so as to allow students to converse and write with confidence on topics of routine tasks, social situations, and such abstract topics as cultural issues at the Intermediate level. The course will also develop ability to spontaneous and creative writing through composition.
3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: ITL 102 or placement examination.

ITL 202 – INTERMEDIATE ITALIAN II
Open to students who have completed the equivalent of Intermediate I, and taken the appropriate placement examination. The first part of this course is designed to review main grammar points such as verb tenses in the major time frames, passive forms, and impersonal constructions. The second part concentrates on consolidating specific communicative tasks, including stating opinions and constructing hypotheses, in both speaking and writing. Specialized vocabulary is expanded and appropriate variables in register are introduced in expository writing and conversation.
3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: ITL 201 or placement examination.

ITL 203 – INTENSIVE INTERMEDIATE ITALIAN
Open to students who have completed the equivalent of ITL 102 (Elementary Italian II), and taken the appropriate placement examination. The course includes all material covered in Intermediate Italian I and II in one semester and completes the study of main grammar points, such as all verb tenses in the major time frames, passive forms, and impersonal constructions. In addition, newspaper articles, television segments, and films will integrate students intensive exposure to written and spoken language.
6 credit hours. Pre-requisites: ITL 102 or placement examination.

ITL 204 – ITALIAN LANGUAGE THROUGH FILM
This course is an exploration of contemporary Italian film to improve Italian grammar and conversational skills at the intermediate level. This course is therefore designed to develop competency especially in listening and speaking skills and expand vocabulary acquisition. By watching and discussing clips from contemporary Italian movies, students will analyze idiomatic expressions, lexicon, grammatical structure, spoken and non-verbal elements of language and Italian culture in order to gain linguistic competence and familiarize themselves with various aspects of contemporary Italian society.
3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: ITL 102 or placement examination. This course is not intended for students above ITL 202 level. This course satisfies the oral presentation requirement. Conducted in Italian.

ITL 300 – ADVANCED ITALIAN I: GRAMMAR AND COMPOSITION
Open to students who have completed the equivalent of two years of college Italian, and taken the appropriate placement examination. Grammatical, syntactical, and lexical items covered in this course expand an intermediate level of proficiency to the first advanced level through extensive reading assignments, grammatical and syntactical reviews and practice, and both spontaneous and reflective writing assignments, on such practical and abstract topics as reviews of films and plays, mass-media information, and cultural events.
3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: ITL 202 or permission of the instructor and placement examination. This course satisfies the oral presentation requirement. Conducted in Italian.

ITL 307 – ITALIAN FOR BUSINESS
This course is designed to build competency in the student’s writing skills and expand vocabulary acquisition through the reading, discussion and analysis of a variety of business texts: manuals used in business schools, analyses of letters, office documents and newspaper articles about business. It is also for students who wish to develop language and professional skills in the context of an international business environment focused on Italy. Attention is also given to Italian culture, manners, and customs as they relate to business practice. The course is specifically designed for students who are interested in working in Italy.
3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: ITL 202 or placement examination. This course satisfies the oral presentation requirement. Conducted in Italian.

ITL 351 – ITALIAN LANGUAGE AND CULTURE THROUGH MUSIC
This course is an exploration and analysis of contemporary Italian music with a dual objective: students improve their Italian grammar and conversational skills at the advanced level while also acquiring knowledge of various aspects of contemporary Italian society. This course is designed to develop competency especially in listening and speaking skills and expand vocabulary acquisition. By listening to and discussing Italian songs, students will analyze idiomatic expressions, lexicon and grammatical structures as well as aspects of Italian culture, such as Italian families and the mafia in Italy, in order to gain linguistic and cultural competence.
3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: ITL 202 or equivalent, or placement test or permission of the instructor. This course satisfies the oral presentation requirement. Conducted in Italian.

ITL 401 – ADVANCED ITALIAN CULTURE
The course, conducted entirely in Italian, focuses on strengthening the student’s knowledge and use of Italian at an advanced academic level while introducing students to major themes of Italian modern culture. Through the viewing of films and reading and analysis of literary texts, essays and articles, the course explores topics such as the city of Rome from past to present and young Italians and multiculturalism in contemporary Italian society. The course enlarges the students’ perspectives on Italy today by exploring various interpretations of cultural phenomena, with particular attention to artistic, social and historical aspects.
3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: ITL 300 or equivalent, or placement test or permission of the instructor. This course satisfies the oral presentation and cultural presentation requirements. Conducted in Italian.

ITL 405 – BOCCACCIO’S DECAMERON
The course focuses on the analysis of Giovanni Boccaccio’s Decameron, which will be read in its entirety in Italian. Attention will also be given to the literary/historical/cultural context connected with the text through the study and discussion of Florentine literature, art, thought, society and history from the death of Dante to the age of Lorenzo de’ Medici. Special attention will also be given to the novella as a genre. Lectures, readings and class discussions will take place in Italian. Students have the option of completing written assignments in English.
3 credit hours. Pre- or co-requisites: ITL 300 or equivalent or placement test. Conducted in Italian.

