F.A.Q

WHERE DO I BUY STUFF?

General grocery stores are called ALIMENTARI and offer everything from salt and soap to vegetables and pasta. You can find several big chain supermarkets, (For example DOC, COOP, Conad and Todis) in the AUR neighborhood. You can get quality fruit and vegetables in the open air markets at Piazza San Giovanni di Dio and the side streets between Via Carini and Viale dei Quattro Venti. TABACCHI shops (T) are the place to buy stamps, transport tickets and phone cards

SHOPPING HOURS

Italian business hours often differ from the 9 am to 5 pm U.S. standard. Most shops are open from 9:30 am to 1 pm, close for the CHIUSURA POMERIDIANA (afternoon closing) and open again from 4 pm to 7 pm. There are also Monday morning and Wednesday/Thursday afternoon closures for some businesses. Working hours vary for each business and you should inquire about the specific schedule for any location of interest.

BANKING

To open an Italian bank account, you must first obtain your Permit to Stay. In the meantime, we highly recommend that you use the safest and most efficient method of accessing money in Italy: ATM (Bancomat) cards. Visa and Mastercard debit and credit cards are widely accepted and offer the best exchange rates. You should check with your bank before departure to ensure that your ATM card is authorized for international use.

TRANSPORTATION

The easiest and most commonly used form of transportation is the bus. There are also trams and a two-line metro system in Rome. Bus stops, departure schedules and route information are found on well-marked signs throughout the city and can also be found online at www.atac.roma.it . A standard ticket is good for the tram, bus, metro and trains within Rome. Tickets are sold at TABACCHI shops, newsstands and many coffee bars. There are 100-minute, 3-day, weekly and monthly tickets. You must validate (time stamp) bus tickets (except for monthly pass) in the yellow boxes when boarding the first bus or tram; your 100-minute ticket will be valid for the ensuing one hour and 40 minutes, your 3-day ticket for three days, etc.