MKT 310 – INTEGRATED MARKETING COMMUNICATIONS
Designed to be a bridge from the Principles of Marketing course to upper-level marketing courses, such as Advertising, this course introduces students to IMC, an innovative approach to marketing communications (the Promotion P of the Marketing Mix). Smart marketers today no longer manage the various promotional tools separately but rather first develop Integrated Marketing Communications Strategies that ensure that their many promotional efforts are unified. The IMC approach ensures a single, clear, concise, coherent message that is supported by each of the promotional tools. Students explore these tools (Advertising, Public Relations, Sales Promotion, Personal Selling, Direct Marketing and Alternative Marketing), while honing creative and decision-making skills.
3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: MKT 200. This course satisfies the oral presentation requirement.

MKT 311 – MARKETING FOR TRAVEL, TOURISM AND LEISURE
The travel and tourism industry is one of the largest and most dynamic industries in today’s global economy and is composed of five parts: a) lodgings (hotels, motels, camps, cruise ships), b) transportation services (ships, airplanes, trains), c) food and beverage operations (restaurants, bars, taverns, catering), d) retail stores (gifts, souvenir, arts/crafts shops) and e) activities (recreation, educational trips, business, festivals, sport events). We will explore these areas and the challenges facing industry actors as they strive to create distinctive experiences for increasingly demanding and jaded consumers. In this course, students will apply concepts and principles learned in their introductory marketing course, to the tourism, travel and hospitality sectors. They will expand the 4 Ps to the 8 Ps of Service Marketing, explore those tools as applied to organizations, both for profit and non-profit, in tourism-related businesses, and develop marketing strategies for specific destinations.
3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: MKT 200 or equivalent or permission of the instructor.

MKT 313 – SPORTS MARKETING
This course is designed to provide the student with a deep understanding of sports marketing, its terms and concepts and the environment in which the corporate world interacts with the sports industry. Its goal is to provide students with an appreciation of the dynamic sports marketplace and to provide a core of operational standards, ethics, and social responsibilities for doing business in sports. The course is designed to differentiate between the sports and non-sports marketing matrix. It explains the platforms and domains at the core of sports marketing and focuses of the strategic and tactical practices aimed at driving sports revenue. And it provides the breadth and context for sponsorship sales and a practical outline for doing business, including the components of a sponsorship proposal. Through lectures, exercises, papers, discussions and presentations, the students in this course will gain a pragmatic understanding of the intricacies, characteristics, operations and strategic motivations in sports marketing.
3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: MGT 316 or MKT 200 or equivalent or permission of the instructor.

MUS 200 – MASTERPIECES OF AMERICAN MUSICAL THEATRE
The course concerns the 200 year history of American musical theater from the start of the Minstrel Show Era in the 1800s. It will explore the evolution of show music into Ragtime, how Vaudeville began in New York City and eventually covered America with hundreds of theaters, through the evolution of the revue and book musical, reaching the first golden musical period of composers of long running 1900s Broadway shows. Our study will culminate with the 1970s to the present with renowned works from composers such as Leonard Bernstein, Stephen Sondheim and Andrew Lloyd Webber. Comparison to the recent American Broadway musical phenomenon in Italy with the arrival of Disney produced productions will also be explored. The course will include field trips to live performances. Students will develop personal critique concepts in the music medium as well as prepare and perform famous scenes from musicals as special projects.
3 credit hours.

MUS 300 – MASTERPIECES OF ITALIAN OPERA
This course surveys the development of Italian opera from its origins through the Baroque, 19th and early 20th century. Musical examples from operas will be played and analyzed in class from the point of view of musical form, dramatic or poetic content and vocal technique. Students will also have the opportunity of attending live opera performances in Rome.
3 credit hours. Students are responsible for all entry fees.

PHILOSOPHY

AHPH 202 – CREATIVITY AND BEAUTY
This course concentrates on the nature and value of creativity, of the work of art, and of the reception of art by the viewer or auditor. It is not intended to be a course in art appreciation but rather an analysis of the sources and modalities of human creativity and of beauty.
3 credit hours. This course satisfies the information literacy and oral presentation requirements.

PHL 381 – CONTEMPORARY PHILOSOPHY AND CONTEMPORARY POLITICS
This class is concerned with contemporary intellectuals and how they have responded in their work to the most significant socio-political events of our time. We explore the central question: how have intellectuals helped us think the most important political events we have been and still are living through today? In this special section of this course designed for our joint program with The American University in Rome, we will concentrate on contemporary American and Italian philosophers. Much of our discussion will focus on the work of two contemporary American philosophers, Cornel West and Judith Butler, and two contemporary Italian philosophers, Gianni Vattimo and Giorgio Agamben.
3 credit hours.

PHYSICS

PHYS 102 – EXPLORATIONS IN PHYSICS
An activity-based course in physics and its fundamental laws designed for the non-science major.
Part I covers units on Motion, Forces and Energy. Part II covers units on Waves, Light, Sight and Rainbows. The historical development of science and scientific theories is discussed in parallel to unit studies. Students will be able to design, perform and present an investigation, through the application of the Scientific Method.

ECPO 204 – INTRODUCTION TO THE EUROPEAN UNION
The foundation course for upper-level European Union courses. With the creation of the Single European Market, the ratification and enforcement of the Maastricht Treaty (leading inter alia to the adoption of the Euro), the further expansion in the number of member countries (especially of those in Central and Eastern Europe), the on-going ratification process of a new European Constitution, and the creation of economic associations elsewhere in the planet, it is imperative to understand what the European Union is all about, how it functions, how it affects the region’s political and economic environment, how it is possible to interact with its decision-making structure and how it might develop in the near future. Special attention will be devoted to the history of European integration, Europe’s political parties, social movements, its foreign and economic policies and policy-making. The practical implications that current world events might have on the EU integration process will be the object of constant observation.

ECPO 317 – THE DEVELOPING WORLD
This course is designed to give students a comprehensive undergraduate overview of the theory of and evidence on development from a policy-oriented perspective. Students will analyze policy issues pertaining to growth and development from a broad and rigorous analytical base. The course provides a natural bridge between the studies of economics and political science: it examines the connections between wealth and power and analyzes how people have tried to create (as well as limit the concentration of) both, in different times and different places in the effort to ‘generate’ self-sustained development. Students will study a variety of writings from leading authors – not just from economics and political science, but also from history, philosophy and sociology, among others.

ECPO 318 – GLOBALIZATION
Globalization is an essential term for understanding the word today. It is also an overused word that means little or nothing if not understood in analytical and historical frameworks. This course will examine the concept of globalization and discuss how it can be meaningfully addressed by considering globalization as multiple and multifaceted processes taking place within the spheres of politics, economy, communication and culture. We will identify the parameters of the globalization debate and the relevant questions to ask within each of these spheres. The cases ‘for’ and ‘against’ globalization will be explored, linked to ethical debates concerning the environment, poverty, inequality, justice and the uneven global distribution of goods, values and resources.

IAP 100 – Introduction to Political Science
This course provides students with an understanding of the operation of the American political system. The primary focus will be on the structure and operations of federal governmental institutions (congress, the presidency and executive branch, and the judiciary) and their respective roles in formulating, implementing and adjudicating public policy. The course also examines the context of American politics, including the historical setting, the constitution, American political theory, the place of political parties, and public opinion and participation.

IAP 101 – International Relations Theory and Practice
The Capstone Project offers each student the opportunity to demonstrate mastery of International Relations theory and practice by applying the knowledge and skills gained in the IR program to a project of the student’s choice. This involves completing a project report reflecting the cumulative knowledge gained from these experiences. The course is intended only for students who are completing their BA degree at the Program of IR at the AUR.

IAP 200 – Junior Research Seminar in International Politics
The Junior Research Seminar in International Politics is a compulsory three-credit course, which all IR majors should take during the fall semester of their junior year. The course will provide students with a broader common background on IR issues, a forum for the discussion of these issues, advanced training in research methods, and support for improvement in their writing and speaking skills, particularly their extemporaneous skills in these areas.

IAP 499 – International Relations Senior Thesis
The Capstone Project offers each student the opportunity to demonstrate mastery of International Relations theory and practice by applying the knowledge and skills gained in the IR program to a project of the student’s choice. This involves completing a project report reflecting the cumulative knowledge gained from these experiences. The course is intended only for students who are completing their BA degree at the Program of IR at the AUR.

IAP 201 – Introduction to Political Science
This course provides students with an understanding of the operation of the American political system. The primary focus will be on the structure and operations of federal governmental institutions (congress, the presidency and executive branch, and the judiciary) and their respective roles in formulating, implementing and adjudicating public policy. The course also examines the context of American politics, including the historical setting, the constitution, American political theory, the place of political parties, and public opinion and participation.

IAP 202 – Introduction to the American Political System
This course provides students with an understanding of the operation of the American political system. The primary focus will be on the structure and operations of federal governmental institutions (congress, the presidency and executive branch, and the judiciary) and their respective roles in formulating, implementing and adjudicating public policy. The course also examines the context of American politics, including the historical setting, the constitution, American political theory, the place of political parties, and public opinion and participation.
POL 202 – COMPARATIVE POLITICS
Basic concepts used to compare political systems and understand how they function: the nature of politics, power and authority, political order, change and participation. The basic building blocks of politics in different states are examined and analyzed, the relative merits and disadvantages are evaluated enabling students to understand their workings and make judgments on their effectiveness.

3 credit hours. This course satisfies the information literacy and oral presentation requirements.

POL 203 – AN INTRODUCTION TO ETHICS
This course combines the analysis of biological roots of human behavior with the history of ethical codes in human societies. Different ethical visions from the Greek and Roman civilizations are described from their inception and development to the present day. The influences of the three monotheistic faiths, Judaism, Christianity and Islam are presented together with their interplay with secular ethics. The importance of biology, medicine, the environment and economics is analyzed to provide a sound foundation to the subject.

3 credit hours. This course satisfies the information literacy and oral presentation requirements.

POL 306 – SECURITY AND DEFENSE POLICIES IN THE EUROPEAN UNION
This course examines key aspects in the development of a European foreign policy; it presents and analyzes security and defense policies within the European Union since the early stages of the Cold War until the recent surge of international terrorism in world politics.

3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: ECPO 204 or equivalent. This course satisfies the information literacy and oral presentation requirements.

POL 309 – MIGRATION AND MULTICULTURALISM IN EUROPE
This course provides both an introduction to and an in-depth look at the issues involving migration and multiculturalism in Europe. It provides students with a survey of the various theoretical approaches to migration and European-wide perspective on specific countries and their experiences, policies and debates surrounding immigration, ethnic minorities, multicultural societies, racism and xenophobia, human rights and the development of a common EU approach to these issues.

3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: A lower-level Political Science, Sociology or Anthropology course or permission of the instructor.

POL 310 – CALCIO AND POLITICS: ITALIAN SPORT AND SOCIETY FROM THE 20TH CENTURY
This course will examine the role of sport (with an emphasis on soccer) in Italian society from historical and contemporary perspectives. The course will consider the relationship between sports and such issues as gender, race, class, ethnicity, sexuality, nationalism, nation-building, the Italian economy, and the role of the media in order to determine how developments in sports have influenced, and have been influenced by, Italian politics and society.

3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: Junior standing.

POL 311 – CLASSICAL POLITICAL PHILOSOPHY
A survey of seminal thinkers from classical antiquity (Herodotus, Thucydides, Plato, Xenophon, Aristotle, Cicero) who articulated responses to the fundamental questions of classical politics and political philosophy, such as: What is justice? What is law? What is (civic) virtue? What is the best regime and political order? Themes and issues include: Justice and War; political necessity and rhetoric; the Rule of Law and international relations in antiquity; ancient imperialism and tyranny; the types of government and causes of revolution; the virtue of the good citizen and the question of the best regime; Roman republicanism and the threat of Caesarism. The purpose of the course is to familiarize students with the classical tradition of political philosophy as the origin of – and alternative to – modern political thought.

3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: HST 201 or Junior standing or permission of the instructor. This course satisfies the information literacy and oral presentation requirements.

POL 312 – POLITICAL PHILOSOPHY OF THE RENAISSANCE AND ENLIGHTENMENT
A survey of seminal works in the Western tradition that established a decisive break with ‘classical’ politics and political philosophy in the 16th-17th centuries, thereby founding ‘modern’ political thought and the origin of our contemporary discipline of Political Science. Themes and issues include: the rejection of classical political philosophy and the rise of a science of politics; the state of nature and the problem of political stability; modern social contract theory and the primacy of free will over virtue; property rights and republicanism; political right. The purpose of the course is to examine the tenets of early modern political philosophy at their point of origin, especially in the radical enterprise of Machiavelli, Hobbes, Locke and Rousseau.

3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: A lower-level Political Science course or permission of the instructor.
POL 314 – CONFLICT AND PEACE IN THE MEDITERRANEAN
This course addresses recent political and social changes in the Mediterranean area, with a focus on the eruption of political conflicts and the causes behind them. In recent years, a number of Mediterranean states have experienced a struggle between secular and religious forces over political power, and we will look at this struggle via a series of case studies from the three main regions of the Mediterranean area: the Middle East, North Africa, and Southern Europe. While stressing a comparative perspective, regional variations will be addressed throughout the course. Rather than proposing ‘the Mediterranean’ as an essential unit, it will be discussed how different discourses (political and cultural) are part of the creation of the Mediterranean as an ‘area’. For example, in the context of the Barcelona process, the Mediterranean area is imagined as a security zone and as a European area of policy making. The approach is multi-disciplinary, combining political science, sociology, history and anthropology.
3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: Any introductory-level Political Science or International Affairs course. This course satisfies the information literacy and oral presentation requirements.

POL 315 – EUROPEAN IDENTITIES
This course provides an in-depth look at the complex nature of identity in modern Europe. By using a multidisciplinary perspective and an interactive approach it aims to examine what ‘Europe’ means and who the Europeans are. The course will discuss notions of Europe, Europe’s fluid borders, the relationship between identity and history, religion, nation and language; interaction between Europe and the ‘others’, memory of the past, media presentations, public and elite perceptions.
3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: An introductory-level Political Science or International Affairs course. This course satisfies the information literacy and oral presentation requirements.

POL 318 – INTERNATIONAL POLITICAL ECONOMY
This course is an introduction to the study of international political economy, a major sub-field of international relations, which studies the relationship between the global political and economic order. It builds on student’s understanding of theoretical international relations and current issues in international relations by examining the way that the global economy is governed and organized. It covers definitions of IPE, theories of IPE, the organization of the international economy in the pre and post-war periods, globalization, development, the politics of trade and finance, and global economic governance. The role of the European Union and United States in the international political economy are also reviewed.
3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: Any introductory-level Political Science or International Affairs course and ECO 211. This course satisfies the information literacy and oral presentation requirements.

POL 320 – THE 3 Cs OF WAR: CAUSES, CURES, CONSEQUENCES
This course examines how wars impact political, economic, and cultural developments in various countries. It examines both international and internal wars (including ethno-political and environmental conflicts) and their relative importance at different historic periods. It defines war, analyzes the reasons for the outbreak of war and the ways in which peace can be created. The course starts with a brief historic overview and then focuses in more detail on the wars of the end of the 20th century. The course also addresses the question how the occurrences of wars, their types, conduct and outcomes influence various developments in international and domestic systems. The course draws on the readings from international relations and comparative politics as well as works in political philosophy and history. The approach is comparative across time and space.
3 credit hours. Pre- or co-requisites: IA 100 and Junior standing and or permission of the instructor. This course satisfies the information literacy requirement.

POL 321 – TERRORISM AND POLITICAL VIOLENCE
Political violence has always been present. Sometimes it is expressed as a formal war between clearly defined combatants for clearly defined aims; more usually the aims are mixed and the methods and targets even more muddled. It is essential to understand these distinctions, moral, legal, political and practical in order to understand wider political practices both between nation states and within them. Since 1945, there have been almost no “wars” in the traditional sense of the word and very few which approximate to wars between states. Future wars are more likely to be between ill-defined protagonists and since 11 September 2001 and the US’s “war on terrorism”, it has become even more important to understand the roots, aims, morals, ethics and techniques of political terrorism and all forms of political violence.
3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: A lower-level Political Science course or permission of the instructor. This course satisfies the information literacy and oral presentation requirements.

POL 322 – THE STATE AND PUBLIC POLICY: EUROPEAN AND GLOBAL PERSPECTIVES
This course offers students the opportunity to understand the theoretical foundations of normative prescriptions in the public sphere. This will be of particular importance to students who plan a career in politics or in NGOs. Students will be exposed to a variety of public policy theories, from classical times to today. A fundamental part of such exposure will entail understanding different perspectives about the emergence, role and composition of the state (e.g., social contract, exploitation, intervention, organic, voluntary, composite, rational choice, market failure). Specific policy areas will be discussed in order to illustrate these perspectives. Particular emphasis will be placed on European examples with possible scope for global public policy. Students will develop analytical abilities that will enable them to carefully scrutinize policy choices and outcomes.
3 credit hours. Pre- or co-requisites: MTH 102 and POL 202 or permission of the instructor.

POL 325 – U.S. CONSTITUTIONAL LAW
This course introduces you to the role that the U.S. Supreme Court plays in the American system of government. To understand this role, we will read and critique many of the major cases decided by the Supreme Court in the areas of judicial, legislative, and executive powers, as well as national-state relations, and bureaucratic power. The central theme of this course will be to understand the powers given to the various branches of government by the U.S. Constitution. We will begin by getting familiar with some history and background of the U.S. Constitution, and then move onto the interpretation of that document, paying close attention to how the Court has shaped the scope and powers of the judicial, legislative, and executive branches of government. We will also evaluate a variety of viewpoints as to what the proper role of the Supreme Court should be in a constitutional form of government.
3 credit hours. Pre- and/or co-requisites: POL 120 or an equivalent course with the permission of the instructor.

POL 399 – THE KOKROBIYE INSTITUTE: GHANA AND WEST AFRICA SPECIAL TOPICS
A two week intensive field study course composed principally of four elements: 1) history; the Atlantic slave trade, colonization and independence. 2) the development and consolidation of democracy. 3) development economics. These use the Ghanaian experience to illustrate the points. The fourth element, international relations, looks at the whole of west Africa. The course integrates classroom learning with seminars from distinguished lecturers, field trips, community work, cultural experiences and informal encounters. It develops theoretical skills with a very practical approach. With the permission of their advisor, students may choose an assignment which would allow the course to be registered as an upper level elective for a number of other majors or minors (ECO, MKT, COM, ARC, ANT, SOC, HST). It can also be taken at graduate level with the same activities and revised learning activities, assessment tools and reading list.

3 credit hours. Pre- and/or co-requisites: Intermediate level POL, SOC, ANT or ECO or permission of the instructor. Proof of English language ability will be required for non-native English speakers. This course satisfies the information literacy requirement. Students will pay a fee to cover the cost of the field-study trip.

POL 400 – ITALIAN POLITICS TODAY
This course looks at major Italian political movements and leaders. After an introductory presentation of Italy before and during World War II, the course concentrates on political and economic problems, intra- and infra-party developments, elections and election procedures and other aspects of government and political life in Italy since World War II. In addition to regular class sessions, on-site seminars will be held by political leaders representing various parties from the Left to the Right.

3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: POL 202 or POL 321.

POL 404 – DEMOCRACY AND GOVERNMENT IN TODAY’S SOCIETY
This course offers an informative introduction to the complexities of government in some selected countries, regardless of their ideology, size and economic development. It also provides students with a civic background, whatever their academic specialization. This implies tentative answers to questions such as the purpose of government, the functions of political institutions, and the real actors in political processes in the global era. Constitutions, legislatures, administrations, social forces, interest groups, political parties and elections are scrutinized in turn.

3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: POL 202 or POL 321 and Junior or Senior standing. This course satisfies the information literacy and oral presentation requirements.

POL 405 – POLITICS OF THE BALKANS
This course examines the history, culture and geopolitics of the Balkan region and its linkage to Western Europe. The emphasis is on current developments and perspectives for durable change. The course begins with a geopolitical and cultural denomination of the region, and its intrinsic link to modern Western Europe. The creation of the Balkan nation-states is examined in historical context with an emphasis on the socio-psychological foundations for violent change. The period during the two world wars and the Cold War is also covered. Emphasis is put on developments related to recent up-surge of antagonisms in the Greek-Turkish relationship, and on the disintegration of Yugoslavia. Particular attention is paid empirically to the study of Balkan post-conflict reconstruction and reconciliation with the perspective of the region’s eventual integration in the Euro-Atlantic structures and theoretically to the models which have been used to analyze and understand the conflicts.

3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: POL 202 or POL 321 and Junior or Senior standing. This course satisfies the information literacy requirement.

POL 450 – INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS INTERNSHIP
An internship is an individual, non-classroom, extended learning experience requiring 135 hours of practicum. It requires an on-site supervisor as well as a faculty member as project sponsor. An internship requires a daily log of activities (emphasizing impressions and reactions to the experience plus a brief description of the activity). Students are required to make a presentation and submit a final paper summarizing how goals were achieved and demonstrating the relationship of academic material to the work performed during the internship.

3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: Junior or Senior standing in International Relations.

POL 491, POL 492, POL 493, POL 494 – INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS INDEPENDENT STUDY
The independent study is a course undertaken individually by upper-level students under the direction of a faculty member in one of the Programs at AUR. A required course schedule, together with a reading list, must be submitted by the student under the professor’s guidance. The course is designed to allow upper-level students to examine historical periods, specialized topics, and single authors and to work on specific material or projects that have not been covered in regularly scheduled courses. Hours of meeting sessions may vary depending on the number of credit hours. At the end of the course, the student will produce a research paper or a project. Students may take a maximum of 6 credit hours of independent study in their upper-level biennial.

1, 2, 3 or 4 credit hours. Pre-requisites: Junior or Senior standing in International Relations.

POPS 324 – POLITICAL PSYCHOLOGY
This course demonstrates that without reflecting on people’s desires, emotions and imagination, it is not possible to understand today’s world. Feelings, myths, symbols and fantasies have always been present in politics, however in the 21st century, their role has become even more central and evident. The course investigates how crucial present-day political and social issues may be fruitfully analyzed through psychoanalytic and anthropological theories. It covers a wide range of topics including identity-related issues in international relations, the psychological dimensions of conflicts, crisis situations and aggression; the political use of history and of the collective memory of the past.

3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: A lower-level political science or psychology course. This course satisfies the information literacy and oral presentation requirements.

PORE 323 – POLITICS, PHILOSOPHY AND RELIGION
The course analyzes the reciprocal influences of Politics and Religion and asks how Philosophy has enquired into the interdependency of these two essential dimensions of human experience and social life. The aim of the course is to understand how religion affects politics and vice versa by considering the theoretical background offered by major philosophers and theorists. Through a combination of historical and theoretical analysis students will be provided with essential tools to examine and critically discuss various case studies, from early modern history to the present. Themes and issues include: Religion and Morality; Civil Religion and the role(s) of Religion in Politics; the Church and the State; Religious Liberty in Early Modern Europe; Religion as a factor of Social Change; Secularization; the Sacralization of Politics; Religion and Totalitarianism; Religion and Democracy; Post-Secularization.

3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: Junior standing; POL lower-level course or permission of the instructor.

PSYCHOLOGY

PSY 101 – INTRODUCTION TO PSYCHOLOGY
This course surveys the various fields of psychology, with emphasis on recent discoveries and the specific contribution and character of European roots and developments.

3 credit hours.

PSY 383 – SPECIAL TOPICS: MADNESS AT THE MOVIES
What is it to be “mad”? In their tales of horror, suspense, comedy, or drama movies have occasionally given us vivid portraits of madness, of extreme mental illness. How close to reality do these fils come; how accurate is their picture of madness? What can we learn about madness from the movies? In this course we will study closely the various forms of madness portrayed: Obsessions, Depression, Suicide, Perversions, Psychosis—as Zorba called it, “The Whole Catastrophe!” We will also look at how psychiatry has been portrayed in the movies—from magical healer to crazed, cross-dressing killer. And we will also explore how close movie therapy comes to the real thing. There are many Italian films that demonstrate aspects of madness and we will feature these in the course.

Using the films as our text, we will first look at what it is to be “mad”, we will define mental illness, and then systematically look for examples of specific diagnoses and syndromes in the movies. Each film will add to the understanding of mental illness, as the student learns to read between the lines of the movie portrayals. We will end with a look at the image of psychiatrists and therapy in the movies. The course should be of interest to students of film, of psychology, and of the human condition.

3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: A lower-level political science or psychology course. This course satisfies the information literacy and oral presentation requirements.

POPS 324 – POLITICAL PSYCHOLOGY

This course demonstrates that without reflecting on people’s desires, emotions and imagination, it is not possible to understand today’s world. Feelings, myths, symbols and fantasies have always been present in politics, however in the 21st century, their role has become even more central and evident. The course investigates how crucial present-day political and social issues may be fruitfully analyzed through psychoanalytic and anthropological theories. It covers a wide range of topics including identity-related issues in international relations, the psychological dimensions of conflicts, crisis situations and aggression; the political use of history and of the collective memory of the past.

3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: A lower-level political science or psychology course. This course satisfies the information literacy and oral presentation requirements.

RELIGION

AHRE 106 – SACRED SPACE: RELIGIOUS ARCHITECTURE OF ROME

The course explores main ideas behind the sacred space on the example of sacral architecture of Rome, from the ancient times to the postmodern. The course maximizes the opportunity of on-site teaching in Rome; classes are held in the real surrounding, which best illustrates particular topics of the course. Students will have the opportunity to experience a variety of sacred spaces including the ancient Roman architecture (Forum Boarium), early Christian sacred spaces (catacombs and early Christian Basilicas), Renaissance and Baroque architecture (St. Peter’s Church and Il Gesù), as well as Orthodox Christian and Protestant churches, Jewish and Muslim architecture.

3 credit hours.

CLRE 202 – CHRISTIANITY AND THE ROMAN EMPIRE (100 – 425 CE)

This course offers an overview of the history of the Early Church from 100-425CE, focusing on the confrontation of Christianity with Roman life and thought. It will examine that relationship both from the early Christian and early Roman perspectives. Field trips to historical sites and museums in Rome will be used to reanimate ancient Roman history.

3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: Sophomore standing or permission of the instructor.

HSRE 313 – ROME AND THE RENAISSANCE PAPACY

This course explores the unique culture of High Renaissance Rome. It covers the period from the return of the papacy to Rome after the Council of Constance (1420) to the Sack of Rome by Imperial troops in 1527. A variety of themes (such as the nature of papal monarchy; urban planning; millenarianism) will be investigated. Much of the teaching will be conducted on-site.

3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: either a lower level course in Religious Studies or Art History or permission of the instructor.

IARE 302 – ISLAM AND POLITICS

Scholars, government analysts and terrorism experts have examined the relationship between Islam and politics for years. Although this field of study is not recent, it became both dominant and essential since 9/11. This course intends to provide a comprehensive, analytical, and in-depth examination of political Islam in an increasingly globalizing world. The purpose is thus to show the interaction of Islam and politics and the multiple and diverse roles of Islamic movements, as well as issues of: i) authoritarianism; ii) democratization; iii) religious extremism; and iv) terrorism. The first part of the course will give a general overview; the second part of the course will focus on case studies at the regional and global level.

3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: IA 200. This course satisfies the information literacy and oral presentation requirements.

PORE 323 – POLITICS, PHILOSOPHY AND RELIGION

The course analyzes the reciprocal influences of Politics and Religion and asks how Philosophy has enquired into the interdependency of these two essential dimensions of human experience and social life. The aim of the course is to understand how religion affects politics and vice versa by considering the theoretical background offered by major philosophers and theorists. Through a combination of historical and theoretical analysis students will be provided with essential tools to examine and critically discuss various case studies, from early modern history to the present. Themes and issues include: Religion and Morality; Civil Religion and the role(s) of Religion in Politics; the Church and the State; Religious Liberty in Early Modern Europe; Religion as a Factor of Social Change; Secularization; the Sacralization of Politics; Religion and Totalitarianism; Religion and Democracy; Post-Secularization.

REL 200 – RELIGION IN A PLURALISTIC WORLD

A study of the major religions of the world, this course examines the issue of religious pluralism, explores the relationship between religious truth and tolerance, and examines how different religions treat religious truth claims in a pluralistic world. The problem of religious pluralism will be examined philosophically (while prescinding from a particular faith stance) and from within various religious traditions.

3 credit hours.

REL 301 – REFORMATION AND REFORM IN SIXTEENTH-CENTURY EUROPE

In November 1517 Martin Luther nailed to the Cathedral door in Wittenberg ninety-five theses questioning the value of indulgences and criticizing the moral and doctrinal abuses of the Church. This course examines the causes that lead Luther to make his protest and explores the results of this dramatic action. Students will study the effects of the Reformation across Europe, noting the diversity of opinions, as well as the Catholic Church’s response. On-site visits will be used to reanimate the history.

3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: lower level course in Religious Studies or Art History or permission of the instructor.
This course is intended as an introduction to Russian. Beginners will start speaking, making the ability. The final product is a sustained and significant piece of writing that students in the history, architecture and politics of this dramatic period of urban change and ex-considering its implications for such ethical and legal concerns as conception, birth, and termination of life; human dignity and human rights; the quality of life; and social justice. Some of the issues considered will include bigotry and prejudice; economic and social injustice; euthanasia, infanticide, and suicide; genocide, holy war, jihad, terrorism, and violence; health care and health costs; human trafficking and slavery; martyrdom and self-martyrdom; social stratification; aging, death, disposal of the body; and the afterlife, especially in Dante's Inferno. We will consider how "life" is defined and described in different cultures at different times in history, and how religions have influenced these matters.

REL 498 – RELIGIOUS STUDIES: CAPSTONE EXPERIENCE 1 – SEMINAR
Part 1 of the Capstone Experience prepares students for the culminating work of the major, the senior thesis. In this seminar students will review their own portfolios to assess their progress and strengths; visit at least one research library and learn to use it; analyze examples of advanced art historical research; and make and prepare a research proposal and an annotated bibliography.

REL 499 – RELIGIOUS STUDIES: CAPSTONE EXPERIENCE 1 – THESIS
Part 2 of the Religious Studies Capstone Experience consists of supervised independent work on the senior thesis. The thesis is the culminating work of the major, in which students demonstrate their command of the knowledge and skills gained in on-site courses and seminars by conducting their own research on a Religious Studies topic of their own choosing. Working closely with a faculty advisor, students find and assess the evidence for a particular issue or position, and develop their own point of view on it. The final product is a sustained and significant piece of writing that prepares majors for graduate school or for employment requiring high-level verbal and analytical ability.

RUSSIAN

RUS 101 – ELEMENTARY RUSSIAN I
This course is intended as an introduction to Russian. Beginners will start speaking, making the first steps in listening comprehension and being familiar with basic principles of grammar along with simple exercises in compositions and reading. At the end of the course, students will be able to read and write Russian at an elementary level. Cultural and social aspects will be part of the course, even though the main focus will be on the linguistic aspects. Elementary Russian language aims to introduce and practice basic Russian grammar and vocabulary used to meet "survival" needs. Daily vocabulary and basic structures will be introduced and practiced upon through the relevant role plays. In all of the communicative activities, a careful balance will be maintained in developing linguistic, sociolinguistic and pragmatic competences.

3 credit hours.

SOCIOPY

HSSO 208 – SPORT AND SOCIETY
This course will provide a core of knowledge of sport's role in the development of the modern world. It will ground students in the basic theories, methods and practices of sport history while developing a basic knowledge of the political, economic and social development of a variety of country's across the globe.

HSSO 312 – MUSSOLINI'S ROME
This course will provide a detailed knowledge of how Fascism transformed Rome. Grounding students in the history, architecture and politics of this dramatic period of urban change and expansion, this study of the capital under Mussolini will be contextualized within a broad analysis of Italy during the Fascist regime. This series of 13 x 3hr classes will consist of a majority of site visits, plus lectures and class discussion, and structured group break-out work. Groups will then report back to the class and all participants will be encouraged to venture opinions. Teaching will also include the use of video material.

3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: Junior standing. Students must previously have taken a general course on Italy (History of Modern Italy, Sociology of Modern Italy or similar). ITL 101 and ITL 102.

HSSO 250 – SICILY AGAINST THE MAFIA
This weekend field trip course presents students with a different view of Sicily and of the mafia in Sicily, providing them with an understanding of the emergence of a new Sicilian culture and society based on the fight against the mafia, on pacifistic expression and on the creation of a culture of legality. The course will allow students the opportunity to visit sites of historical, social and cultural interest that document resistance to the local mafia and encounter local civic associations, community service and solidarity networks that are active in the Sicilian context. Students will meet and exchange ideas with young Sicilians and thereby learn from direct experience an example of social activism in the Italian context. An understanding of the mafia in Sicily will be supported by readings from Sicilian writers such as Luigi Pirandello, Leonardo Sciascia and Giuseppe Tomasi di Lampedusa and through the viewing of Italian films such as "I Cento Passi".

1 credit. Pre- or co-requisites: SOC 100 or co-requisite IS 206 or IS 210. Conducted in English. Students will pay a fee to cover the cost of the field-study trip.

SOC 100 – INTRODUCTION TO SOCIOLOGY
This course introduces students to the systematic study of human society from the perspective of sociology. The course begins with a presentation of classical sociological thinkers such as Marx, Durkheim and Weber and discusses sociology as a particular view on society connected to the sociological method. It then debates a series of classical topics within sociology with examples and case studies from modern day societies: deviance, class, social interaction, social stratification, marriage and family, gender, age, religion and population dynamics. The last part of the course will briefly introduce contemporary theories of modernity, post-modernity, or “liquid modernity”, and will open up toward a global perspective by debating sociology’s role in understanding contemporary globalization.

3 credit hours.

SOC 120 – LIVING ROME: URBAN SPACES, CULTURE AND IDENTITY

This course will give students the opportunity to actively explore the multiple dimensions of the City of Rome systematically and on the basis of a theoretical framework of urbanism, cultural studies and social theory. The students will examine how the city impacts its citizens, its businesses and social organizations.

3 credit hours.

SOC 300 – SOCIOLOGY OF CONTEMPORARY ITALY

This upper-level Sociology course uses various methodologies from the discipline to analyze post-war Italian society. It begins with a discussion of key historical factors which have influenced the development of Italy’s contemporary society: Unification, Fascism, World War II and the Cold War. It then takes a thematic approach, examining important aspects of Italian social organization and culture such as the family, the economy, politics, gender relations, youth culture, consumption, and organized crime.

3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: Junior or Senior standing or a 100- or 200-level SOC or ITL non-language course or permission of the instructor. This is an in-depth junior-level course for Sociology, Social Science or Italian Studies majors. This course satisfies the information literacy and oral presentation requirements.
